Stage Set For Big 4 Meeting

West Won't Sell Arms To Israel

Britain Fights Inflation With Stiff Tax Hikes

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden's government clamped down on free-spending Britons tonight with stiff new sales and profits taxes.

A drastic anti-inflation program was outlined to the House of Commons to curb spending at home and funnel more of the goods from booming factories into the dollar-earning market.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler introduced an emergency budget that will lower the living standards of all but the richest of Britons.

20% Hike In Sales Tax

The sales taxes — hiked 20 per cent on everything from toothpaste to automobiles—go into effect tomorrow before the start of the big Christmas shopping spree.

With Laborite shouts of "resign, resign" ringing in his ears, Butler explained the clampdown on buying:

"Home demand and home spending are not only sapping the competitive power of our exports, but are also drawing a larger volume of imports than we can afford."

Butler's special budget—first of its kind since the economic crisis of 1947—shaped up as the sternest political test since the general elections last May.

Sales Levy Extended

Conservative MPs listened glumly as Butler announced the 20 per cent increase in present sales taxes and extending the taxes to some previously exempt low price consumer goods like kitchen utensils and hats.

Cuts in the housing subsidies and an increase in postal and telephone charges were two other sharp measures digging into bulging pocketbooks.

Butler hiked the tax on profits distributed by companies from 22½ per cent to 27½ per cent.

A sharp check on national and local government spending on public works also was ordered.

Big 3 Rules Out Security Pledge, Informant Says

GENEVA, Oct. 26 (AP)—A Western diplomatic source reported tonight the big Western Powers have decided against big new arms supplies for Israel to balance Communist arms shipments to Egypt.

The informant said the United States, Britain and France also have ruled out any immediate new security guaranty for Israel, whose leaders have said they fear attacks from their Arab neighbors.

1950 Declaration Stands

Foreign ministers of the three powers, who have been in conference in Paris and who are assembling here, were said to have resolved to stand pat on their 1950 declaration. They pledged then to respect the existing frontiers of the Middle East against unprovoked attack and to try to maintain a military balance between the Israelis and their Arab neighbors. A technical state of war under armistice has existed between them since the 1948 Palestine war.

The American-British-French decision stemmed from a resolve not to take any action that might set off an arms race between the rival forces, the informant said.

Sharett, Ministers Confer

Until Czechoslovakia entered the mideastern military scene with cargoes of heavy weapons for Egypt, the Western Powers had been rationing military equipment to Israel and the Arabs. Britain, for instance, balanced the sale of two destroyers to Egypt with a similar deal with Israel earlier this year.

Word of the Western position came a few hours after Israeli Premier-Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett conferred in Paris separately with U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Premier Edgar Faure.

Motorist, 63, Wins Right To Continue Driving 1926 Auto

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 26 (AP) — John Luipersbeck, 63, today defended and won the right to drive his 1926 Oakland which he says he'll run "till it falls apart."

The car ran through a red light and Patrolman H. M. Snyder said the 29-year-old vehicle's brakes were inadequate.

Not so said Luipersbeck.

The policeman said he tested the brakes pedal and it went clear to the floor.

Luipersbeck said the car had mechanical brakes and that the car was not moving when the officer tested it.

Magistrate William Kreykenbohn ruled Snyder had made no case against the brake's of the Oakland, which owner Luipersbeck fondly explained was "part of my family now."

The magistrate dismissed the brakes charge. Fined Luipersbeck $15 though—for going through a red light.

Times Warning Ignored By Meg

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Princess Margaret carried out her royal engagements with a big smile today. She showed no outward reaction to the warning by the stately Times of London of a fate similar to the Duke of Windsor's if she marries Peter Townsend.

Townsend called again at Clarence House at tea time. He drove from his Lowndes Square apartment at 4:30 and left at 7:40 before Princess Margaret set out for a dinner given by President Graveiro Lopes of Portugal at the Portuguese Embassy.

The Times, which until now has remained silent on the Princess' private life, spelled out for her the same lecture it read to her uncle, Edward VIII, 19 years ago, when his friendship with American divorcee Wallis Warfield Simpson shook the empire.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, as head of the established Church of England the most formidable opponent of any Margaret-Townsend marriage, is an ex-officio member of the board of trustees of the Times. So is the lord chancellor, highest law officer of the British government.

Divorce Plans Dropped

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—The former Walda Winchell, daughter of columnist Walter Winchell, and hotelman Hyatt Von Dehn today decided to drop their divorce plans and were reconciled. They said they will leave later today for a second honeymoon in Mexico City.

Plane Is Flown Into Bank In Get-Even Suicide Crash

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—A man fired yesterday from a Bank of America branch at International Airport rented a light plane today, then flew the craft into the bank in an apparent "get-even" suicide crash.

Witnesses said the pilot, Benjamin Fauth, 28, of Toppenish, Wash., directed his plane through a large window in a new, unoccupied addition to the structure.

Officer A. L. Wagnon said:

"Apparently he was trying to get even with the bank for firing him and get rid of himself at the same time."

Fauth was killed instantly.

Witnesses said the plane, an Aeronca, came in downwind with its engine dead—turned off. It was headed the wrong way for a landing and was a quarter of a mile from the normal landing strips at this airport, one of the world's busiest.

Pilot George Black of Universal Fliers, from whom Fauth had rented the plane, said the gas tank was full before the aircraft left nearby Hawthorne Field an hour earlier.

Airport officials said Fauth had been a second lieutenant in the Air Force and carried a commercial pilot's license.

Ike Declares Fate Of Talks Up To Russia

President Asserts Parley To Succeed If Russia Sincere

DENVER, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower, on the eve of the Big Four foreign ministers conference, put it up to Russia today to join in promoting "a peace of justice" in a spirit of conciliation.

With the conference opening tomorrow in Geneva, the convalescing President said "peaceful progress for which the world longs" can be achieved there if the Soviet Union matches the sincerity of the Western powers—the United States, Great Britain and France.

Eisenhower's statement underscoring his deep and active interest in the conference in the midst of recuperation from a heart attack came as his doctors continued their encouraging reports.

Recovery Continues

The 1:30 p.m. (EST) bulletin from Fitzsimons Army Hospital said Eisenhower had another "excellent night's sleep" of 8½ hours and that he awoke refreshed and cheerful. And in this fifth week of recovery there still are no signs of complications, the physicians said.

During the morning the President took more unassisted steps than at any time since he was hospitalized and he sat up in bed without any help for the first time.

Heretofore his easy chair had been placed quite close to his bed and he could move back and forth by taking only a couple of steps. Today the chair was moved a greater distance and he took a half dozen or so steps on several trips to the chair and back to bed.

Ike Visits With Old Friend

The President also visited briefly with an old friend, George E. Allen of Washington, a former Truman administration official. And he conducted some secondary government business with the chief presidential aide, Sherman Adams.

Eisenhower also wrote former President Herbert Hoover thanking him for agreeing to substitute for the ailing chief executive in placing a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.

Faure Demands Confidence Vote After Setbacks

PARIS, THURSDAY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure lost two procedural votes in the National Assembly early today and then demanded a vote of confidence from the rebellious lawmakers.

The double setback came during a day-long debate on general government policies. Faure's call for a confidence vote immediately shut off further discussion.

The confidence ballot will be taken during the Assembly session starting at 10 a.m. Friday.

Faure's recent call for advancing the date of the next national elections and a shower of bad news for France from all over the world appeared to be the main factors in the Assembly's revolt.

The elections are scheduled for next June but Faure has proposed advancing them to December of this year. Many deputies opposed to the change apparently seized an opportunity to push the Premier aside before discussion could start on this issue.

The Premier's first defeat came on the question of giving priority to a government-supported resolution which would have closed the debate. The motion lost 303-275.

The Assembly then agreed by 289-286 to give priority to a Socialist resolution which specifically expressed no confidence in the government.

Boy Given Life Term In Slaying Of Girl

ALFRED, Maine, Oct. 26 (AP)—A York County Superior Court jury today convicted 15-year-old Fortunat Michaud of murder in the bludgeon slaying of 11-year-old Doris Trudeau at Saco.

Justice Francis W. Sullivan imposed the mandatory life sentence on the seventh-grade pupil.

Fortunat, accused of beating the girl with a pine stick in an argument about blowing up toy balloons, stood before the judge without expression as the case ended on its third day. He wore a light sports coat, dark trousers and a sports shirt.

Fired Employe Crashes Plane Into Bank

Benjamin Fauth, 28, lies dead in the wreckage of his small rented plane which crashed into the Bank of America branch building at Los Angeles International Airport yesterday. Police quoted bank employes as saying Fauth, of Toppenish, Wash., had been recently fired because "his attitude was not serious enough." Witnesses said he apparently directed the plane through a large window (rear right) in a new addition to the structure. The building was not yet in use by the bank. (Story at bottom of page) (AP Photofax)

Washington May Give President Big Homecoming

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Some of President Eisenhower's friends and neighbors hereabouts are considering a welcome home celebration when the President returns to the capital next month.

It's all very tentative, though. Eisenhower's well-wishers want to make sure first that Eisenhower and his doctors have no objection.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald first proposed a "public welcome," noting in an editorial that such tributes have been a local custom since 1800 — when crowds turned out to welcome President John Adams home from an out-of-town visit.

"Aspect Of American Life"

"These occasions," the newspaper said, "demonstrate more than Washington's affection for the nation's chief executive. They demonstrate an aspect of American public life that divests it of much of its bitterness, rancor and rivalry. . .

"There is something about the return of President Eisenhower that inspires an added warmth. He is coming home from an illness and confinement that every citizen, regardless of party, has watched with anxiety and, latterly, with relief. He is not just the President; he is our neighbor, whose ordeals we have witnessed with anguish and distress."

District of Columbia officials, who would have charge of any such welcome, showed immediate interest in the idea but withheld making any plans until they had checked with the White House.

White House Cautions

"We certainly would welcome an opportunity to let the President know we're glad to have him back," one official said, "but of course we would never dream of putting any physical or emotional strain on him. We'll see what the President's advisers have to say."

White House officials here withheld any official reaction but their feeling appeared to be one of caution. The last thing they wanted, obviously, was a bout of handshaking or anything else that might tire Eisenhower.

COATZACOALCOS, Mexico, Oct. 26 (AP)—Nine passengers and thirteen crewmen of a small coastal vessel reported missing yesterday were found unharmed today near this Veracruz port.

Choking Smog Kills Two, Sends 350 To New Orleans Hospitals

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP) — Choking smog smothered parts of New Orleans today, triggered a wave of asthma attacks that killed two persons and sent more than 350 others to hospitals for treatment.

Most of the attacks occurred between midnight and dawn, crowding the emergency room at Charity Hospital with coughing, wheezing victims.

Doctors described the attacks as "unusually severe" and called in extra staff help to handle the rush of patients.

Dr. Roy White of Foundation Hospital, an allergy specialist, blamed smog, smoke and heavy moisture for the sudden outbreak.

The dead were Jules Glaspin, 65, and Joseph Armes, 52.

At Charity, Dr. George Ramsey said:

"It's a miracle we didn't lose more."

The Weather Bureau reported much fog and smog during the night, and added that a good deal of dust mixed with the fog. Smog is a combination of fog and smoke.

"There had to be some humidity or smog condition — a radical change in the air—to prevent the patient from getting the proper mixture of oxygen," a Charity Hospital doctor said.

Most patients described their attacks as the worst they ever experienced.

Benson Cancels European Tour

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson abandoned plans for a European tour today in order to concentrate on the farm problem, a boiling political issue.

He announced after a White House conference that he will remain in Washington next month "to direct the continuing preparation of recommendations to Congress designed to strengthen, improve and refine the present agricultural program."

Vice President Nixon was understood to have been at the White House at the same time as Benson today. This led to speculation that Nixon may have had a hand in Benson's sudden change of plans.

Less than two weeks ago Benson told reporters that he had no intention of canceling the trip. He was to have addressed the U. N. Food and Agricultural Organization in Rome Nov. 7 and proceed on a tour to boost the sale of American farm exports.

The secretary said at that time he was "concerned" about sagging farm prices but that he didn't find "anything in the picture to cause panic."

Since then the government has decided to spend about 85 million dollars on the purchase of pork and lard to encourage consumption and assist farmers in adjusting their production to market demands. Hog prices are about 30 per cent lower than a year ago. The purchase program was announced last Monday.

The Eisenhower farm program promises to be a major issue in the presidential election next year.

The Senate's Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee is out on the road right now, conducting a series of public hearings around the country to get the farmers' views on the price problem. A demand that Benson be removed from office was cheered at a session of the committee in Worthington, Minn., Tuesday. However, there also were cheers for a witness who defended Benson's flexible farm price support policy.

Flunks Lie Test, Loses $100, Wife

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — George Noer, 36, paid $100 to take a lie detector test to prove to his wife he wasn't running around with other women.

He flunked, his wife said in Superior Court today.

As a result, Judge John J. Lupe granted Mrs. Mary Alice Noer, 29, a divorce on cruelty grounds. She appeared in court with two black eyes which she said supported the contention that her husband beat her.

She had also claimed George was seeing other women. George volunteered to take the lie test to disprove his wife's claim.

Mrs. Noer was awarded $30 a week for support of their 3-month-old son and a cash settlement.

Dean Quits Fund Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — Arthur H. Dean, Korean truce negotiator, disclosed today he has resigned as director of the Fund for the Republic in disagreement with its policies.

The fund, established in 1952 with a 15-million-dollar grant from the Ford Foundation, has been accused by the American Legion of left-wing bias.

Contract For 5th Flattop Awarded

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Navy announced today its fifth supercarrier of the Forrestal class will be built by New York Shipbuilding Corp. at Camden, N. J.

The company's $119,841,034 bid was lower "by a substantial proportion" than that of its only competitor for the job, Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Secretary of the Navy Thomas said. No details were given about the other bid.

Thomas announced the contract award after it was first reported by Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ). Case's office said he and New Jersey's other senator, Republican H. Alexander Smith, along with Sens. Duff (R-Pa) and Martin (R-Pa), had previously urged the Navy to let New York Shipbuilding construct the huge carrier.

Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock had built the Forrestal, first in line of the 60,000-ton carriers, and is now at work on No. 3, the Ranger.

When completed the Forrestal cost slightly less than 200 million dollars. The contract awarded today entails work to be done by New York Shipbuilding and its materials, but excludes much equipment that will be installed in the vessel's hull.

40 Westinghouse Plants Shut Down By Strikes

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today counted 40 plants closed by two striking unions in deadlocks over wages and contracts.

The CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, with about 44,000 members, and the Independent United Electrical Workers, which claims 17,000 are both seeking a 15-cent wage hike. Another 10,000 supervisory people have been idled by the strike.

CIO-AFL Merger Near

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — The heads of the CIO and the AFL, Walter Reuther and George Meany, said today the merger of the two into a single labor organization is all but completed.

Israeli, Egypt Troops Clash In Buffer Zone

JERUSALEM, Oct. 26 (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian forces clashed today in the El Auja-Nitzana demilitarized zone. Each side blamed the other and gave conflicting accounts of the incident.

The Israeli army said Egyptian soldiers penetrated Israel territory and attacked an Israeli police post, killing an Israeli policeman, wounding three and kidnaping two others.

An Egyptian government communique said the Egyptians occupied the post after the Israelis had launched an attack inside Egyptian territory. One Israeli was captured and four wounded, while others withdrew leaving their weapons, the communique said. It gave Egyptian casualties as one soldier wounded.

Israel Takes Grave View

An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said: "Israel views with the utmost gravity this renewed attack which has assumed the character of a full scale military operation."

The communique issued by Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's office asserted the Israeli government was "directly responsible for the consequences of their attacks" along the frontier, an area of friction over several months.

"Egypt has repeatedly warned that it will not remain idle in the face of the recklessness and aggressiveness of Israel," the communique said. "Egypt will insure the security of her forces and her borders."

Truce Observers In U. S.

El Auja-Nitzana border problems are reported to be the main topic of discussions in New York between Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief U. N. Palestine truce observer, and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Arriving in New York today, the Canadian general said he sees no present prospect of a "shooting war" in the Holy Land. He said he has observed no preparations for an all-out war either in Egypt or Israel.

HAWKINS, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—A wild oil well that had spouted fire, mud, salt water and oil since Monday afternoon was finally capped today.

Both Molotov, Dulles Voice Peace Hopes

European Security, German And Arms Issues Top Agenda

GENEVA, Oct. 26 (AP)—East and West concentrated on Geneva tonight to see if the spoken desire for world peace can be put into practical form.

The foreign minister of Britain, France, the United States and the Soviet Union meet tomorrow to carry out the directive of the summit conference here last July when the chief of government ordained world tensions must be lessened.

Both Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles expressed hope on their arrival that "the spirit of Geneva" created by the summit parley can be retained as the keystone in diplomatic efforts to reduce East-West friction.

In spite of their hopeful comments, the two diplomats spelled out differences of opinion. Dulles said his delegation would work hard to carry out the Big Four aim of handling the closely linked problems of German reunification and European security. He mentioned these in that order.

Molotov Puts Security First

In his equally careful description of the objectives, Molotov listed European security first, Germany second and disarmament third.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan observed merely that the foreign ministers were meeting to take up the work started by the heads of state. He offered "a prayer to providence that we may succeed."

France's Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, embroiled in his nation's multiple worries over rebellious Morocco and Algeria, the Saar's upsetting pro-German vote and the possibility of his own government facing a vote of confidence, came late.

Jaunty and self-assured, Dulles said the spirit of Geneva is identified now with the hopes of all the world for lasting peace.

Mid-East Issue Crops Up

Facing the Big Four were these basic problems:

1. European security and reunification of divided Germany.
2. World disarmament.
3. Trade and cultural exchange between East and West.

Creeping into the picture were last minute developments the conference may have to deal with before it closes, probably in three weeks. One of these issues is an Israeli complaint that the Soviet Union is supplying arms to Egypt through satellite Czechoslovakia. Israel's Premier—Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett flew to Paris to present his nation's case and was set to repeat it in Geneva if given the forum.

Diem Proclaims Free Viet Nam Republic

SAIGON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem today proclaimed free Viet Nam a republic and promised a new constitution within the year.

Diem proclaimed himself the first president of the new republic following his overwhelming victory in the Sunday referendum that ousted former Emperor Bao Dai as chief of state.

As Western diplomatic recognition — from Britain, the United States and others — strengthened the regime, Diem's Cabinet resigned in a body to give him a free hand in forming his new government.

Shelley Returns Singer's Blast At "Sloppy Clothes"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Actress Shelley Winters, hitting back at a crack about her "sloppy clothes," said today she has no desire to remove herself to "a glamorous never-never land."

That, Miss Winters said, is apparently what singer Marguerite Piazza had in mind when she blasted Miss Winters, Marilyn Monroe and others for appearing in public in "sloppy" dress.

Smiling sweetly, Shelley observed:

"If Miss Piazza spent five hours a day looking well groomed, I still don't think she'd have the effect in clothes that Marilyn has."

Miss Piazza, who has given up opera and is currently doing a striptease, jazz singing act in night clubs started the transcontinental feud in California today by asserting that "Hollywood is the only place I know where the men dress better than the women."

Remarking that Hollywood actresses owe it to their public to look well groomed in public, Miss Piazza said:

"Hollywood's most durable stars know how important it is to dress for their public. Look at Joan Crawford. She wouldn't buy a loaf of bread at a supermarket unless she wore a Don Loper creation."

"I'll still wear blue jeans to the supermarket," Miss Winters replied. "I'll save my Don Loper creations for cocktail parties."

White House Cautions

"We certainly would welcome an opportunity to let the President know we're glad to have him back," one official said, "but of course we would never dream of putting any physical or emotional strain on him. We'll see what the President's advisers have to say."

White House officials here withheld any official reaction but their feeling appeared to be one of caution. The last thing they wanted, obviously, was a bout of handshaking or anything else that might tire Eisenhower.

Benson Cancels European Tour

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson abandoned plans for a European tour today in order to concentrate on the farm problem, a boiling political issue.

He announced after a White House conference that he will remain in Washington next month "to direct the continuing preparation of recommendations to Congress designed to strengthen, improve and refine the present agricultural program."

Vice President Nixon was understood to have been at the White House at the same time as Benson today. This led to speculation that Nixon may have had a hand in Benson's sudden change of plans.

Less than two weeks ago Benson told reporters that he had no intention of canceling the trip. He was to have addressed the U. N. Food and Agricultural Organization in Rome Nov. 7 and proceed on a tour to boost the sale of American farm exports.

The secretary said at that time he was "concerned" about sagging farm prices but that he didn't find "anything in the picture to cause panic."

Since then the government has decided to spend about 85 million dollars on the purchase of pork and lard to encourage consumption and assist farmers in adjusting their production to market demands. Hog prices are about 30 per cent lower than a year ago. The purchase program was announced last Monday.

The Eisenhower farm program promises to be a major issue in the presidential election next year.

The Senate's Democratic-controlled Agriculture Committee is out on the road right now, conducting a series of public hearings around the country to get the farmers' views on the price problem. A demand that Benson be removed from office was cheered at a session of the committee in Worthington, Minn., Tuesday. However, there also were cheers for a witness who defended Benson's flexible farm price support policy.

Israeli, Egypt Troops Clash In Buffer Zone

JERUSALEM, Oct. 26 (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian forces clashed today in the El Auja-Nitzana demilitarized zone. Each side blamed the other and gave conflicting accounts of the incident.

The Israeli army said Egyptian soldiers penetrated Israel territory and attacked an Israeli police post, killing an Israeli policeman, wounding three and kidnaping two others.

An Egyptian government communique said the Egyptians occupied the post after the Israelis had launched an attack inside Egyptian territory. One Israeli was captured and four wounded, while others withdrew leaving their weapons, the communique said. It gave Egyptian casualties as one soldier wounded.

Israel Takes Grave View

An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman said: "Israel views with the utmost gravity this renewed attack which has assumed the character of a full scale military operation."

The communique issued by Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's office asserted the Israeli government was "directly responsible for the consequences of their attacks" along the frontier, an area of friction over several months.

"Egypt has repeatedly warned that it will not remain idle in the face of the recklessness and aggressiveness of Israel," the communique said. "Egypt will insure the security of her forces and her borders."

Truce Observers In U. S.

El Auja-Nitzana border problems are reported to be the main topic of discussions in New York between Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief U. N. Palestine truce observer, and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Arriving in New York today, the Canadian general said he sees no present prospect of a "shooting war" in the Holy Land. He said he has observed no preparations for an all-out war either in Egypt or Israel.

Times Warning Ignored By Meg

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Princess Margaret carried out her royal engagements with a big smile today. She showed no outward reaction to the warning by the stately Times of London of a fate similar to the Duke of Windsor's if she marries Peter Townsend.

Townsend called again at Clarence House at tea time. He drove from his Lowndes Square apartment at 4:30 and left at 7:40 before Princess Margaret set out for a dinner given by President Graveiro Lopes of Portugal at the Portuguese Embassy.

The Times, which until now has remained silent on the Princess' private life, spelled out for her the same lecture it read to her uncle, Edward VIII, 19 years ago, when his friendship with American divorcee Wallis Warfield Simpson shook the empire.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, as head of the established Church of England the most formidable opponent of any Margaret-Townsend marriage, is an ex-officio member of the board of trustees of the Times. So is the lord chancellor, highest law officer of the British government.

Motorist, 63, Wins Right To Continue Driving 1926 Auto

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 26 (AP) — John Luipersbeck, 63, today defended and won the right to drive his 1926 Oakland which he says he'll run "till it falls apart."

The car ran through a red light and Patrolman H. M. Snyder said the 29-year-old vehicle's brakes were inadequate.

Not so said Luipersbeck.

The policeman said he tested the brakes pedal and it went clear to the floor.

Luipersbeck said the car had mechanical brakes and that the car was not moving when the officer tested it.

Magistrate William Kreykenbohn ruled Snyder had made no case against the brake's of the Oakland, which owner Luipersbeck fondly explained was "part of my family now."

The magistrate dismissed the brakes charge. Fined Luipersbeck $15 though—for going through a red light.

Divorce Plans Dropped

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—The former Walda Winchell, daughter of columnist Walter Winchell, and hotelman Hyatt Von Dehn today decided to drop their divorce plans and were reconciled. They said they will leave later today for a second honeymoon in Mexico City.

Faure Demands Confidence Vote After Setbacks

PARIS, THURSDAY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure lost two procedural votes in the National Assembly early today and then demanded a vote of confidence from the rebellious lawmakers.

The double setback came during a day-long debate on general government policies. Faure's call for a confidence vote immediately shut off further discussion.

The confidence ballot will be taken during the Assembly session starting at 10 a.m. Friday.

Faure's recent call for advancing the date of the next national elections and a shower of bad news for France from all over the world appeared to be the main factors in the Assembly's revolt.

The elections are scheduled for next June but Faure has proposed advancing them to December of this year. Many deputies opposed to the change apparently seized an opportunity to push the Premier aside before discussion could start on this issue.

The Premier's first defeat came on the question of giving priority to a government-supported resolution which would have closed the debate. The motion lost 303-275.

The Assembly then agreed by 289-286 to give priority to a Socialist resolution which specifically expressed no confidence in the government.

Boy Given Life Term In Slaying Of Girl

ALFRED, Maine, Oct. 26 (AP)—A York County Superior Court jury today convicted 15-year-old Fortunat Michaud of murder in the bludgeon slaying of 11-year-old Doris Trudeau at Saco.

Justice Francis W. Sullivan imposed the mandatory life sentence on the seventh-grade pupil.

Fortunat, accused of beating the girl with a pine stick in an argument about blowing up toy balloons, stood before the judge without expression as the case ended on its third day. He wore a light sports coat, dark trousers and a sports shirt.

Flunks Lie Test, Loses $100, Wife

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — George Noer, 36, paid $100 to take a lie detector test to prove to his wife he wasn't running around with other women.

He flunked, his wife said in Superior Court today.

As a result, Judge John J. Lupe granted Mrs. Mary Alice Noer, 29, a divorce on cruelty grounds. She appeared in court with two black eyes which she said supported the contention that her husband beat her.

She had also claimed George was seeing other women. George volunteered to take the lie test to disprove his wife's claim.

Mrs. Noer was awarded $30 a week for support of their 3-month-old son and a cash settlement.

Dean Quits Fund Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — Arthur H. Dean, Korean truce negotiator, disclosed today he has resigned as director of the Fund for the Republic in disagreement with its policies.

The fund, established in 1952 with a 15-million-dollar grant from the Ford Foundation, has been accused by the American Legion of left-wing bias.

Contract For 5th Flattop Awarded

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Navy announced today its fifth supercarrier of the Forrestal class will be built by New York Shipbuilding Corp. at Camden, N. J.

The company's $119,841,034 bid was lower "by a substantial proportion" than that of its only competitor for the job, Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Secretary of the Navy Thomas said. No details were given about the other bid.

Thomas announced the contract award after it was first reported by Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ). Case's office said he and New Jersey's other senator, Republican H. Alexander Smith, along with Sens. Duff (R-Pa) and Martin (R-Pa), had previously urged the Navy to let New York Shipbuilding construct the huge carrier.

Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock had built the Forrestal, first in line of the 60,000-ton carriers, and is now at work on No. 3, the Ranger.

When completed the Forrestal cost slightly less than 200 million dollars. The contract awarded today entails work to be done by New York Shipbuilding and its materials, but excludes much equipment that will be installed in the vessel's hull.

HAWKINS, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—A wild oil well that had spouted fire, mud, salt water and oil since Monday afternoon was finally capped today.

Diem Proclaims Free Viet Nam Republic

SAIGON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem today proclaimed free Viet Nam a republic and promised a new constitution within the year.

Diem proclaimed himself the first president of the new republic following his overwhelming victory in the Sunday referendum that ousted former Emperor Bao Dai as chief of state.

As Western diplomatic recognition — from Britain, the United States and others — strengthened the regime, Diem's Cabinet resigned in a body to give him a free hand in forming his new government.

Plane Is Flown Into Bank In Get-Even Suicide Crash

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (AP)—A man fired yesterday from a Bank of America branch at International Airport rented a light plane today, then flew the craft into the bank in an apparent "get-even" suicide crash.

Witnesses said the pilot, Benjamin Fauth, 28, of Toppenish, Wash., directed his plane through a large window in a new, unoccupied addition to the structure.

Officer A. L. Wagnon said:

"Apparently he was trying to get even with the bank for firing him and get rid of himself at the same time."

Fauth was killed instantly.

Witnesses said the plane, an Aeronca, came in downwind with its engine dead—turned off. It was headed the wrong way for a landing and was a quarter of a mile from the normal landing strips at this airport, one of the world's busiest.

Pilot George Black of Universal Fliers, from whom Fauth had rented the plane, said the gas tank was full before the aircraft left nearby Hawthorne Field an hour earlier.

Airport officials said Fauth had been a second lieutenant in the Air Force and carried a commercial pilot's license.

Choking Smog Kills Two, Sends 350 To New Orleans Hospitals

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26 (AP) — Choking smog smothered parts of New Orleans today, triggered a wave of asthma attacks that killed two persons and sent more than 350 others to hospitals for treatment.

Most of the attacks occurred between midnight and dawn, crowding the emergency room at Charity Hospital with coughing, wheezing victims.

Doctors described the attacks as "unusually severe" and called in extra staff help to handle the rush of patients.

Dr. Roy White of Foundation Hospital, an allergy specialist, blamed smog, smoke and heavy moisture for the sudden outbreak.

The dead were Jules Glaspin, 65, and Joseph Armes, 52.

At Charity, Dr. George Ramsey said:

"It's a miracle we didn't lose more."

The Weather Bureau reported much fog and smog during the night, and added that a good deal of dust mixed with the fog. Smog is a combination of fog and smoke.

"There had to be some humidity or smog condition — a radical change in the air—to prevent the patient from getting the proper mixture of oxygen," a Charity Hospital doctor said.

Most patients described their attacks as the worst they ever experienced.

40 Westinghouse Plants Shut Down By Strikes

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. today counted 40 plants closed by two striking unions in deadlocks over wages and contracts.

The CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, with about 44,000 members, and the Independent United Electrical Workers, which claims 17,000 are both seeking a 15-cent wage hike. Another 10,000 supervisory people have been idled by the strike.

Shelley Returns Singer's Blast At "Sloppy Clothes"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Actress Shelley Winters, hitting back at a crack about her "sloppy clothes," said today she has no desire to remove herself to "a glamorous never-never land."

That, Miss Winters said, is apparently what singer Marguerite Piazza had in mind when she blasted Miss Winters, Marilyn Monroe and others for appearing in public in "sloppy" dress.

Smiling sweetly, Shelley observed:

"If Miss Piazza spent five hours a day looking well groomed, I still don't think she'd have the effect in clothes that Marilyn has."

Miss Piazza, who has given up opera and is currently doing a striptease, jazz singing act in night clubs started the transcontinental feud in California today by asserting that "Hollywood is the only place I know where the men dress better than the women."

Remarking that Hollywood actresses owe it to their public to look well groomed in public, Miss Piazza said:

"Hollywood's most durable stars know how important it is to dress for their public. Look at Joan Crawford. She wouldn't buy a loaf of bread at a supermarket unless she wore a Don Loper creation."

"I'll still wear blue jeans to the supermarket," Miss Winters replied. "I'll save my Don Loper creations for cocktail parties."

Russia Insists Red China Take Part In Atom Parley

India Opposes 'Rubber Stamp' Label On Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The Soviet Union insisted today upon Red China's participation in any international conference to set up an organization for peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Russia's stand and an Indian declaration opposing any "rubber stamp" label on such a conference threw a roadblock into efforts of the United States and Britain to obtain an unanimous U. N. vote on atoms-for-peace.

Sixteen nations now have lined up behind a much amended resolution pushed by the United States and Britain in the U. N. Political Committee for approving the machinery to set up the atoms-for-peace agency. The resolution, evolved out of much give and take on the part of the big Western powers, may be put to a vote tomorrow.

But the Soviet Union today introduced an amendment to the 18-power resolution which would admit "all states," including Red China, to the international conference. It would also admit the Chinese Reds to any technical conferences, such as the recent atoms-for-peace meeting in Geneva.

Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI), the U. S. representative in the committee, rejected the Soviet amendment on the same grounds the United States objected to Red China's participation in the Geneva meeting.

Pastore declared technical conferences should not be open to any state outside the orbit of the United Nations and its specialized agencies. He turned down also any idea that Red China should have a hand in setting up the international atoms for peace agency—originally a proposal of President Eisenhower.

At the afternoon meeting of the committee V. K. Krishna Menon of India declared his country could not accept the 18-power resolution because of wording relating to the work of the international conference on the statute which would govern the atoms-for-peace agency.

The 18-power resolution invites the 84 nations to a conference on the final statute of the international agency.

Menon delcared it should be made clear that the conference should have a hand in shaping up the final statute, and not be a "rubber stamp" meeting.

New Evidence Indicates Boys Slain In Prairie

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—New evidence was uncovered today that three school boys whose naked bodies were found in a forest preserve woods Oct. 18 may have been slain in a prairie 2½ miles away.

A man and a woman gave separate but corroborating accounts of hearing cries and muffled screams coming from a quarter-mile-square prairie on Chicago's Northwest Side just before midnight Oct. 16.

Mrs. Dolores Wisilinski, 29, who resides near the prairie near Higgins Rd. and Octavia Ave., said she was alarmed by screaming about 11:30 p.m. that Sunday night and heard a boy cry, "Oh no, don't do that."

Anthony F. Walloch, 75, a retired engineer who also lives in the area, said three series of screams emanated from the prairie. The last time, he said, the voice was hoarse and it sounded like someone pleading for mercy.

The Chicago public schools, meanwhile, cooperated in widening the search for the killers of Anton Schuessler, 11, his 13-year-old brother, John, and Robert Peterson, 14.

Circulars containing sketches of the boys in the clothing they last wore will be distributed among students and pupils in the eight high schools and 78 elementary schools in the district being scoured for clues.

Fourth Concern Ups Price Of Newsprint

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—A fourth major producer said today that it intends to raise the price of newsprint to U. S. newspapers.

Sir Eric Bowater, president of the Bowater Paper Corp., declared his company plans to boost the price "at a time of our own choosing," but did not specify the amount of the increase.

His statement came as Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., declared the forthcoming increases in newsprint prices leave newspapers with no choice but to raise advertising rates and the price to subscribers.

Canadian International Paper Co. last night announced a hike of $4 a ton, effective Nov. 1, bringing the price to $130 a ton, delivered in New York. The increase followed a $5 a ton rise announced last week by St. Lawrence Corp., Montreal, and a similar $5 boost Monday by Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Toronto. The St. Lawrence and Abitibi increases brought their New York price to $131 a ton.

Actor Anthony Ross Found Dead In Bed

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Actor Anthony Ross, 49, who played the role of a college professor in the Broadway comedy "Bus Stop" was found dead in bed at his home today. He had been on the New York stage for 23 years.

Ross appeared in the play last night with every indication he was in good health. A heart attack apparently killed him as he slept. His wife, Mary, found his body this morning when she awoke.

An understudy, Arch Johnson, will take over Ross' role and the show will go on tonight without interruption.

Strobel Denies Using Position To Aid His Firm

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Peter A. Strobel denied today that he ever used his position as the government's chief real estate manager to further the interests of his New York engineering firm.

And he won from Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of a House inquiry group, agreement that, "There may not have been any violation of the conflict of interest statute."

But Celler said there was a "question of delicacy" as to whether Strobel ought to have disqualified himself from recommending a client of his engineering consultant firm for the job of remodelling a building at 70 Columbus Avenue, New York, for use of the U.S. Immigration Service.

The client, Serge P. Petroff, was awarded the contract after Strobel recommended him. Strobel said one other client of his also got a federal building alteration job in New York. But he added that in neither case did he or his firm profit from the work, or have any interest in it "whatsoever."

Strobel was questioned before a House Judiciary subcommittee which undertook to find out whether there was any conflict of interest between his influential public post and his private business connection.

Strobel is commissioner of public buildings service in the General Services Administration. He also holds a 90 per cent interest in the firm of Strobel & Salzman, engineering consultants.

He testified that he acted on the advice of "a friend" in retaining his interest in the New York firm. He identified the friend as Harry Smith, a New York businessman.

Edgar R. Rand, Shoe Manufacturer, Dies

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — Edgar E. Rand, 50, president of the International Shoe Co., one of the industry's largest manufacturers, died of a heart seizure today.

The St. Louis industralist, a director of several big corporations, was stricken at a hotel while in Chicago for the National Shoe Fair.

He was a member of the board of trustees of Vanderbilt University of Nashville, Tenn., and of Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, and had been active in St. Louis civic affairs for years.

Butler Proposes Atom Locomotive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md) said today he has proposed building a nuclear-powered locomotive in order to acquaint Americans with "the atomic wonders we possess."

Butler announced he has completed drafting legislation to authorize the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to develop a nuclear engine suitable for a locomotive to travel U. S. railways. He said he will introduce it as soon as Congress convenes in January.

Butler, who previously had recommended such a project, said he has been assured by Edward J. Kehoe, consultant of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, that it is "entirely feasible." Kehoe is a member of the Assn. of American Railroads' committee on atomic energy.

"My proposal envisions sort of a 'freedom train' drawn by an atomic-powered engine containing atomic exhibits which would tour the United States and give our people a first-hand view of the progress made in the 'atoms for peace' program," Butler said.

Whites Bar Negro From Saying Mass

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—The Rev. Gerald Lewis, Catholic Negro priest, today said two policemen accompanied the white parishioners who refused to let him say Mass at their small church in Louisiana.

When he arrived in St. Cecilia Catholic mission at Jesuit Bend, La., on Oct. 2, Father Lewis said, three parishioners and the policemen met him. One parishioner told him a Negro could not say Mass for a white congregation.

Asked why policemen were along, Father Lewis, who teaches at St. Augustin's Seminary here, said:

"I always wondered about it myself. Maybe they were trying to impress me or maybe they were trying to scare me. I don't know."

The sheriff of Plaquemines Parish (county) could not be reached but at Pointe a la Hache, Ala., Deputy Sheriff Arthur S. Bergeron, said:

"I know our police officers had nothing to do with the incident. If they were there, they were just patrolling the road."

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — British-backed forces today ousted Saudi Arabians from the disputed Buraimi oasis area, Prime Minister Eden announced.

President Of GE Says Automation With Housewife

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Whether the harried housewife—cooking, washing, ironing and cleaning—realizes it or not, automation is with her.

Because electricity costs so little, said Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Co., the average home uses more than 2,550 kilowatt hours a year—"the energy of 36 servants."

And electricity costs so little, he said, because of the automation of power production.

Cordiner testified today before a Senate-House committee studying the impact of automation—the increasing use of automatic devices—on America's way of living.

Cordiner said automation will enable American industry to boost productivity, create new employment, reduce the cost of goods and increase the real wealth and purchasing power of all America.

Another witness, W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said, "Automation, together with atomic energy, offers mankind its first real opportunity to eliminate poverty."

Kennedy said labor is concerned, however, because, "There is little doubt that automation and other scientific invention tend to reduce manpower requirements, and—or cause changes in the skill required of our labor force."

Baltimore Finance Company Held Up

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Two bandits held up a finance company today, taking $1,259 from a cash register, and a policeman pursuing them was injured when his motorcycle turned over.

The holdup men, both Negroes, fled on foot and got away.

Patrolman Anthony W. Weiss Jr., who took up the trail of the fleeing bandits, was thrown to the street when his motorcycle skidded on a patch of grease while turning a corner. He was taken to Mercy Hospital where he was treated for lacerations and abrasions and was X-rayed for possible internal injuries.

The first United States President to leave the country while in office was Theodore Roosevelt, who visited the Panama canal works for three days in November of 1906.

Passengers Walk Planks To Safety

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 26 (AP)—Thirty train passengers walked a narrow emergency plank bridge over a 60-foot deep washout to reach safety today from a stranded train east of here.

They had been marooned for 24 hours after a cloudburst washed out the track before and behind the Canadian Pacific train on the Kettle Valley Line.

The suspension bridge they crossed was 3 feet wide and 78 feet long.

A daring engineer provided food for the travelers while stranded. He clambered across the sagging rails and ties, which hung across the chasm, and reached the nearest town for food. He crawled back across the suspended track with food strung around his neck.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Peter A. Strobel denied today that he ever used his position as the government's chief real estate manager to further the interests of his New York engineering firm.

And he won from Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of a House inquiry group, agreement that, "There may not have been any violation of the conflict of interest statute."

But Celler said there was a "question of delicacy" as to whether Strobel ought to have disqualified himself from recommending a client of his engineering consultant firm for the job of remodelling a building at 70 Columbus Avenue, New York, for use of the U.S. Immigration Service.

The client, Serge P. Petroff, was awarded the contract after Strobel recommended him. Strobel said one other client of his also got a federal building alteration job in New York. But he added that in neither case did he or his firm profit from the work, or have any interest in it "whatsoever."

Strobel was questioned before a House Judiciary subcommittee which undertook to find out whether there was any conflict of interest between his influential public post and his private business connection.

Strobel is commissioner of public buildings service in the General Services Administration. He also holds a 90 per cent interest in the firm of Strobel & Salzman, engineering consultants.

He testified that he acted on the advice of "a friend" in retaining his interest in the New York firm. He identified the friend as Harry Smith, a New York businessman.

Edgar R. Rand, Shoe Manufacturer, Dies

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — Edgar E. Rand, 50, president of the International Shoe Co., one of the industry's largest manufacturers, died of a heart seizure today.

The St. Louis industrialist, a director of several big corporations, was stricken at a hotel while in Chicago for the National Shoe Fair.

He was a member of the board of trustees of Vanderbilt University of Nashville, Tenn., and of Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, and had been active in St. Louis civic affairs for years.

Butler Proposes Atom Locomotive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md) said today he has proposed building a nuclear-powered locomotive in order to acquaint Americans with "the atomic wonders we possess."

Butler announced he has completed drafting legislation to authorize the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to develop a nuclear engine suitable for a locomotive to travel U. S. railways. He said he will introduce it as soon as Congress convenes in January.

Butler, who previously had recommended such a project, said he has been assured by Edward J. Kehoe, consultant of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, that it is "entirely feasible." Kehoe is a member of the Assn. of American Railroads' committee on atomic energy.

"My proposal envisions sort of a 'freedom train' drawn by an atomic-powered engine containing atomic exhibits which would tour the United States and give our people a first-hand view of the progress made in the 'atoms for peace' program," Butler said.

Whites Bar Negro From Saying Mass

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss., Oct. 26 (AP)—The Rev. Gerald Lewis, Catholic Negro priest, today said two policemen accompanied the white parishioners who refused to let him say Mass at their small church in Louisiana.

When he arrived in St. Cecilia Catholic mission at Jesuit Bend, La., on Oct. 2, Father Lewis said, three parishioners and the policemen met him. One parishioner told him a Negro could not say Mass for a white congregation.

Asked why policemen were along, Father Lewis, who teaches at St. Augustin's Seminary here, said:

"I always wondered about it myself. Maybe they were trying to impress me or maybe they were trying to scare me. I don't know."

The sheriff of Plaquemines Parish (county) could not be reached but at Pointe a la Hache, Ala., Deputy Sheriff Arthur S. Bergeron, said:

"I know our police officers had nothing to do with the incident. If they were there, they were just patrolling the road."

Oasis Area Cleared

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP) — British-backed forces today ousted Saudi Arabians from the disputed Buraimi oasis area, Prime Minister Eden announced.

President Of GE Says Automation With Housewife

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — Whether the harried housewife—cooking, washing, ironing and cleaning—realizes it or not, automation is with her.

Because electricity costs so little, said Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Co., the average home uses more than 2,550 kilowatt hours a year—"the energy of 36 servants."

And electricity costs so little, he said, because of the automation of power production.

Cordiner testified today before a Senate-House committee studying the impact of automation—the increasing use of automatic devices—on America's way of living.

Cordiner said automation will enable American industry to boost productivity, create new employment, reduce the cost of goods and increase the real wealth and purchasing power of all America.

Another witness, W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said, "Automation, together with atomic energy, offers mankind its first real opportunity to eliminate poverty."

Kennedy said labor is concerned, however, because, "There is little doubt that automation and other scientific invention tend to reduce manpower requirements, and—or cause changes in the skill required of our labor force."

Baltimore Finance Company Held Up

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Two bandits held up a finance company today, taking $1,259 from a cash register, and a policeman pursuing them was injured when his motorcycle turned over.

The holdup men, both Negroes, fled on foot and got away.

Patrolman Anthony W. Weiss Jr., who took up the trail of the fleeing bandits, was thrown to the street when his motorcycle skidded on a patch of grease while turning a corner. He was taken to Mercy Hospital where he was treated for lacerations and abrasions and was X-rayed for possible internal injuries.

The first United States President to leave the country while in office was Theodore Roosevelt, who visited the Panama canal works for three days in November of 1906.

Passengers Walk Planks To Safety

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 26 (AP)—Thirty train passengers walked a narrow emergency plank bridge over a 60-foot deep washout to reach safety today from a stranded train east of here.

They had been marooned for 24 hours after a cloudburst washed out the track before and behind the Canadian Pacific train on the Kettle Valley Line.

The suspension bridge they crossed was 3 feet wide and 78-feet long.

A daring engineer provided food for the travelers while stranded. He clambered across the sagging rails and ties, which hung across the chasm, and reached the nearest town for food. He crawled back across the suspended track with food strung around his neck.

Fourth Concern Ups Price Of Newsprint

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—A fourth major producer said today that it intends to raise the price of newsprint to U. S. newspapers.

Sir Eric Bowater, president of the Bowater Paper Corp., declared his company plans to boost the price "at a time of our own choosing," but did not specify the amount of the increase.

His statement came as Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., declared the forthcoming increases in newsprint prices leave newspapers with no choice but to raise advertising rates and the price to subscribers.

Canadian International Paper Co. last night announced a hike of $4 a ton, effective Nov. 1, bringing the price to $130 a ton, delivered in New York. The increase followed a $5 a ton rise announced last week by St. Lawrence Corp., Montreal, and a similar $5 boost Monday by Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Toronto. The St. Lawrence and Abitibi increases brought their New York price to $131 a ton.

Actor Anthony Ross Found Dead In Bed

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Actor Anthony Ross, 49, who played the role of a college professor in the Broadway comedy "Bus Stop" was found dead in bed at his home today. He had been on the New York stage for 23 years.

Ross appeared in the play last night with every indication he was in good health. A heart attack apparently killed him as he slept. His wife, Mary, found his body this morning when she awoke.

An understudy, Arch Johnson, will take over Ross' role and the show will go on tonight without interruption.

Industry Drive To Take Marland To West Coast

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—Gov. William C. Marland's travels to contact industrial prospects for West Virginia will take him to both coasts and the Midwest in the next three weeks.

It will be the most far-ranging trip Marland has yet made in his "traveling salesman" campaign to attract new industry to the state. Marland and Director Andrew V. Ruckman of the Industrial and Publicity Commission outlined the itinerary at the governor's weekly news conference.

Gov. Marland left Thursday afternoon on a return trip to New York, which was the scene last summer of the first of Marland's series of meetings with industrial representatives around the nation.

The governor is scheduled to attend an industry luncheon in Milwaukee Friday. He will remain there for the West Virginia-Marquette football game Saturday, then leave late Saturday or Sunday for the West Coast, where he will spend the ensuing two weeks.

Three luncheons are scheduled in Los Angeles. Marland will be host to general industry representatives Nov. 1, to representatives of the aircraft industry Nov. 2 and to wearing apparel manufacturers Nov. 4.

San Francisco will be the next stop. Marland's schedule calls for a luncheon there Nov. 7 and individual appointments with industrial officials the following day.

Marland will meet with aircraft industry officials in Seattle Nov. 9 and will be host at a luncheon of representatives of woodworking and other industrie there Nov. 10.

American Snuff Lovers Still Defy Changing Times

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Everything else may fluctuate in a rapidly changing world, but this fact at least seems stable:

U.S. snuff lovers will keep on sniffing snuff, come war, depression, peace or prosperity.

A check today on a new Agriculture Department report shows that 39,000,000 pounds of snuff will go up the nostrils, or into the mouths, of the faithful this year.

Here's what makes the statistic unusual: With scarcely any variation, around 39,000,000 pounds of the stuff have been used annually for 35 years, and maybe longer.

By contrast, chewing tobacco, once considered an American art, has hit the skids.

This year's consumption of chewing tobacco will be 79,500,000 pounds, or twice that of snuff. But whereas snuff is holding its own, chewing tobacco is going down. The forecast: The poorest chewing year of this century.

The connoisseur of plug, twist, finecut and scrap is vanishing so fast that the once indispensable cuspidor now is showing up in museums, not as an essential receptacle, but as a reminder of a former way of American life.

Well, why has snuff held on?

Agriculture experts aren't sure, but they do know there is a popular misconception about snuffers. Many people still conceive of snuff with an aristocratic tinge. . . . The silver snuff box, the lace sleeve, the monocle, the delicate pinch of snuff before the witty remark.

So far as this country is concerned, that's nonsense. Those on the lower end of the economic scale are the most faithful. Usually they don't snuffle it. They put a small bit between the lower lip and the gum, and suck it. In some areas it's considered dandy for toothache.

The South accounts for much of the snuff consumption, and Scandanavians in the northwestern lumber business and fishermen in New England also use it.

Snuff had its finest hour during World War II. Many defense plants had stern "no smoking" rules, and workers tried snuff as a substitute. In 1943, snuff consumption went up to 43,667,000 pounds. But it was a temporary thing, and in no time at all, snuff was back at its old level.

As probably everyone knows by now, the tradition loving Senate continues to have filled snuffboxes on each senator's desk. No one dips—at least not regularly—but the page boys keep the boxes filled. The demand may be small, but it's steady. Of those 39,000,000 pounds produced each year, one pound goes to the U.S. Senate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—An ad in the New York Times has offered a reconditioned five-story hospital building to further any philanthropic organization's "endeavors in human welfare activities."

The Times says the owner bought the property to operate a private medical center but has given it up after suffering a heart attack. Unofficially the building has been valued at up to $100,000.

Byrnes Urges End Of Attacks On Diplomats

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—James F. Byrnes, former secretary of state, says the time has come to halt political attacks on the nation's diplomats.

The Alger Hiss case, he says, served as a springboard for unfortunate and unfair criticism of the entire State Department.

Describing career members of the foreign service as "our first line of defense" in peacetime, Byrnes writes in Collier's magazine:

"The time has come to stop shooting our sentries.

"If the men and women of our diplomatic establishment continue to be the objects of political attacks, of ridicule, neglect and mismanagement, if public confidence is not reinvested in the quality and dedication of their service, the result could be national disaster."

According to Byrnes, who attended the Yalta conference as director of war mobilization, Hiss conferred there each day with Secretary of State Stettinius and Harry Hopkins, adviser to President Roosevelt.

"I do not know the extent of his (Hiss') influence upon them," Byrnes writes.

"But I think it is only fair to say that the mistakes of Yalta, revealed with all the benefit of hindsight, were made on issues and on considerations in which Mr. Hiss could hardly have been a decisive or dominant factor."

Byrnes says that, as secretary of state, he received an FBI report containing allegations Hiss had been a communist. He questioned Hiss, who denied it, and "without batting an eye," said he never heard of Whittaker Chambers, his chief accuser, Byrnes says.

The former secretary adds that he lacked proof to oust Hiss, but later, when Hiss was offered a position outside the government, let it be known to Hiss "that his resignation would be accepted immediately." It was.

"A few years later when he (Hiss) was convicted of swearing falsely that he did not know Mr. Chambers, I concluded from the press reports that the jury was absolutely right."

Reasonable Solution

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Bunny O'Connell, 21, explained in Traffic Court that what with her meager income, she couldn't afford to garage the nifty, white foreign-made car a boy friend gave her.

So the judge didn't insist that she pay her accumulated $1,900 in overtime parking fines all at once, or go to jail for 190 days. He is letting her pay it off at $50 a week, now that she has what her lawyer termed a promisingly "lucrative" job.

Boy Gets Five-Year Term In Bike Argument Slaying

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Clarence Moore today was sentenced to five years in the reformatory for killing another boy who insisted on riding his new bicycle.

Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, court psychiatrist, said the boy appeared to experience real remose. He is "very impulsive with somewhat defective control," the doctor said. He might profit if put on probation under careful supervision.

But Judge Herman M. Moser declared:

"There have been too many acts of violence by the young and immature. Far too many instances of lack of self-control on the part of youths have led to killings.

"A life has been illegally and unlawfully taken and some punishment to the guilty, regardless of youth, must follow as a warning and deterrent to others.

"Probation at this time would be, and properly so, shocking to a large part of the community."

Moore was acquitted of murder but convicted of manslaughter when he was tried a few weeks ago.

The trouble was Hugh Vasquez, 14, admired Moore's new bicycle and wanted so much to ride it. Moore had lost two bikes to thieves and wouldn't let the new one out of his hands.

On Aug. 3, young Vasquez jumped on the bike and started off. Moore swung at him with a tire implement from the tool kit. Vasquez died of a stab wound.

Although Moore is white and Vasquez a Negro, there was no hint in the court proceedings that racial differences were involved.

Moore had returned less than a month earlier with his divorced mother from an extended visit to her former home at Jacksboro, Tenn. They lived in a borderline section of Baltimore city where white and Negro residential areas overlap.

Young Vasquez, abandoned by his parents, lived with a white family in the neighborhood and helped them in their store. He regularly played with the white youngsters in the block.

Adams Murder Case Is Closed

PIKESVILLE, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—The head of the Maryland State Police said today his men no longer are probing the murder of John I. Adams but are "still looking into the gambling operation" the 39-year-old Negro allegedly headed.

Baltimore County police have charged two men and a woman in the Adams slaying. After the arrests State Police indicated their investigation would continue.

Adams was one of six arrested in a raid Sept. 28 at Turner Station. Raiders said they turned up a $6 million numbers operation. State and city police pulled the raid without notifying county police.

County police have said robbery was the motive in the Adams slaying. Still missing is about $1,000 he was reported carrying.

Of the slaying State Police Superintendent Col. Elmer Munshower, said "unless something else turns up, I guess we'll call that closed."

Munshower had no comment regarding a verbal blast fired yesterday by Baltimore County Commissioner Michael J. Birmingham at Munshower, Gov. McKeldin and Baltimore County Police Commissioner James Hepbron.

Birmingham accused the tree of "interferring" with law enforcement in the county.

State Contends Road Relocation Estimate Low

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP) -- The State of Maryland contended in Federal Court today that the federal government is low in its estimated cost of relocating a portion of Maryland 73 around Camp Detrick near Frederick.

The government says it is necessary to close part of the road because of the secret nature of the Camp Detrick installation. It has offered to pay $93,510 for relocating the state route.

Norman M. Pritchett, chief engineer for the State Roads Commission, testified today that the SRC figures the cost of relocating the road would be $120,173 for construction plus $17,248 for rights of way, for a total of $137,421.

Moreover, said Pritchett, that figure would apply only to about 1¼ miles of a new road 18 feet wide as proposed by the government. The State contends the relocation should be 20 feet wide, and should extend about 3,900 feet farther into Frederick.

The present Maryland 73 is an extension of Seventh Street in Frederick. The relocation would enter Frederick by way of Fourth Street.

Pritchett estimated the cost of an 18-foot road including the additional 3,900 feet at $195,973 plus right of way. For a 20 foot road all the way, the cost would be $208,480 he said.

Asked why he thought the government's plans for the relocation are inadequate, Pritchett said:

"The width is not sufficient, the depth is not adequate, and it would dump Maryland 73 traffic into an inadequate facility (Fourth Street)."

Improvement of the additional 3,900 feet, he added, would connect with an SRC improvement of Fourth Street that will lead into the new Frederick By-Pass.

The State also called as witnesses William R. Walter, Frederick city engineer, who testified to the width of Seventh and Fourth Streets; Charles L. Walls, SRC right of way engineer in the Frederick area who testified to property costs along the relocation, and Roger H. Willard, Frederick County road engineer.

Willard said if 1,000 more vehicles were to be diverted from Maryland 73 over Fourth Street daily, the result would be traffic congestion and possible serious accidents.

The case is expected to go to the jury after final arguments tomorrow. Testimony was completed late today.

Cab Passenger Pays With Interest

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP) — James Gregg took a taxicab ride from Baltimore to Stonehurst in Delaware County, Pa., about 60 miles.

An argument developed over the fare and Gregg refused to pay the driver, Salvatore J. Perrere, 31, of Baltimore. Perrere drove to the Upper Darby, Pa., police station and swore out a warrant charging Gregg with refusing to pay and drunkenness.

Magistrate Louis T. Baldino fined Gregg $10, plus $9 costs. He also ordered him to pay the $30.40 cab bill, plus $5 for Perrere's expenses, including breakfast.

A detective accompanied Gregg to a bank so he could cash a personal check and pay off.

The original cab bill was $30. It cost Gregg $54.50.

Mother, Two Sons Overcome By Fumes

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—A 65-year-old mother and two sons were overcome by coal gas today and the woman was put in an oxygen tent at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Felled were Mrs. Elizabeth Greenlow, 63, and her sons, Henry, 26, and Gerald, 22.

Samuel Hall, a neighbor, told police he was awakened by a banging on his door early today and found Henry slumped in the doorway.

Hall went to the Greenlow's East Chase street home and found the mother and second son. He opened windows and called the Fire Department.

The sons remained at the hospital for observation.

Gov. McKeldin And Baltimore Officials Honor Slain Cop

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Crude signs in red crayon appeared on utility poles in some sections of Baltimore today.

They said:

"Policeman takes $75, demoted
"$53 take home pay
"Policeman killed
"Lousy setup."

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron, and 200 uniformed officers paid their respects today to Patrolman James J. Purcell, who yet may be a sergeant again.

In less than six weeks he had been: 1. Respected officer. 2. Bum. 3. Dead hero.

Early on the morning of Sept. 16, while Purcell was acting desk officer at the central district police station, FBI agents brought in Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald, Washington influence peddler.

Grunewald had been picked up in Washington and brought to Baltimore to appear in Federal court on a charge of evading about $96,000 in income taxes.

Grunewald was put in a cell to wait for the opening of court. He had a $100 bill on him when he checked in. It was gone when the Federal agents came to reclaim him five hours later.

An investigation brought out that Grunewald had decided to distribute some of his $100 "to the boys" at Central just for their kindness—no special kindness.

He gave $75 to Purcell. Purcell gave $20 of it to his turnkey.

Both officers were demoted, put on foot patrol, and stuck with night work.

Purcell was one of the policemen who answered an alarm about a prowler early last Sunday morning. He flushed a 29-year-old Negro from behind some things stored in a dark hallway. The man grappled with Purcell, got ahold of his service revolver, and shot him twice. The policeman died the next day from a kidney wound.

When Gov. McKeldin came up from Annapolis for the funeral today he brought along a formal request asking Commissioner Hepbron to restore Purcell to the rank of sergeant.

A COSTLY UMBRELLA

Under Government regulation written for another day and age, railroads are often required to maintain rates above those they could profitably offer the public.

This umbrella of protection shields owners of big trucks and barges from exposure to healthy competition. It deprives the public of the service of a carrier which could do the job better at lower cost.

The report of President Eisenhower's Cabinet Committee on transportation policy recommends discarding this costly umbrella.

Adoption of the Cabinet Committee's proposals would result in sensible, up-to-date regulation. The Committee estimates that present regulatory dislocations are costing the public* billions of dollars per year.

Annual Report of the Memorial Hospital

An open report to the People of Cumberland and Allegany County

October 13, 1955

Board of Governors,
Memorial Hospital,
Cumberland, Maryland.
Attention: WILLIAM A. GUNTER, President
CHARLES A. PIPER, Treasurer
JAMES L. WEBER, Secretary
R. FINLEY THOMPSON
STUART ROSENBAUM
MAYOR ROY EVES
WILLIAM H. LEMMERT

Gentlemen:

This page contains a summary of the work done by the hospital during the fiscal year, July 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955.

Our hospital, designed to serve the public, is dependent on the good will of the Community. It is my hope that by publishing this report, a better understanding by the Community can be grasped relative to the problems of the hospital.

Regardless of economic conditions, the health needs of the Community must be fulfilled if we are to carry out the purpose for which our hospital was dedicated.

This, I feel, has been done.

It is extremely difficult to show the life and death functions of a hospital in statistics. To attempt to show in cold print the thousands of lives that are saved each year by the facilities of the hospital is impossible. The hospital, after all, is a human creation and is operated solely for the betterment of the Community. It is not operated to make a profit on the miseries of its people, nor is it operated for the betterment of any one segment of the citizens of the Community.

The hospital is operated to care for the medical needs of all the people regardless of their race, creed or color and regardless of their financial station in life.

The statement of income, incorporated in this report will show that the hospital had an excess of income amounting to approximately $25,000. While this is a sizable figure, it represents only 2% of our budget.

The hospital, being a non-profit corporation, does not make a profit. Any excess of income is used solely for the improvement of hospital facilities enabling us to render better, safer patient care to those we are called upon to treat.

I am very happy to advise you that our cost per patient day is considerably below the national average for hospitals our size, and that our charges to patients are very much below those charged by hospitals in other localities. Despite the fact that our costs and charges are well below the average of other hospitals, it is often exceedingly difficult to properly explain this to our patients, who, at times, feel that they are being over-charged. In order to illustrate this problem and our attempt to explain our costs and charges, the following narrative could well take place.

Our Cashier was having a bad time with a husband of an out-going patient. The man's wife had been brought into the hospital for an emergency appendectomy three days before. Our bill, broken down, covered $30 for a Semi-private room for three days, $20 for the Operating room, $20 for the Anesthesia, $10 for the Laboratory work and $5 for drugs.

"This bill is terrible, I am not going to pay it," said the man at the window. "How can you expect a working man like me to pay $85 for three days of care? What we need is hospitals that are run by the Government."

This man happened to be a skilled tradesman.

He was asked first if the service his wife had received had been satisfactory. "Yes" he replied, "everything as far as her service was fine and I have no complaints."

"What would it cost the hospital" he was asked, "if you were to provide it with service over a continuous three day period?"

"Our rates are $22.80 for an eight hour day," he replied.

"What about the night rates?" he was asked.

"That would be double time, $45.40."

"So the cost for one day of constant attendance by one tradesman would be $113.60."

"That is right" agreed the husband, "and for three days it would be $340.80.

"And that is for wages alone" the cashier continued, "it doesn't include material."

"It takes more than 400 employees to run our hospital, two employees per patient around the clock to care for your wife. The hospital supplied food, linen, medications, surgical equipment, laboratory services, dressings and techniques and skills. This hospital had the responsibility for the safety of your wife, too."

There was a pause—"Do you still think your bill is too high?"

"For the first time" said the tradesman, "somebody has taken the time to explain to me in language I can understand, the charges in a hospital."

One more bit of analysis. All hospital services last year averaged a cost of less than 70c an hour which can hardly be compared with the average pay of a wage earner in this area.

Problems are always with us, and new challenges are ever over the horizon, but I feel sure that with the continued cooperation and understanding of the Board of Governors, that these problems, as have problems in the past been resolved to create a better Memorial Hospital for the people of Cumberland and Allegany County.

To make this report more easily understood, I have endeavored to show in the form of charts, how and where the hospital gets it's money and how and where it is spent.

The balance of the report follows:

ACCOMPLISHMENTS DURING THE YEAR

Probably the most important event during the past year, was the completion of the 4th west wing to the hospital. This was named in honor of Mr. Ferman G. Pugh, a benefactor of this hospital, and this addition is now known as the "Ferman G. Pugh Hall." This added 23 vitally needed beds to our facilities and will enable us to admit approximately an additional 1,000 patients per year. This project cost approximately $77,000 and was completed at no cost to the taxpayers of the City of Cumberland or Allegany County.

Physically, the hospital is in better shape than at any time since I have had the opportunity of being your Superintendent. A program of painting and repair is constantly going on.

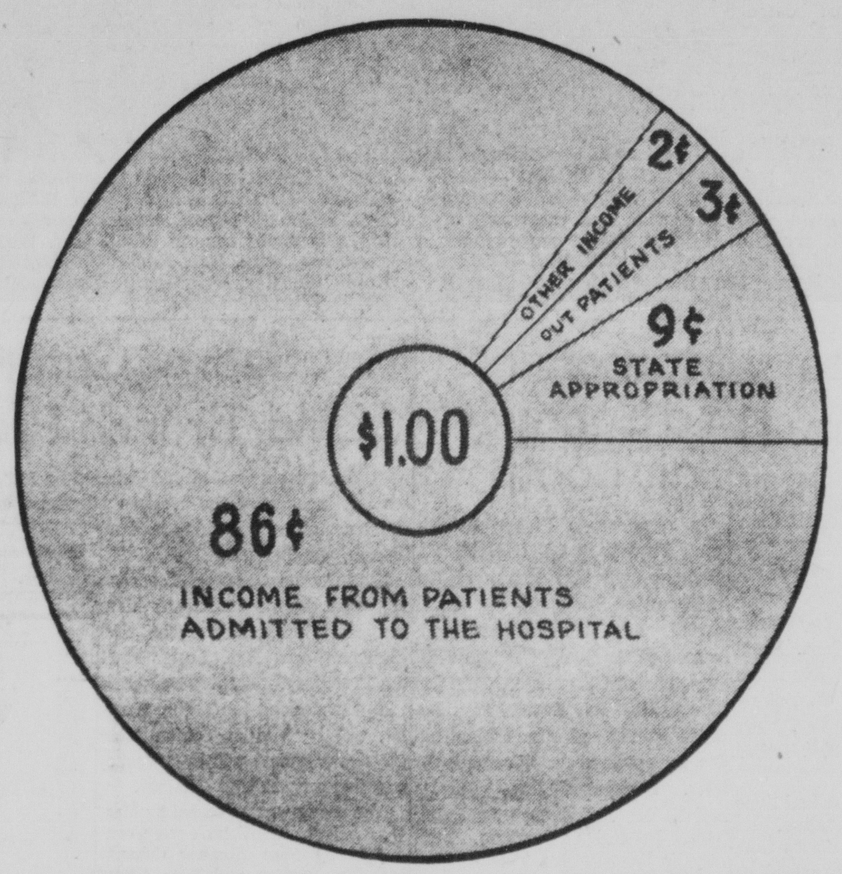

During the past year, new equipment was added to our facilities as follows: four new Oxygen Tents were purchased; a new Coffee Urn was added to the kitchen facilities; in the Physio Therapy Department, a Whirlpool Bath and Medcolator were added; a new Hydraxtor, costing $6500 was added to the laundry facilities; a new Dishwasher, costing approximately $8,000 was added to the Dietary facilities, plus innumerable small items that were replaced where necessary.

In addition, as of the date of the printing of this report, but not within the figures of our fiscal year, the hospital completed the installation of a new emergency lighting system capable of furnishing the entire electrical requirements of the hospital during a power failure. This installation is one of the best that can be found in hospitals anywhere, and assures our patients of additional safety when the public utility fails. This installation, the cost of which was met by the hospital, exceeded $20,000.

Also recently opened, was the new parking lot with a capacity of approximately 80 automobiles. This should solve the acute parking problem at the hospital.

THE HOSPITAL DOLLAR—WHERE IT CAME FROM

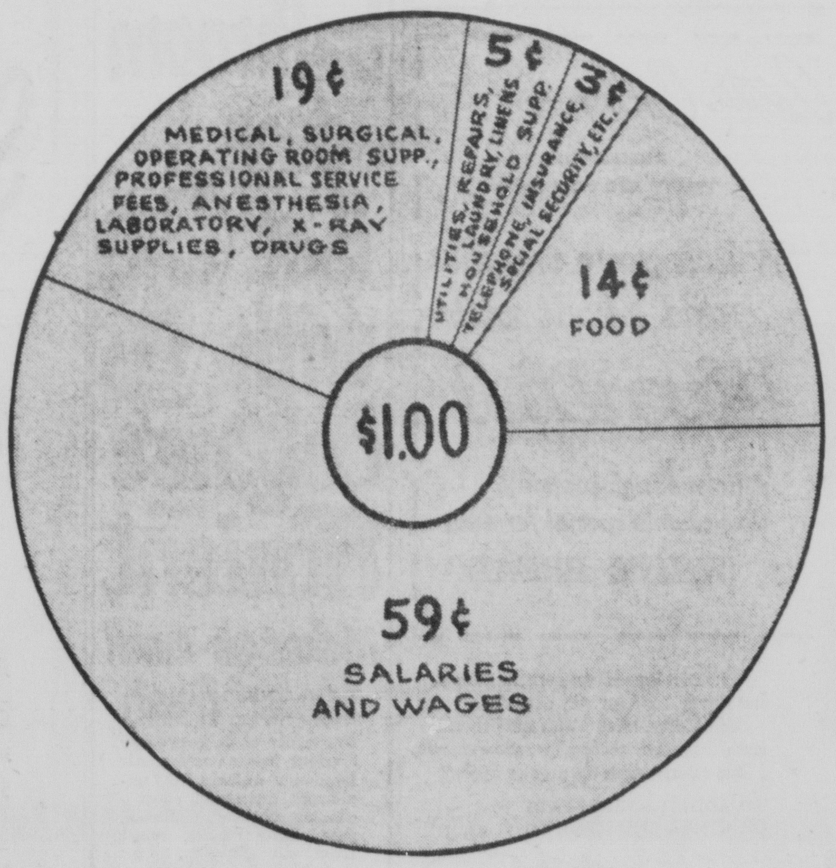

The chart in graphic form above vividly portrays the necessity of the collections of patient's accounts by the hospital, inasmuch as 89% of the hospital's income must come from the patients the hospital serves.

It can be seen that while the State appropriation is of inestimable importance to the hospital's finances, only 9% of the hospital's income is derived from this source.

THE HOSPITAL DOLLAR—HOW IT IS SPENT

The cost of hospital care cannot be compared to any other type of expense. As shown in graphic form above, 78% of the hospital dollar is spent for strictly hospital functions such as nursing care, special services and dietary services. Only 22% of the hospital expense can be compared to the expense incurred in operating any ordinary hotel.

THE HOSPITAL DOLLAR—WHERE IT GOES

Few people realize that the hospital is one of the area's larger employers and offers perhaps the greatest degree of employment stability.

Last year the hospital paid almost $700,000 in salaries to its employees. This represents approximately 60% of the hospital expense.

I acknowledge with deepest gratitude, the generosity of these thoughtful citizens. The creation of these living Memorials materially benefits everyone having occasion to use the facilities of the Memorial Hospital.

The Memorial Hospital and the Social Service Agencies of Cumberland are fortunate in having in their midst, instruments of public support such as The Cumberland News, The Cumberland Times, The Sunday Times, The Allegany Citizen, Radio Stations—WDYK, WCUM and WTBO. All of these agencies of public service generously give their resources of time and talent in furthering the public's interest and education relative to the work of the hospital and other agencies. Their assistance, cooperation, understanding and support is an item that cannot be evaluated in a balance sheet. Hence, to these services, a debt of gratitude is recorded and a sincere acknowledgment of appreciation is hereby accorded.

The members of the Memorial Hospital Sewing Club have come to the hospital almost each week since 1932. Their voluntary efforts have contributed much to the welfare of our patients and words seem insufficient to properly express our sincere gratitude.

I also appreciate the many generosities shown the hospital by the Woman's Auxiliary and the Nurse's Alumnae Association. These fine organizations have always worked hard in furthering the best interests of the hospital.

I acknowledge the generosity of the Cumberland Clergy for attending the Spiritual needs of our patients.

Too much cannot be said for the very valued assistance of the Red Cross in providing the Red Cross Blood Program. The hospital also acknowledges the generous donations of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile by our citizens and accord a debt of gratitude for their very unselfish generosity.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce donated a "Rockette" to the hospital for use in the Maternity. This equipment has already saved the lives of several new born babies. Their thoughtfulness and generosity to our patients is gratefully appreciated.

The Newcomer's Club replaced high chairs for the Children's Ward of the hospital. Their thoughtfulness and generosity is hereby acknowledged.

It is a pleasure to also acknowledge the efforts of various Civic organizations, Sunday School classes, High School students, Girl Scouts, who, from time to time, give of themselves to brighten the lives of our patients, particularly during the holiday season.

To the Medical Staff for their cooperation and cordial relations, may I express my sincere gratitude for their understanding and sympathy of management problems which arose during the year. All of the members of the hospital Medical Staff give freely of their time and professional efforts on behalf of the indigent of our Community, and receive nothing in return.

I cannot say too much for the very valued efforts of the hospital employees towards rendering a superior hospital service to the people of Cumberland and Allegany County. They are a dedicated, loyal and devoted group of people who are sincerely interested in the betterment of their fellow citizens and strive day by day to ease the pain and suffering of these individuals.

For the splendid cooperation and understanding of hospital problems by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Cumberland and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, the hospital is deeply grateful. The enlightened understanding and cooperation of these men is of inestimable importance to all the people our hospital is called upon to serve.

Finally, as Superintendent, may I accord my sincere appreciation to the Board of Governors for their cooperation, wisdom and diligence in furthering the complex work of the hospital. Every member of the Board of Governors always gives freely of his time and knowledge upon request. Each member's very valued suggestions and guidance have been indispensable in fulfilling the objectives towards which we constantly aim—namely: "Better Patient Care" and "A Good Hospital in a Good Town."

Annual Report of the Memorial Hospital

An open report to the People of Cumberland and Allegany County

October 13, 1955

Board of Governors,
Memorial Hospital,
Cumberland, Maryland.
Attention: WILLIAM A. GUNTER, President
CHARLES A. PIPER, Treasurer
JAMES L. WEBER, Secretary
R. FINLEY THOMPSON
STUART ROSENBAUM
MAYOR ROY EVES
WILLIAM H. LEMMERT

Gentlemen:

This page contains a summary of the work done by the hospital during the fiscal year, July 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955.

Our hospital, designed to serve the public, is dependent on the good will of the Community. It is my hope that by publishing this report, a better understanding by the Community can be grasped relative to the problems of the hospital.

Regardless of economic conditions, the health needs of the Community must be fulfilled if we are to carry out the purpose for which our hospital was dedicated.

This, I feel, has been done.

It is extremely difficult to show the life and death functions of a hospital in statistics. To attempt to show in cold print the thousands of lives that are saved each year by the facilities of the hospital is impossible. The hospital, after all, is a human creation and is operated solely for the betterment of the Community. It is not operated to make a profit on the miseries of its people, nor is it operated for the betterment of any one segment of the citizens of the Community.

The hospital is operated to care for the medical needs of all the people regardless of their race, creed or color and regardless of their financial station in life.

The statement of income, incorporated in this report will show that the hospital had an excess of income amounting to approximately $25,000. While this is a sizable figure, it represents only 2% of our budget.

The hospital, being a non-profit corporation, does not make a profit. Any excess of income is used solely for the improvement of hospital facilities enabling us to render better, safer patient care to those we are called upon to treat.

I am very happy to advise you that our cost per patient day is considerably below the national average for hospitals our size, and that our charges to patients are very much below those charged by hospitals in other localities. Despite the fact that our costs and charges are well below the average of other hospitals, it is often exceedingly difficult to properly explain this to our patients, who, at times, feel that they are being over-charged. In order to illustrate this problem and our attempt to explain our costs and charges, the following narrative could well take place.

Our Cashier was having a bad time with a husband of an out-going patient. The man's wife had been brought into the hospital for an emergency appendectomy three days before. Our bill, broken down, covered $30 for a Semi-private room for three days, $20 for the Operating room, $20 for the Anesthesia, $10 for the Laboratory work and $5 for drugs.

"This bill is terrible, I am not going to pay it," said the man at the window. "How can you expect a working man like me to pay $85 for three days of care? What we need is hospitals that are run by the Government."

This man happened to be a skilled tradesman.

He was asked first if the service his wife had received had been satisfactory. "Yes" he replied, "everything as far as her service was fine and I have no complaints."

"What would it cost the hospital" he was asked, "if you were to provide it with service over a continuous three day period?"

"Our rates are $22.80 for an eight hour day," he replied.

"What about the night rates?" he was asked.

"That would be double time, $45.40."

"So the cost for one day of constant attendance by one tradesman would be $113.60."

"That is right" agreed the husband, "and for three days it would be $340.80.

"And that is for wages alone" the cashier continued, "it doesn't include material."

"It takes more than 400 employees to run our hospital, two employees per patient around the clock to care for your wife. The hospital supplied food, linen, medications, surgical equipment, laboratory services, dressings and techniques and skills. This hospital had the responsibility for the safety of your wife, too."

There was a pause—"Do you still think your bill is too high?"

"For the first time" said the tradesman, "somebody has taken the time to explain to me in language I can understand, the charges in a hospital."

One more bit of analysis. All hospital services last year averaged a cost of less than 70c an hour which can hardly be compared with the average pay of a wage earner in this area.

Problems are always with us, and new challenges are ever over the horizon, but I feel sure that with the continued cooperation and understanding of the Board of Governors, that these problems, as have problems in the past been resolved to create a better Memorial Hospital for the people of Cumberland and Allegany County.

To make this report more easily understood, I have endeavored to show in the form of charts, how and where the hospital gets it's money and how and where it is spent.

The balance of the report follows:

ACCOMPLISHMENTS DURING THE YEAR

Probably the most important event during the past year, was the completion of the 4th west wing to the hospital. This was named in honor of Mr. Ferman G. Pugh, a benefactor of this hospital, and this addition is now known as the "Ferman G. Pugh Hall." This added 23 vitally needed beds to our facilities and will enable us to admit approximately an additional 1,000 patients per year. This project cost approximately $77,000 and was completed at no cost to the taxpayers of the City of Cumberland or Allegany County.

Physically, the hospital is in better shape than at any time since I have had the opportunity of being your Superintendent. A program of painting and repair is constantly going on.

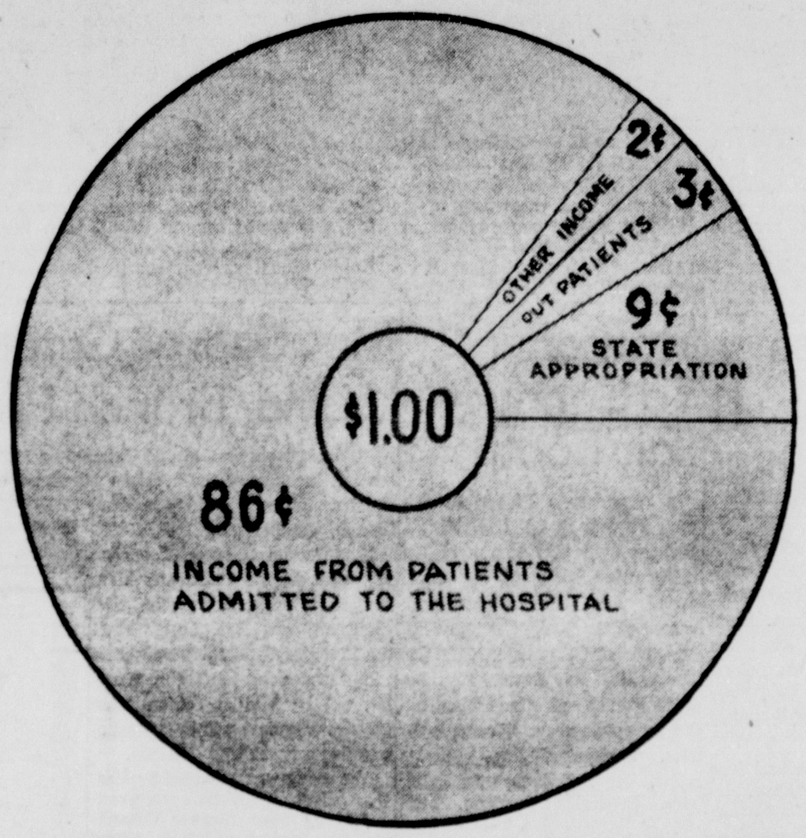

During the past year, new equipment was added to our facilities as follows: four new Oxygen Tents were purchased; a new Coffee Urn was added to the kitchen facilities; in the Physio Therapy Department, a Whirlpool Bath and Medcolator were added; a new Hydraxtor, costing $6500 was added to the laundry facilities; a new Dishwasher, costing approximately $8,000 was added to the Dietary facilities, plus innumerable small items that were replaced where necessary.

In addition, as of the date of the printing of this report, but not within the figures of our fiscal year, the hospital completed the installation of a new emergency lighting system capable of furnishing the entire electrical requirements of the hospital during a power failure. This installation is one of the best that can be found in hospitals anywhere, and assures our patients of additional safety when the public utility fails. This installation, the cost of which was met by the hospital, exceeded $20,000.

Also recently opened, was the new parking lot with a capacity of approximately 80 automobiles. This should solve the acute parking problem at the hospital.

Conference Committees Named; Study To Be Jan. 11

Mountain Conference committee appointments for the year were announced by Mrs. John Miller, and reports were given at the fall rally of the conference Tuesday. It was held in St. Paul's Church, Cumberland.

The nominating committee members are Mrs. Carl Fresh from St. Paul's Church, Frostburg; Mrs. Woodrow Grimes, St. Luke's; Mrs. Robert Giesman, St. John's and Mrs. Harry Northcraft, St. Paul's, Cumberland. The minutes committee is composed of Mrs. Harry Utterback, St. Paul's, city; and Mrs. Frankland Sines, St. Luke's; and the auditing, Mrs. Carl Reuschel, St. John's, and Mrs. Robert Bane, St. Paul's, city.

Reporting on the Maryland Synodical last week in Washington, Mrs. Ralph Taylor said the United Lutheran Church Women was selected for the name instead of the Women's Missionary Societies. She outlined the recommendations pertaining to doing away with the departments and having four committees, membership, christian service, for special aids; education, mission study and programs; and offering, including the penny and prayer a day and the monthly offering. The recommendations are to be adopted by the Synod at the fall conference.

The group discussed the fourth annual mission study book date and set January 11 for it. It will be at St. Luke's Church, starting at 4 p. m. Each person is to bring a box lunch. The theme for the day is "The Christian Mission in a Revolutionary World," based on the book, "This Revolutionary Faith," by Floyd Shacklock. Mrs. Clarence DeHaven will be in charge. Other books to be used are "Mission Unlimited," by Franklin Mack, "Hope Rises from the Lord," Ralph Felton; and "They Reach for Life," John E. Spoglund.

Reports on the national triennial convention in Cleveland, were given in the form of a panel with Mrs. Lee Fresh, St. Luke's, as monitor; and Mrs. Merle Shumaker, St. John's; Mrs. Miller, St. Luke's, and Mrs. George Alexander, St. John's participating. They said that for the next three years all societies will put emphasis on stewardship. Mrs. Utterback and Mrs. Jack Treiber, speaking on Patron and Protege, and Special Aids, respectively, said that although their departments will be disbanded in the new program, the work will continue. Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie sang an Indian hymn in English, taught at the triennial.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Shumaker, who offered prayer and spoke on the theme "Turmoil of Our Wild Restless Sea." The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and missionary benediction.

The spring conference will be held at St. Paul's, city, in April. An executive meeting will be January 24, when the conference will be planned and the presidents of each society will be invited with the officers and department secretaries.

Navy Mothers Club will meet at 7:30 tomorrow at the Legion Home. A Halloween party will follow the business session.

Conference Committees Named; Study To Be Jan. 11

Mountain Conference committee appointments for the year were announced by Mrs. John Miller, and reports were given at the fall rally of the conference Tuesday. It was held in St. Paul's Church, Cumberland.

The nominating committee members are Mrs. Carl Fresh from St. Paul's Church, Frostburg; Mrs. Woodrow Grimes, St. Luke's; Mrs. Robert Giesman, St. John's and Mrs. Harry Northcraft, St. Paul's, Cumberland. The minutes committee is composed of Mrs. Harry Utterback, St. Paul's, city; and Mrs. Frankland Sines, St. Luke's; and the auditing, Mrs. Carl Reuschel, St. John's, and Mrs. Robert Bane, St. Paul's, city.

Reporting on the Maryland Synodical last week in Washington, Mrs. Ralph Taylor said the United Lutheran Church Women was selected for the name instead of the Women's Missionary Societies. She outlined the recommendations pertaining to doing away with the departments and having four committees, membership, christian service, for special aids; education, mission study and programs; and offering, including the penny and prayer a day and the monthly offering. The recommendations are to be adopted by the Synod at the fall conference.

The group discussed the fourth annual mission study book date and set January 11 for it. It will be at St. Luke's Church, starting at 4 p. m. Each person is to bring a box lunch. The theme for the day is "The Christian Mission in a Revolutionary World," based on the book, "This Revolutionary Faith," by Floyd Shacklock. Mrs. Clarence DeHaven will be in charge. Other books to be used are "Mission Unlimited," by Franklin Mack, "Hope Rises from the Lord," Ralph Felton; and "They Reach for Life," John E. Spoglund.

Reports on the national triennial convention in Cleveland, were given in the form of a panel with Mrs. Lee Fresh, St. Luke's, as monitor; and Mrs. Merle Shumaker, St. John's; Mrs. Miller, St. Luke's, and Mrs. George Alexander, St. John's participating. They said that for the next three years all societies will put emphasis on stewardship. Mrs. Utterback and Mrs. Jack Treiber, speaking on Patron and Protege, and Special Aids, respectively, said that although their departments will be disbanded in the new program, the work will continue. Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie sang an Indian hymn in English, taught at the triennial.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Shumaker, who offered prayer and spoke on the theme "Turmoil of Our Wild Restless Sea." The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and missionary benediction.

The spring conference will be held at St. Paul's, city, in April. An executive meeting will be January 24, when the conference will be planned and the presidents of each society will be invited with the officers and department secretaries.

Navy Mothers Club will meet at 7:30 tomorrow at the Legion Home. A Halloween party will follow the business session.

Sponsors for the fair card party will be club officers, Mrs. Mullen, Mrs. Lawrence Hymes, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Edward Mattingly.

Mrs. Mullan presided and plans were completed for the club to make candy for Christmas orders. Mrs. Stegmaier, Mrs. William Brehm, Mrs. Frederick Granziano and Mrs. Clarence Englebach are in charge. Mrs. George Griffin and Mrs. Davis were named third grade class mothers. A bake sale will be held November 7 by the first grade with Mrs. Ray Everly and Mrs. LaGratta in charge. Father Landrigan led in prayer and the seventh grade had the largest attendance. Mrs. Edward Melvin won the prize for the evening. Card party winners were Mrs. Alfred Fairall, a bedspread; Mrs. Joseph Griffin, a ham; and Mrs. A. J. Grabenstein, an umbrella. A white elephant sale was held by the seventh grade mothers.

A demonstration of the voting machine will be given by William Wilson at the meeting November 10. Mrs. Michael McDade and Mrs. William Staarman and sixth grade mothers will be in charge.

Mrs. George Gardner Heads W.Md. Branch Presbyterial

Officers were elected and installed by Mrs. Frances Richardson at the fall meeting of the Western Maryland Branch of the Baltimore Presbyterial, held Tuesday in First Church, Cumberland.

Mrs. George Gardner, Lonaconing, was elected chairman; Mrs. Francis Trimble, Barrelville, vice chairman; and Mrs. Lester Martin, Frostburg, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided the spring meeting will be held at Southminster Church. The date will be announced when a speaker is obtained.

A greeting was extended by Mrs. W. A. Britt. Devotionals were conducted by Miss Eleanor Culbertson, Lonaconing, and Mrs. Albert Heacox, First Church, sang "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled." Reports of each society were given by Mrs. Gardner for Lonaconing; Mrs. Frederick Crowe, Frostburg; Mrs. Ellen Wilson, Barton; Mrs. Britt, First; Mrs. Lloyd Fleegle, Southminster; and Mrs. Trimble, Barrelville. Mrs. Richardson gave the report on the Baltimore Presbyterial.

Mrs. Alice Wheeler, president of the Baltimore Presbyterial, was the speaker following a luncheon served by the Eisenberger-Brannegan Circle. Mrs. Wheeler, who stopped at the Indian missions on her return trip from the West Coast last summer, told of the mission stations and illustrated her talk with slides. She pointed out that the Indians are being trained to work among their own people. She also visited the special Presbyterian Cook Christian Training School, which specializes in Bible study. The speaker also distributed literature on the program for the year, "Indian Americans."

An offering was taken for the contingent fund to send speakers and literature to different places. Approximately 92 members attended.

You can improve the sweater curve.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Why Not Improve Your Figure?

To make your bustline lovelier, higher, and firmer, try this exercise—press the tips of the fingers and thumbs of the hands together and stretch the arms out in front with elbows slightly bent. But, don't let your knuckles bend. Press the fingers together firmly . . . then relax. Start out with 25 times in the morning and work up to 50, at least. Repeat at night. You will feel the pull in your chest muscles.

For curvier curves stand erect with arms raised to shoulder level and elbows bent so that hands are chin level. Now press the fist of the right hand as hard as possible in the palm of the left, and make the left put up as much resistance as possible. Reverse and repeat. Do this exercise at least ten times a day, and at the same time each day.

Sit with arms raised forward at shoulder level, elbows straight and palms down. Now pretend that there are two very heavy books in front of your hands (no real ones, please!). Very slowly, keeping elbows at shoulder level, pull "books" toward chest until the fists touch it. Now relax. Repeat 20 to 30 times. Finally work up to 40 times. Try for a slower and slower pace; aim for more and more muscular tension in the arms and chest. Be patient—it is very tiring, although it may sound easy.

Don't give up, because developing the bustline requires quite a bit of time. It will take at least six weeks of steady exercising before you will notice any change. Don't weaken, and development will be yours.

Tomorrow—Fashion can add or subtract years.

DO YOU MEASURE UP?

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

The station wagon is for transporting children to the special class at LaVale School which is being established by the Board of Education.

Rules and regulations on care and use of the vehicle will be decided, Mrs. Long said.

Additional contributions made to the station wagon fund have brought the total of $466.75 with the remainder of the purchase price to come from the group's treasury. New donors include Mrs. Orin Maxwell, $10; Howard Nesbitt, $5; a friend, $10; R.A.M. Lodge 212, $10; Penn Mar Motors, $5.04; and Emerick Service Station, $5.21. The last two donations represent earnings from Cumberland Canteen Service.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Why Not Improve Your Figure?

To make your bustline lovelier, higher, and firmer, try this exercise—press the tips of the fingers and thumbs of the hands together and stretch the arms out in front with elbows slightly bent. But, don't let your knuckles bend. Press the fingers together firmly . . . then relax. Start out with 25 times in the morning and work up to 50, at least. Repeat at night. You will feel the pull in your chest muscles.

For curvier curves stand erect with arms raised to shoulder level and elbows bent so that hands are chin level. Now press the fist of the right hand as hard as possible in the palm of the left, and make the left put up as much resistance as possible. Reverse and repeat. Do this exercise at least ten times a day, and at the same time each day.

Sit with arms raised forward at shoulder level, elbows straight and palms down. Now pretend that there are two very heavy books in front of your hands (no real ones, please!). Very slowly, keeping elbows at shoulder level, pull "books" toward chest until the fists touch it. Now relax. Repeat 20 to 30 times. Finally work up to 40 times. Try for a slower and slower pace; aim for more and more muscular tension in the arms and chest. Be patient—it is very tiring, although it may sound easy.

Don't give up, because developing the bustline requires quite a bit of time. It will take at least six weeks of steady exercising before you will notice any change. Don't weaken, and development will be yours.

Tomorrow—Fashion can add or subtract years.

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (INS) — If the Phil Silvers show isn't the best new show on television, I'll eat its kinescopes without ketchup. It's so good that it practically overcomes the canned laughter on its sound-track.

This long-neglected master of situation comedy has found his perfect vehicle in "You'll Never Get Rich," which CBS is illuminating each Tuesday night at the tough hour of 8:30 p. m. (EDT). Phil plays the part of Sgt. Bilko, a would-be scoundrel cursed with the heart of a mushmelon. But for that unlucky soft spot, and a vigilant chaplain, Bilko would be the richest man in the Army.

If anybody had told you that Phil would finally get his TV break in a situation piece about the peace-time Army you'd have laughed, but only in derision. Yet the man is so good, the writing so excellent, the direction so swift and true, the show became an immediate click.

It has all the warmth and cleanliness of an animated "Beetle Bailey," one of the best comic strips in years. . . So good, in fact, that it was barred by the brass which commands the "Pacific Stars and Stripes."

Phil is the kind of comedian who recognizes the right of other human beings to live. The other day, he gave a little party for Walter Cartier, the welterweight fighter who has turned actor, and had some sportswriters as guests at Shor's. He made Cartier the star of the occasion.

Cartier played the part of a flower-fancier with the wallop of a Marciano on Phil's show Tuesday night. He looks a little like Billy Conn looked as a kid but acts as if he had been at the business for years.

The fighter played Pvt. Claude Dillingham, a member of Bilko's platoon. There's a camp boxing show afoot and Bilko's only fighter is a hilarious powder puncher who took boxing lessons from a mail school and got trombone lessons by mistake. Dillingham appears on the scene, numb with grief because the Pentagon had turned down his appeal to build window flower boxes for the barracks at Fort Baxter, but by accident plattens Bilko's fighter with one punch.

Bilko's venal dreams of using Dillingham instead of the awful one, and cleaning up on bets, are in time frustrated in a howling manner. Good stuff.

Rocky Graziano, the reformed hood, was on hand at the Silver's party to explain how his quiet-spoken friend, Cartier, got into the acting business. Seems that after Nat Hiken coaxed Rocky to try his hand as Martha Raye's TV sparring partner, and Rocky made good, the former middleweight champion still frequently patronized Stillman's Gym between rehearsals to bat the breeze with old friends. He'd pick up Cartier and take him back to the studio to watch the rehearsals. And after Cartier lost to Kid Gavilan and seemed to be headed for the long decline, Rocky urged him to get into the other business with both feet.

Rocky paid tribute to Hiken for his own redemption. "I can't tell you how nice it is to be nice," he said.

Hiken put Cartier next to Silvers when the show was being put together and they work like a charm.

"I don't say every fighter can act, because they can't," Phil says of the species. "But they've got part of it made. They've taken instructions their whole lives. . . jab like this, stand like that, move like this. Acting is a lot like that and they take to it like ducks to water."

Cartier said a few words. For all his 60 fights he looks like a applicant for the priesthood. And speaks like one, in contrast to the robust language of his friend Rocky, who, when told by Hiken that his job with Martha Raye involved learning a script bawled, "Are you nuts? I can't needer read or write!" At the Silvers' luncheon, Cartier blushed when called on and said only this:

"It's a small day for you gentlemen, but a great day for me."

Sanitation Unit Issues Report

A summary of work on sanitation by personnel of the Allegany County Health Department for September has been issued by J. Byron Dowling, chief sanitarian for the department here.

Dowling said the department handled 462 complaints and made 431 field trips during the month. An arrangement has been completed with the mayor and council of Westernport for the installation of 1,500 feet of 48-inch sewer line to correct a sewage problem, Doling said. He also reported that a sewage system for the new school at Westernport is proceeding.

Field trips were made as follows to check sanitation situations: Sewage, 82 trips; water, 12; nuisance, 92; garbage, 13; food establishments, 126; foster homes, 1; nursing homes, 1; hospitals, 1; dairy farms, 88; milk plants, 5; dump signs, 3; quarantining dogs, 3; house repairs and dug wells, 3.

The sanitation unit held 61 conferences, and one public lecture was given.

Samples collected for analysis included 36 water samples, 407 of milk and 30 swab tests.

During the month a total of 41 septic tanks were installed in areas where there is no regular sewage disposal system. A total of 48 milk licenses were issued.

Russian Takes Pentathlon Title At Switzerland

MACOLIN, Switzerland, Oct. 26 (AP)—Konstantin Saljnikov, versatile, 27-year-old Russian titleholder, today finished sixth in the cross country run and won the World Modern Pentathlon Championship. Hungary captured the team title.

The United States took fifth place in the team championship. William Andre, a Navy lieutenant from Montclair, N. J., topped Uncle Sam's three-man entry with his 10th place finish in the gruelling, five-event competition. Army Private George Lambert of Sioux City, Iowa, came in third in today's 2½ mile run and 12th in the standings. Army Lieutenant Edgar O'Hair of San Antonio, Tex., wound up 18th.

Saljnikov who neither smokes nor drinks, didn't win a single event but he was high up in all five sports. He placed third in both the ridi g and shooting, 10th in swimming, and tied for 11th in fencing.

His time of 14:52 for the mountainous course today earned him 1,024 points and a total of 4,453.5 points. Finland's Olavi Mannonen was the individual runnerup with 4,305.5 points. He collected 1,030 points in the run with his fifth place finish in 14:50.

Bertil Haase, a lanky Swede, captured the run in 14:28 seconds for 1,096 points and fourth place with 4,231 points.

Andre was eighth in the run in 14:55, earning 1,015 points, had a five-event total of 3,874.5.

Russia led the countries in cross country with 3,048 points with the United States second in 2,961.

Bank Cashier Pleads Guilty

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—George Dewey Rice, former cashier of the Citizens National Bank at Berkeley Springs, has pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court here to four counts of embezzlement.

It was learned belatedly today that the banker appeared before Judge Herbert S. Boreman on Sept. 28 and entered his plea to an information filed by the district attorney. The judge took time to consider the plea and Rice was released on $1,000 bail.

Federal Court records showed that Rice was accused of making false entries in bank records in the aggregate sum of $2,316. Two of the accounts involved sums of $20 each; a third was for $307, and the fourth count named an amount of $1,969.

Records showed that Rice waived presenting the case to the grand jury for possible indictment and elected to plead to the information.

The October issue of The Banker, a publication of the West Virginia Bankers Assn., reported the appointment of Burton English, formerly assistant cashier of the Bank of Mill Creek, as cashier of Citizens National at Berkeley Springs. The announcement did not say whom English succeeded in his new post.

Travel By Air Gets Faster And Faster

World travelers—the busy ones and those not so busy but who just want to get where they are going in a hurry—will soon zoom about the globe at dizzier speeds. Paris and London, already only overnight plane trips from New York, in a few years will be only six hours away.

This speedier era of air travel will begin after December 1958. That is when delivery of a fleet of 45 American-built transport planes ordered by Pan American Airways will start. The entire fleet, to cost $269 million, will be delivered in the following three years.

Other airlines are feverishly negotiating contracts to acquire similar craft. The new jets will be capable of carrying more than 100 passengers and will have cruising speeds of 575 miles an hour.

Pan American will be able to cut scheduled times in its flights in 74 nations almost in half when this fleet takes the air. The Pacific, over which planes out of San Francisco now travel to Tokyo in 25 hours, will then be crossed in 12 hours. The longest non-stop flight planned for the new fleet will be a 5,415-mile New York-Buenos Aires trip requiring only 15 hours.

There are no jet airliners in service today. Britain's attempt to take the lead in the field three years ago ended in grief after two disasters to its de Havilland Comet I.

Pan American's step was linked closely to national defense. In Washington the fleet was called "a welcome addition to our reserve" and a factor in maintaining the qualitative superiority of the U. S. Air Force.

The planes would be as speedy in war as in peace.

Negative Voting

Duane Kellogg of Stratford, Conn., has come up with an idea which he calls "negative voting." As I understand his concept, the citizens could vote against a candidate without voting for anyone. Maybe, it is more intricate than that, but I have not given it too much thought because my own concept is different.

I regard voting as a privilege, not an obligation. When I have no one to vote for, I do not vote. I believe in political parties and in the functioning of the two-party system in this country. It has not been my experience over 50 years of observation that the non-party politician, the so-called independent, is worth very much, under our system, when he, by some accident, is elected to public office. The most recent manifestation of this non-partisan, bi-partisan, any or no party personality are the members of the ADA who seem to me to be mostly opportunists.

In the present campaign we see some extremely interesting characteristics of our system:

As long as President Eisenhower is sick, most professional Republicans favor Richard Nixon as his successor. This is inevitable because Nixon could, at any moment, become President by constitutional processes. Should President Eisenhower return to the White House and make no declaration as to the future, the Republicans will become confused as to what they should do. They will all switch to Eisenhower on the assumption that if he runs again, they had better not be caught flirting with anyone else. At the same time, they will be making deals as to what they might do, should he decide not to run in 1956. No professional dares be caught without some affiliation.

As it stands now, the woods are full of candidates for president and vice president. Some are absurd; they could not make the grade under any circumstances. Many are favorite sons who will receive a complimentary vote on the first ballot. Some are being dragged out by special interests to detract attention or votes from a popular candidate. As a practical proposition, only three or four have any chance of being taken seriously.

No Republican can surely be a candidate for the presidency as long as there is any chance at all of President Eisenhower running for another term.

The Democrats are having their troubles too. The opposition to Adlai Stevenson is growing. The professionals intend to cut his throat. The independents mean nothing in any pre-convention maneuvers because what counts are delegates and they are all professionals. The professionals do not want an ADA administration camouflaged as a Democratic administration.

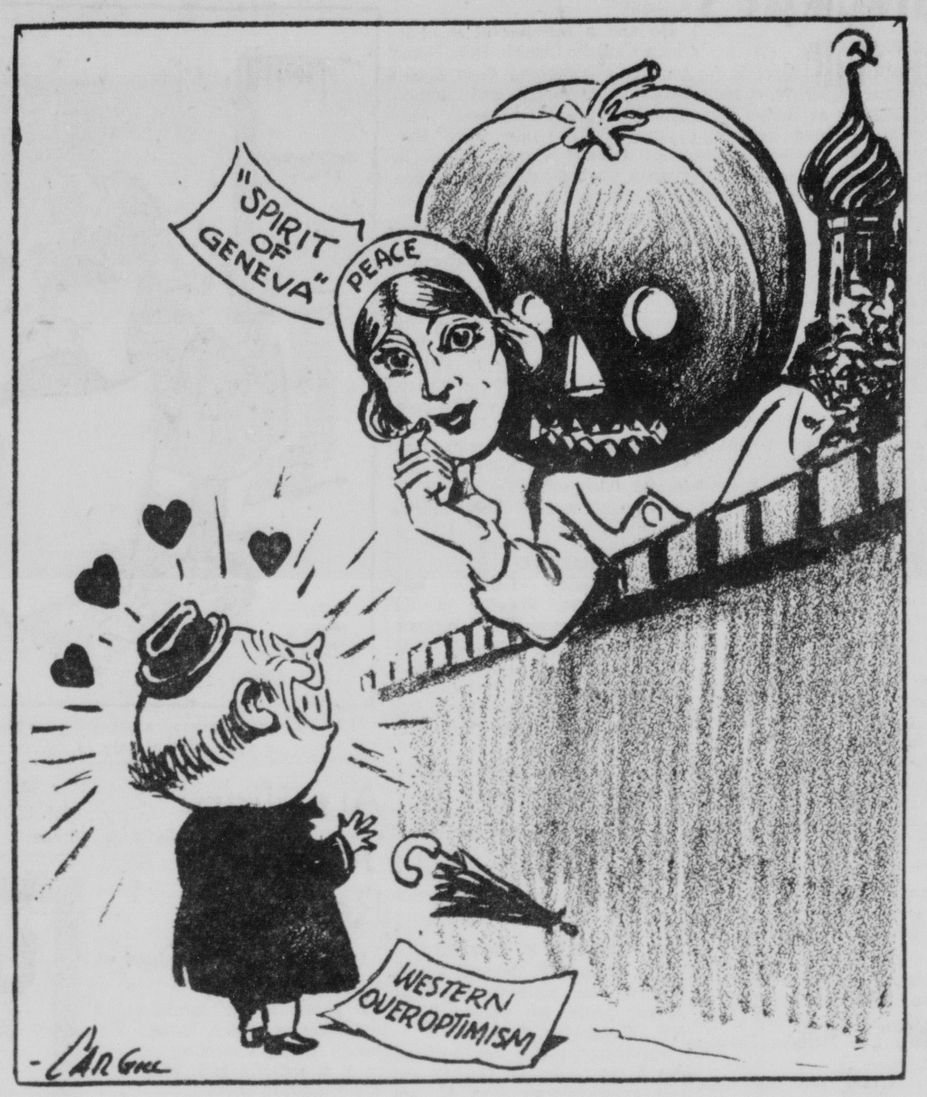

The chief opponents of Adlai Stevenson are Averell Harriman and Estes Kefauver. The silent candidate is Governor Frank Lausche of Ohio. Each has a good chance, in fact, a better chance than Stevenson, because the professional Democrats do not want Stevenson. The movement for Lausche is voluntary and represents a strong desire for a more conservative candidate. Harriman's hopes are not even slightly affected by the dissent of Senator Herbert Lehman who, while respected in the Senate, does not cut much political ice. He is regarded as emotionally unstable in his attitudes toward other men, probably because nearly everybody is so much his junior that he remembers them when they were boys.

Besides, Lehman knows that the professionals in his party want him to retire to make room for Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York who would like to have his late father's seat in the United States Senate. Lehman will not quit even if he lives to be 120 years old and therefore the professionals regard him as an obstacle. It would make them happy if he were put into the cabinet or sent out as an ambassador, anything to remove him as a political bottleneck in New York State.

So politics is still exciting and the voter still develops passions, particularly over his heroes. Those of us who are not given to hero worship can refrain from voting or even registering in a year when there is no one to vote for. For instance, in my town the 1955 election is not worth bothering about, so I did not register. If there were a system of permanent registration, it might have been attractive to go to the polls, if it did not rain that day. As how to vote—who can say?

Dulles Is 'Hopeful But Pessimistic' About Foreign Ministers' Meeting

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The degree of optimism or pessimism that Secretary of State Dulles has for the Foreign Ministers conference opening in Geneva today can best be gauged by the private conference he had with congressional leaders just before he left Washington.

Though a statement of confidence was issued by congressional leaders after the Dulles closed-door talk, most of what the secretary of state reported has not leaked out.

Dulles took up most of the time, speaking slowly and precisely, with U.S. Ambassador "Chip" Bohlen sitting in his shadow. Senators got in only a few questions edgewise, and Bohlen, who has been here on consultation from Moscow, kept mum except for answering one or two inconsequential questions addressed specifically to him.

Dulles opened with a report that President Eisenhower was keenly alert, both physically and mentally. Ike not only had approved Dulles' approach to the Geneva meeting but had instructed him to make a personal plea to congressional leaders for their bipartisan support, Dulles said.

The secretary took a hopeful but pessimistic view of the Geneva prospects. He feared, he said, that the conference might get hung up on the first item on the agenda, German unification. His hope was to keep the "Geneva spirit" alive and arrange another meeting—at which a more favorable agenda might be drawn up.

New Jersey's Sen. Alex Smith, the ex-Princeton professor, asked whether there was any chance of agreement on Germany. Dulles replied that he was afraid Molotov would demand East Germany be represented before even discussing the problem. Molotov, he said would use the argument that we had demanded Chiang Kai-shek sit in on any discussion of Formosa.

Dulles Ducks Far East

On the ticklish question of the Middle East, Dulles said the State Department was discussing the possibility of asking Russia to guarantee the status quo in that area. He planned to take this up with the French and British before the Geneva conference. If they got together on this proposal, he then planned to broach the idea to Molotov in private discussions.

Here again, Dulles appealed for bipartisan Senate support.

"We must keep the Israeli-Egyptian issue out of politics," he said in a rather condescending manner. His tone brought a smile to the faces of some Democrats.

Dulles promised that after his briefing on the Geneva prospects and the Middle East outlook, he would discuss the Far East. But after he had rambled on without mentioning the Far East, GOP Congressman John Taber of New York interrupted:

"Mr. Secretary, I suggest that now would be a good time to hear about the Far East."

Dulles acknowledged the question, but got off on another subject. After a few minutes of more rambling, Taber broke in again:

"Mr. Secretary, I suggest we get on to the Far East."

Again Dulles prepared to talk about the Far East, but again he got off on another subject. Finally Taber stood up and blurted:

"Mr. Secretary, you'll have to excuse me. I've got to catch a train."

He walked out.

Dulles never did get to his promised briefing on the Far East, except to answer a question from GOP Senator Bridges of New Hampshire who wanted to know whether the Far East would be discussed at all at Geneva. Dulles replied that he would not allow the Far East to be raised at the meeting.

No. 2 Junketeer

Like most accounts of congressmen who get caught using up the taxpayers money on unwarranted junkets abroad, this is almost certain to be denied. However, Congressman W. R. Poage of Texas is chalking up quite a record for himself as the nation's No. 2 junketeer. His rank close behind Senator Chavez of New Mexico seems assured.

Right after Congress adjourned Congressman Poage went to the Inter-Parliamentary Union in Helsinki, Finland. This trip was justifiable. While in Helsinki he tried to visit Russia which also was justifiable, since it's important for any congressman to try to find out what goes on behind the iron curtain. Poage, however, was turned down because he had blasted the Russians in a speech at Helsinki.

Upon returning to Washington, however, Poage had itchy feet. He immediately began trying to promote another trip—this time to South America as chairman of a subcommittee on agriculture.

To this end he called up the Air Force and asked for a special airplane to fly around South America. At first this was denied. The Air Force has had its planes tied up all over the world, and transport planes which carry passengers are short.

However, the congressman then appealed to Assistant Secretary of Defense Robert Ross, whose job is to keep Congress happy. He finally overruled his subordinates and ordered a free plane for Poage's subcommittee.

The Air Force is supposed to get it money back from the committees of Congress to pay for these trips, but Poage's idea was to take the money out of counterpart funds—that is, foreign currency held by the United States—so it wouldn't be charged against the committee's budget.

Poage next demanded that the wives of congressmen be permitted to go along. Again the Defense Department turned him down. Again, he appealed to Assistant Secretary Ross, and made such a nuisance of himself, that Ross finally gave his OK.

According to the House Agriculture Committee, the congressmen in addition to Poage taking this trip are: Abernethy of Mississippi and Jones of Missouri, Democrats; Hoeven of Iowa, Harvey of Indiana, and Lovre of South Dakota, Republicans.

Hiss Enters Controversy Over Yalta Conference

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Now Alger Hiss enters the controversy about the Yalta conference in an effort to get the Democrats off the hook they have been on since 1945 because of the sellout of Poland and Nationalist China. Maybe his views will be debated in the 1956 political campaign, for, in an article he has just written, he doesn't hesitate to make a derogatory reference to the 1952 Republican platform plank on Yalta.

Hiss, who was a member of the U. S. delegation at Yalta, seems to have lost none of his brazenness during his long absence from public life. He declares that it was Soviet Russia that made the "concessions" at Yalta and that almost everybody sang the praises of the Yalta agreement at the time it was made.

Writing in the current issue of The Pocket Book Magazine, Hiss says in part:

Minimizes Dissents

"Cleaned of the smudge of epithets, the Yalta story is that unwarranted and large-scale concessions were made to the Russians which resulted in Soviet leadership in Eastern Europe and the accession of the Communists to power in China. The facts are quite otherwise. . .

"It was the British and the Americans who made all the requests for military and political decisions. These requests had received careful study. Our delegation and the British had a preconference rendezvous at Malta for the express purpose of ensuring unity in our positions—hardly a mark of openhanded largesse toward the Russians.

"In the very nature of things, therefore, the Russians, recipients of numerous Anglo-American proposals, made what 'concessions' there were."

Hiss writes that "a nearly unanimous hymn of praise was the original response to the agreements reached at Yalta." He concedes, to be sure, that there were dissents such as those by the leaders of the Polish-American Association. But he minimizes them, despite the worldwide sympathy expressed when the Polish government in exile in London poured out its indignation. Likewise, Hiss mentions the Chicago Tribune and Scripps-Howard newspapers as in opposition at the time, but he says they were not "symbolic of large-scale inarticulate resentment." He forgets that the chief criticism of what was to happen at Yalta came before the conference and he overlooks the fact that the New York Times on December 19, 1944 — nearly two months before Yalta—denounced the proposals to sell out Poland even before they became official.

Finds Widespread Dissent

Also, the late William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, publicly protested on December 16, 1944, against the proposed partition of Poland. There was, to be sure, a disposition among many observers after the Yalta conference to hope that Russia would be reasonable and fair and, since it was in the middle of the war, the temptation was strong not to criticize an ally but to wish for the best.

This writer, who recently reviewed the dispatches after Yalta, finds, however, that the dissent was rather widespread, including a vehement denunciation by the Vatican because of the sellout of Poland. Likewise, in U. S. News & World Report appeared several articles reporting dissatisfaction from various parts of the world about the results of the Yalta conference and two editorials by this writer immediately after the Yalta conference criticizing the decision in unequivocal terms. Even the New Republic on February 19, 1945—a week after the conference—said that "on the whole, the results at Yalta represent a substantial victory for Stalin." Hiss, however, see everything as having been rosy at that time. He writes:

"General Marshall beamed as he waited for the car that took him from Yalta, saying with evident satisfaction that, though as chief of staff he was much too busy to be attending conferences, for what we had obtained he would have been willing to remain for months."

Perhaps the most significant quotation Hiss uses is from the book by the late Edward Stettinius—a book which, curiously enough, contains many favorable references to Hiss. These may or may not have been the result of influence upon the author by those who helped him, as he speaks of having "discussed this manuscript with a number of individuals who were active in various aspects of the conference." Anyway, Hiss quotes Stettinius—with whom he worked closely at Yalta—as saying the Yalta conference "shows clearly that the Soviet Union made greater concessions . . . than were made to them." Hiss continues:

Hiss Calls It Myth

"The myth has it that Poland was 'given away.' The Red army had driven the Nazis from Poland and had occupied it as thoroughly as we were to complete our occupation of the Philippines a few weeks later. We could no more 'give' Poland to the Russians than they could 'give' the Philippines to us. We and the British did seek a Western form of government for Poland. In this we succeeded only partially and later those partial successes were wiped out as the cold war liquidated these and other East-West compromises."

But Hiss forgets that the Atlantic Charter, signed by Russia, pledged all the signatories to "a desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned."

There were observers and writers then, of course, who ignored the potential strength of moral force in the world and looked at the situation solely from the viewpoint that "might makes right." But the lack of moral stamina exhibited by the Western leaders at Yalta has plagued their records ever since, and that is the real reason why the Yalta controversy goes on and will go on as a tragic lesson in the history of our times.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

With Estes Kefauver back in the nominational contests things begin to look as natural as a plumber in the cellar.

Estes is cuter than a watch spring. There is one quiz still to be echoed. In the long run is Estes a sprinter?

They say the office seeks the man. But we never saw the nest chasing the egg.

We were at the Chicago beef conservatory when the old guard gave Estes the hospitable exit. Estes crashed the platform to unload a speech. The video was willing but the audio was weak.

Possible that Estes is still rearing to get that sidetracked soliloquy off his chest. He doesn't know how close he came to having his tonsils removed by a gavel.

If Estes' noggin had been between Sam Rayburn's gavel and the rostrum Sam would have made two hoss-shoes out of his bridgework.

This Disease Is Not Serious But Very Annoying

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Hemorrhoids is not classified among the serious diseases but most sufferers will agree it is one of the most annoying. There are two sets of hemorrhoidal veins: the internal, located beneath the membranes of the rectum and the external, beneath the skin encircling the outlet of this structure (anus).

Unlike other veins the hemorrhoids have no valves and when the individual is standing, the veins are called upon to support a sizable column of blood. Because of this congestion, they may become stretched, inflamed, thrombosed, or ruptured. Such complications make hemorrhoids the bane of our existence.

Ordinary stretching or dilatation seldom is associated with symptoms. Vague soreness may be noted and itching occurs when the veins become large enough to protrude. These manifestations are aggravated by constipation and straining at stool and are worse when the person sits or stands for long periods or lifts heavy objects.

Increased abdominal pressure, caused by conditions like pregnancy or intestinal tumor, also make hemorrhoids more uncomfortable. When bleeding occurs, the vessels empty and distress subsides temporarily. If congestion returns, soreness and itching recur. During this interval the protruding vein is soft and not particularly tender.

When the blood clots, the vessel hardens and becomes more sensitive. Distress is most severe if the hemorrhoidal vein becomes inflamed. This is the ultimate in pain; it hurts to sit, roll over in bed, and walk down the street. As a result the victim loses his appetite and becomes nervous and irritable.

In the treatment of hemorrhoids, there is no substitute for cleanliness. The daily use of soap and water is necessary, followed by careful rinsing. Wiping with cotton saturated in olive oil will prove soothing; special pledgets for this purpose are obtainable as a substitute for toilet tissue. Many ointments and suppositories are available for temporary relief.

Permanent cure for severe hemorrhoids involves surgery. When the involved veins are taken out they cannot return.

The injection treatment is employed occasionally, especially when surgical removal must be postponed because of existing disorders like heart or kidney disease, tuberculosis, or diabetes. The sclerosing solution stops hemorrhage temporarily and may obliterate the vessels completely.

TOMORROW: Is histoplasmosis common?

BREAKDOWN RECOVERY

M. L. writes: Does a victim of nervous breakdown ever recover? I had one three years ago and every time I think I have it licked, I fall back into the same old fears and symptoms.

REPLY

Many do but the outcome is difficult to predict because there are too many outside influences that will affect the personality.

VARIETIES ARE COMMON

J. L. writes: I have been told that the appendix can be short or long, curled or straight. Am I being kidded?

REPLY

No. The organ also can be in or out, ruptured or intact.

CHRONIC ASTHMA

J. S. writes: What is fibrosis of the lungs due to asthma

REPLY

Fibrosis is scarring and may develop in long time victims of asthma.

X-RAY FINDINGS

E. T. writes: Will a chest X-ray show signs of heart disease?

REPLY

Yes, in that it shows abnormalities in size and contour of the heart if they are present.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

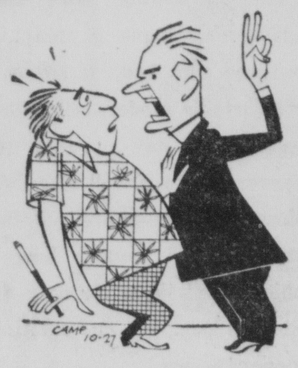

Try And Stop Me!

Margaret Gray, who went all the way from Toledo to Hawaii to perk up the library service at Hilo, tells about a German missionary who loved the life of the islands but clung tenaciously to the customs of his native land. He retained his strong native accent and a certain "mulishness" that his happy-go-lucky flock found very trying at times. One day a parishioner became so provoked with the preacher that he called him a "stupid ass."

The pastor's face darkened. "You haf lost your demper," he thundered. "Goot dot is not. But I am your minister even if you have called me a stupid ass and I will still bray for you."

An antique dealer directed an injured look at a nouveau riche client. "When you stop to consider

The Herter Candidacy

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The hard-headed political professionals are taking more and more interest in the embryo Republican candidacy of Governor Christian Herter, of Massachusetts.

The Herter candidacy is in the embryo stage, in the sense that the extremely able Massachusetts governor has not yet indicated his decision to run even to those closest to him. It is also a strictly regional affair, thus far, with few if any repercussions outside New England.

But it is a real candidacy, in the sense that Governor Herter can almost certainly be expected to run if President Eisenhower neither runs himself nor designates his successor. And in the future this Herter candidacy can have the most far-reaching national repercussions, if only because of its possible effects on the fortunes of other Republican hopefuls, such as Vice President Richard Nixon in particular.

Health Question Cleared

To dispose first of the reasons for thinking that the Herter candidacy is a real thing under the conditions named, they are of an extremely practical nature. A man who wants to have a try for high office always thinks first of removing any possible disqualifications.

Governor Herter suffers from two potential disqualifications — the doubts about his health, caused by partly crippling arthritis; and the doubts about his eligibility for the presidency, caused by his having been born in Paris.

Action has been taken already to remove one of these disqualifications. Governor Herter's doctors have advised him that his arthritis is not progressive: that his condition is actually improving somewhat; and that it constitutes no bar to any political effort he may wish to make.

His birth in Paris would appear to pose a more serious problem. In fact, however, both Herter's parents were American citizens and he was registered at the U.S. consulate immediately after birth. Thus the lawyers have no doubt at all that Herter is one of the 'natural born" Americans who are alone eligible, according to the Constitution, to enter the White House. The problem, really is not whether Herter is eligible, but how to remove the slight cloud of doubt by having his eligibility legally declared.

Closely Watched Primary

Various ways of getting the necessary legal judgment have already been explored in the Herter camp. One of them is to have the governor enter the New Hampshire primary next March; and then to have the secretary of state of New Hampshire question his eligibility, so that the matter can be referred to the federal district court. Other devices are also being discussed, but all of them — and here is the significant point — revolve around a test of the governor's right to run in the presidential primary in New Hampshire.

Right here, of course, is where the professional polls see the Herter candidacy assuming great national meaning. The New Hampshire primary is the first and therefore the most closely watched of the whole long series of presidential primaries.

In the present instance, New Hampshire has particular interest for Republicans, in view of the state's close White House connection with former Governor Sherman Adams. If President Eisenhower means to indicate his preferred successor, but wishes to avoid any formal, public statement, Governor Adams can do the job for him in New Hampshire.

As has been stated, Governor Herter's candidacy will not materialize if the President chooses to run again or wishes to designate the Republican nominee, directly or indirectly. Herter was one of the original Eisenhower Republicans, and he is an Eisenhower man through and through. But if the race is open, Herter will enter the New Hampshire primary. A New Hampshire race between Governor Herter and Vice President Nixon will then be a strong possibility.

Two Herter Assets

In such a test, Nixon would presumably be supported by the New Hampshire faction of Senator Styles Bridges. Herter would have two assets — his own great and deserved popularity in New England, and the backing of the anti-Bridges faction. In similar tests in the past, the Bridges faction in New Hampshire has been repeatedly trounced. In short, if the test occurs, a Herter victory is by no means impossible.

The real question for Herter himself, meanwhile is whether he can raise himself from the regional into the national class. As an excellent governor of a big state who is also a 100 per cent Eisenhower man, he meets two-thirds of the Republican specifications. But whether he can put himself over nationally remains to be seen.

Travel By Air Gets Faster And Faster

World travelers—the busy ones and those not so busy but who just want to get where they are going in a hurry—will soon zoom about the globe at dizzier speeds. Paris and London, already only overnight plane trips from New York, in a few years will be only six hours away.

This speedier era of air travel will begin after December 1958. That is when delivery of a fleet of 45 American-built transport planes ordered by Pan American Airways will start. The entire fleet, to cost $269 million, will be delivered in the following three years.

Other airlines are feverishly negotiating contracts to acquire similar craft. The new jets will be capable of carrying more than 100 passengers and will have cruising speeds of 575 miles an hour.

Pan American will be able to cut scheduled times in its flights in 74 nations almost in half when this fleet takes the air. The Pacific, over which planes out of San Francisco now travel to Tokyo in 25 hours, will then be crossed in 12 hours. The longest non-stop flight planned for the new fleet will be a 5,415-mile New York-Buenos Aires trip requiring only 15 hours.

There are no jet airliners in service today. Britain's attempt to take the lead in the field three years ago ended in grief after two disasters to its de Havilland Comet I.

Pan American's step was linked closely to national defense. In Washington the fleet was called "a welcome addition to our reserve" and a factor in maintaining the qualitative superiority of the U. S. Air Force.

The planes would be as speedy in war as in peace.

Poage of Texas is chalking up quite a record for himself as the nation's No. 2 junketeer. His rank close behind Senator Chavez of New Mexico seems assured.

Right after Congress adjourned Congressman Poage went to the Inter-Parliamentary Union in Helsinki, Finland. This trip was justifiable. While in Helsinki he tried to visit Russia which also was justifiable, since it's important for any congressman to try to find out what goes on behind the iron curtain. Poage, however, was turned down because he had blasted the Russians in a speech at Helsinki.

Upon returning to Washington, however, Poage had itchy feet. He immediately began trying to promote another trip—this time to South America as chairman of a subcommittee on agriculture.

To this end he called up the Air Force and asked for a special airplane to fly around South America. At first this was denied. The Air Force has had its planes tied up all over the world, and transport planes which carry passengers are short.

However, the congressman then appealed to Assistant Secretary of Defense Robert Ross, whose job is to keep Congress happy. He finally overruled his subordinates and ordered a free plane for Poage's subcommittee.

The Air Force is supposed to get it money back from the committees of Congress to pay for these trips, but Poage's idea was to take the money out of counterpart funds—that is, foreign currency held by the United States—so it wouldn't be charged against the committee's budget.

Poage next demanded that the wives of congressmen be permitted to go along. Again the Defense Department turned him down. Again, he appealed to Assistant Secretary Ross, and made such a nuisance of himself, that Ross finally gave his OK.

According to the House Agriculture Committee, the congressmen in addition to Poage taking this trip are: Abernethy of Mississippi and Jones of Missouri, Democrats; Hoeven of Iowa, Harvey of Indiana, and Lovre of South Dakota, Republicans.

Hiss Enters Controversy Over Yalta Conference

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Now Alger Hiss enters the controversy about the Yalta conference in an effort to get the Democrats off the hook they have been on since 1945 because of the sellout of Poland and Nationalist China. Maybe his views will be debated in the 1956 political campaign, for, in an article he has just written, he doesn't hesitate to make a derogatory reference to the 1952 Republican platform plank on Yalta.

Hiss, who was a member of the U. S. delegation at Yalta, seems to have lost none of his brazenness during his long absence from public life. He declares that it was Soviet Russia that made the "concessions" at Yalta and that almost everybody sang the praises of the Yalta agreement at the time it was made.

Writing in the current issue of The Pocket Book Magazine, Hiss says in part:

Minimizes Dissents

"Cleaned of the smudge of epithets, the Yalta story is that unwarranted and large-scale concessions were made to the Russians which resulted in Soviet leadership in Eastern Europe and the accession of the Communists to power in China. The facts are quite otherwise. . .

"It was the British and the Americans who made all the requests for military and political decisions. These requests had received careful study. Our delegation and the British had a preconference rendezvous at Malta for the express purpose of ensuring unity in our positions—hardly a mark of open-handed largesse toward the Russians.

"In the very nature of things, therefore, the Russians, recipients of numerous Anglo-American proposals, made what 'concessions' there were."

Hiss writes that "a nearly unanimous hymn of praise was the original response to the agreements reached at Yalta." He concedes, to be sure, that there were dissents such as those by the leaders of the Polish-American Association. But he minimizes them, despite the worldwide sympathy expressed when the Polish government in exile in London poured out its indignation. Likewise, Hiss mentions the Chicago Tribune and Scripps-Howard newspapers as in opposition at the time, but he says they were not "symbolic of large-scale inarticulate resentment." He forgets that the chief criticism of what was to happen at Yalta came before the conference and he overlooks the fact that the New York Times on December 19, 1944 — nearly two months before Yalta—denounced the proposals to sell out Poland even before they became official.

Finds Widespread Dissent

Also, the late William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, publicly protested on December 16, 1944, against the proposed partition of Poland. There was, to be sure, a disposition among many observers after the Yalta conference to hope that Russia would be reasonable and fair and, since it was in the middle of the war, the temptation was strong not to criticize an ally but to wish for the best.

This writer, who recently reviewed the dispatches after Yalta, finds, however, that the dissent was rather widespread, including a vehement denunciation by the Vatican because of the sellout of Poland. Likewise, in U. S. News & World Report appeared several articles reporting dissatisfaction from various parts of the world about the results of the Yalta conference and two editorials by this writer immediately after the Yalta conference criticizing the decision in unequivocal terms. Even the New Republic on February 19, 1945—a week after the conference—said that "on the whole, the results at Yalta represent a substantial victory for Stalin." Hiss, however, see everything as having been rosy at that time. He writes:

"General Marshall beamed as he waited for the car that took him from Yalta, saying with evident satisfaction that, though as chief of staff he was much too busy to be attending conferences, for what we had obtained he would have been willing to remain for months."

Perhaps the most significant quotation Hiss uses is from the book by the late Edward Stettinius—a book which, curiously enough, contains many favorable references to Hiss. These may or may not have been the result of influence upon the author by those who helped him, as he speaks of having "discussed this manuscript with a number of individuals who were active in various aspects of the conference." Anyway, Hiss quotes Stettinius—with whom he worked closely at Yalta—as saying the Yalta conference "shows clearly that the Soviet Union made greater concessions . . . than were made to them." Hiss continues:

Hiss Calls It Myth

"The myth has it that Poland was 'given away.' The Red army had driven the Nazis from Poland and had occupied it as thoroughly as we were to complete our occupation of the Philippines a few weeks later. We could no more 'give' Poland to the Russians than they could 'give' the Philippines to us. We and the British did seek a Western form of government for Poland. In this we succeeded only partially and later those partial successes were wiped out as the cold war liquidated these and other East-West compromises."

But Hiss forgets that the Atlantic Charter, signed by Russia, pledged all the signatories to "a desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned."

There were observers and writers then, of course, who ignored the potential strength of moral force in the world and looked at the situation solely from the viewpoint that "might makes right." But the lack of moral stamina exhibited by the Western leaders at Yalta has plagued their records ever since, and that is the real reason why the Yalta controversy goes on and will go on as a tragic lesson in the history of our times.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

With Estes Kefauver back in the nominational contests things begin to look as natural as a plumber in the cellar.

Estes is cuter than a watch spring. There is one quiz still to be echoed. In the long run is Estes a sprinter?

They say the office seeks the man. But we never saw the nest chasing the egg.

We were at the Chicago beef conservatory when the old guard gave Estes the hospitable exit. Estes crashed the platform to unload a speech. The video was willing but the audio was weak.

Possible that Estes is still rearing to get that sidetracked soliloquy off his chest. He doesn't know how close he came to having his tonsils removed by a gavel.

If Estes' noggin had been between Sam Rayburn's gavel and the rostrum Sam would have made two hoss-shoes out of his bridgework.

The Herter Candidacy

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The hard-headed political professionals are taking more and more interest in the embryo Republican candidacy of Governor Christian Herter, of Massachusetts.

The Herter candidacy is in the embryo stage, in the sense that the extremely able Massachusetts governor has not yet indicated his decision to run even to those closest to him. It is also a strictly regional affair, thus far, with few if any repercussions outside New England.

But it is a real candidacy, in the sense that Governor Herter can almost certainly be expected to run if President Eisenhower neither runs himself nor designates his successor. And in the future this Herter candidacy can have the most far-reaching national repercussions, if only because of its possible effects on the fortunes of other Republican hopefuls, such as Vice President Richard Nixon in particular.

Health Question Cleared

To dispose first of the reasons for thinking that the Herter candidacy is a real thing under the conditions named, they are of an extremely practical nature. A man who wants to have a try for high office always thinks first of removing any possible disqualifications.

Governor Herter suffers from two potential disqualifications — the doubts about his health, caused by partly crippling arthritis; and the doubts about his eligibility for the presidency, caused by his having been born in Paris.

Action has been taken already to remove one of these disqualifications. Governor Herter's doctors have advised him that his arthritis is not progressive: that his condition is actually improving somewhat; and that it constitutes no bar to any political effort he may wish to make.

His birth in Paris would appear to pose a more serious problem. In fact, however, both Herter's parents were American citizens and he was registered at the U.S. consulate immediately after birth. Thus the lawyers have no doubt at all that Herter is one of the 'natural born" Americans who are alone eligible, according to the Constitution, to enter the White House. The problem, really is not whether Herter is eligible, but how to remove the slight cloud of doubt by having his eligibility legally declared.

Closely Watched Primary

Various ways of getting the necessary legal judgment have already been explored in the Herter camp. One of them is to have the governor enter the New Hampshire primary next March; and then to have the secretary of state of New Hampshire question his eligibility, so that the matter can be referred to the federal district court. Other devices are also being discussed, but all of them — and here is the significant point — revolve around a test of the governor's right to run in the presidential primary in New Hampshire.

Right here, of course, is where the professional polls see the Herter candidacy assuming great national meaning. The New Hampshire primary is the first and therefore the most closely watched of the whole long series of presidential primaries.

In the present instance, New Hampshire has particular interest for Republicans, in view of the state's close White House connection with former Governor Sherman Adams. If President Eisenhower means to indicate his preferred successor, but wishes to avoid any formal, public statement, Governor Adams can do the job for him in New Hampshire.

As has been stated, Governor Herter's candidacy will not materialize if the President chooses to run again or wishes to designate the Republican nominee, directly or indirectly. Herter was one of the original Eisenhower Republicans, and he is an Eisenhower man through and through. But if the race is open, Herter will enter the New Hampshire primary. A New Hampshire race between Governor Herter and Vice President Nixon will then be a strong possibility.

Two Herter Assets

In such a test, Nixon would presumably be supported by the New Hampshire faction of Senator Styles Bridges. Herter would have two assets — his own great and deserved popularity in New England, and the backing of the anti-Bridges faction. In similar tests in the past, the Bridges faction in New Hampshire has been repeatedly trounced. In short, if the test occurs, a Herter victory is by no means impossible.

The real question for Herter himself, meanwhile is whether he can raise himself from the regional into the national class. As an excellent governor of a big state who is also a 100 per cent Eisenhower man, he meets two-thirds of the Republican specifications. But whether he can put himself over nationally remains to be seen.

This Disease Is Not Serious But Very Annoying

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Hemorrhoids is not classified among the serious diseases but most sufferers will agree it is one of the most annoying. There are two sets of hemorrhoidal veins: the internal, located beneath the membranes of the rectum and the external, beneath the skin encircling the outlet of this structure (anus).

Unlike other veins the hemorrhoids have no valves and when the individual is standing, the veins are called upon to support a sizable column of blood. Because of this congestion, they may become stretched, inflamed, thrombosed, or ruptured. Such complications make hemorrhoids the bane of our existence.

Ordinary stretching or dilatation seldom is associated with symptoms. Vague soreness may be noted and itching occurs when the veins become large enough to protrude. These manifestations are aggravated by constipation and straining at stool and are worse when the person sits or stands for long periods or lifts heavy objects.

Increased abdominal pressure, caused by conditions like pregnancy or intestinal tumor, also make hemorrhoids more uncomfortable. When bleeding occurs, the vessels empty and distress subsides temporarily. If congestion returns, soreness and itching recur. During this interval the protruding vein is soft and not particularly tender.

When the blood clots, the vessel hardens and becomes more sensitive. Distress is most severe if the hemorrhoidal vein becomes inflamed. This is the ultimate in pain; it hurts to sit, roll over in bed, and walk down the street. As a result the victim loses his appetite and becomes nervous and irritable.

In the treatment of hemorrhoids, there is no substitute for cleanliness. The daily use of soap and water is necessary, followed by careful rinsing. Wiping with cotton saturated in olive oil will prove soothing; special pledgets for this purpose are obtainable as a substitute for toilet tissue. Many ointments and suppositories are available for temporary relief.

Permanent cure for severe hemorrhoids involves surgery. When the involved veins are taken out they cannot return.

The injection treatment is employed occasionally, especially when surgical removal must be postponed because of existing disorders like heart or kidney disease, tuberculosis, or diabetes. The sclerosing solution stops hemorrhage temporarily and may obliterate the vessels completely.

TOMORROW: Is histoplasmosis common?

BREAKDOWN RECOVERY

M. L. writes: Does a victim of nervous breakdown ever recover? I had one three years ago and every time I think I have it licked, I fall back into the same old fears and symptoms.

REPLY

Many do but the outcome is difficult to predict because there are too many outside influences that will affect the personality.

VARIETIES ARE COMMON

J. L. writes: I have been told that the appendix can be short or long, curled or straight. Am I being kidded?

REPLY

No. The organ also can be in or out, ruptured or intact.

CHRONIC ASTHMA

J. S. writes: What is fibrosis of the lungs due to asthma

REPLY

Fibrosis is scarring and may develop in long time victims of asthma.

X-RAY FINDINGS

E. T. writes: Will a chest X-ray show signs of heart disease?

REPLY

Yes, in that it shows abnormalities in size and contour of the heart if they are present.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

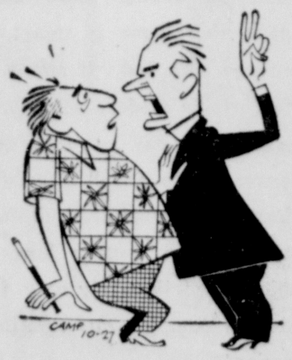

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Margaret Gray, who went all the way from Toledo to Hawaii to perk up the library service at Hilo, tells about a German missionary who loved the life of the islands but clung tenaciously to the customs of his native land. He retained his strong native accent and a certain "mulishness" that his happy-go-lucky flock found very trying at times. One day a parishioner became so provoked with the preacher that he called him a "stupid ass."

The pastor's face darkened. "You haf lost your demper," he thundered. "Goot dot is not. But I am your minister even if you have called me a stupid ass and I will still bray for you."

An antique dealer directed an injured look at a nouveau riche client. "When you stop to consider that this vase is over 2000 years old, you'll realize my asking price is justified," he insisted. "Don't give me that," countered the client. "It's only 1955 now!"

$12,500 Award Handed Down In Accident Case

HARRISONBURG, Va. — Mrs. Wilbert H. Dean, 27, Albemarle County mother of triplets and twins, has been awarded $12,500 for automobile injuries by a jury in United States District Court here.

Mrs. Dean's counsel asked for "approximately $150,000" in a statement to the jury. The original suit placed the amount of damages at $259,573. Both figures were the largest ever asked in a suit tried here.

Leon Rex Grover, pathologist of the West Virginia poultry laboratory at Moorefield, W. Va., the driver of the car which struck Mrs. Dean at Ivy on June 15, 1953, was the defendant and the only witness for the defense.

The jury of six women and six men deliberated two hour after receiving the instructions from Judge John Paul.

Mrs. Dean suffered multiple fractures of both legs and other injuries. She was described as being permanently crippled in the use of her legs.

Mrs. Dean and other witnesses testified that she had crossed over Highway 250 at Ivy and was on the shoulder of the road when she was struck by the car driven by Gover.

Grover testified that when he once look up he saw Mrs. Dean on the edge of the highway, walking with her head down. He swerved his car in an effort to avoid her but she appeared to jump back into his machine.

Mrs. Dean said she believed she was safely across the highway and when the automobile loomed it was too late for her to get out of the way. She was hurled about 61 feet, witnesses testified. Grover maintained control of his car and stopped it on the opposite side of the highway.

Mrs. Dean is the mother of triplets aged three and twins aged 7. The twins were nine months old when she was hit. She produced hospital, doctors' and house help bills totalling over $4,000. Mr. Dean, a plasterer, said he had lost much time from his work in order to take care of his injured wife and children. He stated he could not afford to hire more help in the home.

Grover was enroute to the University of Virginia Hospital to consult a specialist when he struck Mrs. Dean at Ivy, six miles west of Charlottesville.

The gnawing teeth of beavers keep growing year after year and this persistent growth takes care of the wear on the teeth.

$12,500 Award Handed Down In Accident Case

HARRISONBURG, Va. — Mrs. Wilbert H. Dean, 27, Albemarle County mother of triplets and twins, has been awarded $12,500 for automobile injuries by a jury in United States District Court here.

Mrs. Dean's counsel asked for "approximately $150,000" in a statement to the jury. The original suit placed the amount of damages at $259,573. Both figures were the largest ever asked in a suit tried here.

Leon Rex Grover, pathologist of the West Virginia poultry laboratory at Moorefield, W. Va., the driver of the car which struck Mrs. Dean at Ivy on June 15, 1953, was the defendant and the only witness for the defense.

The jury of six women and six men deliberated two hour after receiving the instructions from Judge John Paul.

Mrs. Dean suffered multiple fractures of both legs and other injuries. She was described as being permanently crippled in the use of her legs.

Mrs. Dean and other witnesses testified that she had crossed over Highway 250 at Ivy and was on the shoulder of the road when she was struck by the car driven by Gover.

Grover testified that when he once look up he saw Mrs. Dean on the edge of the highway, walking with her head down. He swerved his car in an effort to avoid her but she appeared to jump back into his machine.

Mrs. Dean said she believed she was safely across the highway and when the automobile loomed it was too late for her to get out of the way. She was hurled about 61 feet, witnesses testified. Grover maintained control of his car and stopped it on the opposite side of the highway.

Mrs. Dean is the mother of triplets aged three and twins aged 7. The twins were nine months old when she was hit. She produced hospital, doctors' and house help bills totalling over $4,000. Mr. Dean, a plasterer, said he had lost much time from his work in order to take care of his injured wife and children. He stated he could not afford to hire more help in the home.

Grover was enroute to the University of Virginia Hospital to consult a specialist when he struck Mrs. Dean at Ivy, six miles west of Charlottesville.

The gnawing teeth of beavers keep growing year after year and this persistent growth takes care of the wear on the teeth.

Stricter Truck Regulations Urged

While the state of Pennsylvania continues its moves toward stricter inspection and regulations of trucks, no progress has been reported in Maryland in connection with the same problem.

Two local trucking companies reported no safety inspection is required by Maryland and the firms do their own checking.

The Maryland authorities have been conducting a truck-weighing program. Vehicles which are found overloaded are required to unload the excess weight and the owners prosecuted in the courts. Fines in a number of cases have been heavy.

Action Advocated

The Pittsburgh Press in an editorial Sunday titled "Juggernauts on the Highways" stated:

"The runaway trucks continue their toll of death and destruction. To the five killed in West Newton, there have been added five more dead at Cumberland, Md., plus a near-miss in Kittanning which wrecked 11 autos.

"In each case—and in the many previous cases of runaway tractor-trailer rigs in and around Pittsburgh—the diagnosis is brake failure.

"What do we do to stop this horrible threat? Nobody seems to have an idea. Yet, truck traffic is increasing, loads now are heavier with permission of the state, and the danger is greater

"The Cumberland accident provided a clue. Investigators found that an air hose which was part of the brake system of the truck had worn through, been patched with tape which, in turn, wore through. The leak knocked out the braking system.

"What happened to the state inspection service, which is supposed to detect hazards like this? Do we inspect trucks often enough and thoroughly enough? In the case of out-of-state trucks, which comprise much of our truck traffic, can we rely on the inspection services of other states for our safety?

Immediate Threat

"These are questions our Legislature and our state government should look into, and quickly. The threat is immediate, and it won't be removed until we do something. We'll continue to record repeated accidents and multiple deaths until the officials who are responsible for traffic safety find out what's wrong and correct it.

"In past periods when truck weight limitations were being enforced, State Police blocked roads in order to weigh every truck and catch violators. What's the matter with checking every truck to inspect brakes? Certainly the brakeless trucks are doing far more damage than the overloaded trucks did.

"We have suggested that the truck manufacturers themselves tackle this problem by equipping each tractor unit with a reliable set of emergency brakes. A bill in the Legislature would permit truckers to subtract the weight of emergency brakes from their total loads, in order to encourage their installation.

"But that's for the future. We need protection now, and now is when safety officials and State Police should act to check on the safety of the heavy equipment using the highways.

Gov. Leader of Pennsylvania said he will take steps in the matter after receiving a report on truck runaways from state police who are making an investigation.

Gov. Leader believes some of the accidents were not entirely the result of poor brakes. He said some drivers place too much strain on their braking system instead of letting the gears work for them.

"Three factors are involved," he said. "The human factor, the mechanical factor and poor design, possibly a combination of all three."

William E. Miller of Harrisburg, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, said a reappraisal of the state's truck inspection system would be in order.

O. D. Shipley, safety director fo. the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, said the ICC has high standards for proper brake maintenance on the giant trucks, but enforcement of the regulations is weak.

Shipley said a meeting will be held in Pittsburgh next month by the Council of Safety Supervisors of motor truck associations of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland. They will discuss preventive measures against runaway truck crashes.

A number of bills have been drawn up by Pennsylvania legislators which would make it mandatory for trucks to be equipped with a separate and independent se of electrically operated air brakes in addition to factory-installed brakes.

Progress Noted On Sewage Work

Work on the $2,000,000 sewage treatment plan off Offutt Street is progressing satisfactorily, Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said yesterday in reporting on a weekend inspection.

Buchholtz said it is hoped to get a major part of the plant area finished before bad weather so work may continue inside during the winter.

Benjamin Franklin invented bifocal spectacles.

Hazard Is Cited With Bridge Use

Extra care in driving into the Greene Street approach and off the Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge appears to be the only immediate solution to a traffic and pedestrian hazard because of lack of traffic lights.

Lt. Raymond R. Johnston, head of the Traffic Bureau, said yesterday that some hazard exists and the department will do its best with the situation until cable arrives and lights can be installed.

There have been numerous unofficial reports of excessive speed on and off the bridge since it was opened Tuesday at noon.

Johnston said two "slow" signs have been erected. But there are no "stop" signs in the bridge area. He added a policeman would be on duty during "peak" traffic hours.

Installation of the cable for traffic lights and "trippers" which will govern their operation, will not cause the roadway to be torn up again.

Gains Shown In Bank Debits

Bank debits continued to show increases over 1954 for the first eight months of this year with $204,636,000 compared to $188,239,000.

The Fifth District report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond also shows August debits ahead of the same month last year on totals of $27,861,000 and $25,296,000 respectively.

Building continues to sweep far ahead of 1954. For the first eight months this year, building permit valuations total $1,109,191 compared to $481,925 last year. In August, permit valuations were $124,850 compared to $38,450 the same month a year ago.

MT. SAVAGE, Oct. 26 — Beall High's Mountaineers, battling to gain second place in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League, scored two goals within 10 seconds in the final period here today to edge the Mt. Savage Braves, 3-2.

The soccer game was played in extremely high winds which made play very difficult at times. The victory was the second for Coach Ebbie Finzel's Mounties who meet Bruce High's Bulldogs Thursday at 3:30 p. m. in Frostburg.

Bruce, currently in second place in the five-team circuit, has a 2-1-1 record and a victory by Beall in the game with the Bulldogs would enable the Mountaineers to take over the position.

Officials for the Thursday clash on the Beall field will be Clifton Van Roby and Henry Stafford.

Beall took the lead in the first quarter of today's contest at Mt. Savage when Dale Folk booted home a field goal. Mt. Savage knotted the count in the same period with a goal by Tom Stevens who headed the ball through on a kick-in play.

Stevens, who scored both the Braves' goals, again headed the ball through on a corner kick to give the losers a brief 2-1 lead in the third quarter.

Trailing with seven minutes remaining in the game Beall tallied twice within 10 seconds to snatch the victory from Coach John Thomas' charges.

Paul Fram booted home the tying goal and Fred Broadwater scored the clincher a moment later.

Outstanding players for Beall were Gary Harbell, Gene Zumpano, Folk and Broadwater. Best bets for Mt. Savage were Roy Hott, Bill Clauson, George Bishields and Stevens. The lineups:

Hoad Ready To Turn Pro

Signs Agreement With Jack Kramer

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 26 (AP)—Alan Hoad, father of Australia's 20-year old tennis ace, said tonight his son Lewis signed an agreement in the United States to turn professional subject to the approval of his parents.

"Lew signed a two-page agreement accepting Jack Kramer's offer but it is not a contract," said the elder Hoad. There is nothing concrete about it. The agreement carries no weight without his parents' consent."

People close to the tennis scene believe Hoad will change his mind turn professional for a tour with U. S. and Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert.

Kramer planned to see young Hoad and his parents Thursday for further talks. Hoad, who turned down one offer from Kramer when the promoter felt sure he would sign, was to fly from Melbourne to Sydney for the conference. His decision apparently depends on how much Kramer will offer. The amount has not been disclosed.

Harry Hopman, Australian Davis Cup captain, said, "Hoad is professionally minded. If the offer which I anticipated Kramer will make is up to expectations then I expect Hoad will accept it."

In Brisbane, Hoad's teammate, Ken Rosewall, said he was not interested in any new offers by Kramer.

Piedmont Loop To Meet Today

No Plans Made For Adding 8th Team

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 26 (AP) — The Class B Piedmont League will meet here tomorrow afternoon but Judge Ben Campbell, the president, doesn't expect the circuit to make any immediate moves toward adding an eighth member.

The league finished the 1955 season with seven teams following the midseason withdrawal of Norfolk, Va.

Campbell, who resides at Petersburg, Va. said that as far as he knows, all seven 1955 finishers are expected to report tomorrow they are ready to open shop for 1956.

Campbell said there would be some discussion of 1956 plans. Campbell said the Piedmont will consider "routine business." Campbell is scheduled to come up for re-election, but the vote casting may be deferred.

The Piedmont clubs are Lynchburg, Newport News and Norfolk-Portsmouth, Va.; Sunbury, York and Lancaster, Pa.; and Hagerstown, Md.

Navy To Throw Best Defense Against Irish

Middies Hold Top Per Game Average

[By The Associated Press]

The nation's No. 1 defense and a passer who ranks among the first 10 in the major college ranks will be Navy's principal weapons Saturday in its effort to upend Notre Dame after nine straight losses to the Irish.

Although they haven't yet played anyone as tough as Notre Dame, the Midshipmen come up to this game with a resistance record that is the best in major college competition in eight years.

NCAA service bureau statistics showed today that Navy has limited its five opponents to an average of 119.6 yards per game. No major team since 1947 has gone this far into the season with so small an allowance.

The Midshipmen have proved equally adept at defending against ground and air attacks. They're fourth in pass defense with an average allowance of 41.6 yards and sixth in rushing defense with a 78 yard average. In addition, they've yielded only two touchdowns in five games while every other major team has allowed at least four.

In contrast, Notre Dame is statistically nowhere in any defense department except for a third-place average yield of 5.6 points per game to a set of tough opponents. Navy's average is 2.8 points and UCLA's is 5.5.

Navy has a notable offensive statistical record, too, with George Welsh, the No. 8 passer, setting the pace.

Maryland, for the third straight week, is tops in defense against rushing—the trademark of undefeated teams. The Terrapins have given up an average of only 52.3 yards to the running attacks of six opponents.

Penn Ave. Cops Touch Crown

Defeats Johnson Heights, 30 To 6

Penn Avenue scored in every period to hand Johnson Heights a 30-6 defeat yesterday to capture the Southern Division title of the Grade School Touch Football League.

The win advanced Penn Avenue to the finals for the league championship with Columbia Street's Northern Division titlists Saturday at 11 a. m. at Stitcher Field.

Ronnie Manges starred for the victors as he passed for three touchdowns and scored the other two on runs of three and eight yards.

Manges tossed to Dave Hauser for six yards and one score, passed to Jim Markley for 10 yards and another six-pointer, then hit Ken Deatelhauser on a 29-yard scoring pass for the last touchdown.

Colin Smith romped 68 yards to account for the only touchdown by Johnson Heights in the first quarter.

Outstanding players for Penn Avenue were Manges and Deatelhauser while best bets for Johnson Heights were Jack Hahn and Smith. The score:

PENN AVENUE	6	6	12	6—30
JOHNSON HTS.	6	0	0	0— 6

Touchdowns: Penn Ave. — R. Manges 2, Markley, Hauser, Deatelhauser. Johnson Hts. — Smith.

Holman KOs Smith In 7th

Loser Is Knocked Down Three Times

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—John Holman, the massive and notoriously slow Chicago Negro, smashed Boardwalk Bill Smith back into fistic oblivion tonight, knocking him out with a vicious right cross at 1:43 of the seventh round.

Barely able to pull himself up at the count of nine after that barrage, Smith, the New Jersey prison guard trying a comeback after an 11-month layoff, quickly went down again as Holman nailed him with a left cross to the head.

The second knockdown punch was a light one and Smith seemed to go down only from exhaustion. He was up at the count of four and took the mandatory eight count on his feet.

Holman, who had a 28-pound weight advantage, caught the tired Smith quickly in the seventh, knocking him flat on his back with a right to the head. Smith got to his knees at nine but was unable to make it the rest of the way.

Holman weighed 203½, Smith 175½. Holman had been a solid 8-5 favorite but shortly before fight time the odds were reported to have switched to favor Smith at 7-5.

Holman scored his victory in the same ring in which he jumped into prominence earlier this year with knockouts over Cesar Brion and former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles. Later, in a return match in Cincinnati, Charles outpointed him.

Braves Sign Two To Minor Contracts

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today signed promising high school pitcher and a first baseman, who starred in college, to minor league contracts.

Lefthander Bill Hamilton, who won 28 games and lost only five pitching for his high school at Westbrook, Maine, signed a contract with Quebec in the Class C Provincial League.

First baseman Roger Morgan of Somerset, Mass., signed a 1956 contract with Atlanta in the Class AA Southern Assn. Morgan, 22, batted .320 in four years at Brandeis University and last summer batted .406 playing for Black Harbor in the New Brunswick-Canada League.

Hamilton, Perlo Drill With Terps

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Maryland fullbacks Fred Hamilton and Phil Perlo, both nursing injuries, returned to action today and probably will play at least part of Saturday's homecoming game with South Carolina.

Coach Jim Tatum put his top-ranked Terps through a two-hour fullspeed scrimmage, alternating his first three teams against South Carolina defense.

Lambeau Heads All-Star Staff

Directed Victory Over Cleveland

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The same staff, headed by E. L. (Curly) Lambeau, which directed the 1955 College All-Stars to victory over the Cleveland Browns, will coach the 1956 collegians in the summer grid classic.

This was announced today by Wilfrid Smith, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune which sponsors the All-Star contest.

Lambeau and his aides piloted the All-Stars to a 30-27 triumph over the National Football League champion Browns at Soldier Field last August.

It was the first time an all-pro coaching lineup had taken charge of the collegians.

Lambeau's returning helpers will include Hunk Anderson, Steve Owen, and Hampton Pool. Other assistants this year were Tony Canadeo, former Green Bay Packer star, and Charles Hafron of Notre Dame.

The 1956 All-Star game, 23rd in the colorful series, will be played in Soldier Field the night of Friday, Aug. 10. Normally, the game would have been booked Aug. 17, but was moved up a week because of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Terps, Gamecocks Clash 12th Time

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 27—Jim Tatum's undefeated Terrapins return to their friendly Byrd Stadium lair this week following two wins on the road for the Homecoming clash with Rex Enright's South Carolina Gamecocks. The annual festive Homecoming attraction will bring 25,000 fans to Byrd Stadium. Kickoff is 2:00 p. m.

This will be the twelfth meeting of the two schools on the gridiron with the Terps holding a 7-4 edge in victories. The series started in 1926. Maryland has won the last five games, all under Tatum. The Gamecocks' last victory was in 1946, 21-17, over Bear Bryant.

AA Foresees Good Season

Baseball League Preps For 1956

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 26 (AP)—In a report designed to offset gloomy predictions for minor league baseball, the American Association said today it is going strong.

The organization cited its 54 successive years of play, a highly solvent condition, attendance figures and new park construction among signs of robust health.

Skeptics who foresee dark days also should take a look at next year's bright prospects for the circuit, the association said.

It said Denver and Omaha, although the clubs finished off the pace this year, were figured as strong drawing cards as 1956 flag contenders, partly because of their affiliation with the talent rich New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, respectively.

The association said total attendance for the 1955 Junior World Series was 52,926 compared to 38,360 for 1954 and only 27,689 for 1953.

It also held hopes that the change of ownership of the Charleston, W. Va., franchise to the Detroit Tigers would help produce a first division club and perhaps double the Senator's 1955 home attendance of 108,431.

East Side Scores Over Mt. Royal

In a playoff of fourth place teams in the Northern and Southern Divisions of the Grade School Touch Football League, East Side won its first game of the season by defeating Northern's Mt. Royal, 12-0. The game was played at Stitcher Field.

Glen Barnhart passed 58 yards to Ed Harrison for one touchdown and returned a punt 30 yards for the other for the victors. The score:

MT. ROYAL	0	0	0	0— 0

Touchdowns: East Side — Barnhart, Harrison.

Parsons Scores Fifth Victory

Panthers Defeat Thomas, 20 To 6

PARSONS, W. Va., Oct. 26—Parsons High's Panthers chalked up their fifth victory of the season here today by turning back Coach Eddie Supak's Thomas High gridders, 20-6, in a game moved ahead from Friday because of a teachers conference over the weekend.

The loss closed the season for Thomas which scored two victories while dropping four games.

Parsons led 6-0 at halftime as the result of a 52-yard pass and run play which scored the opening touchdown. Bill Rosenau tossed to Frank Mullennex, who tallied two of the winners' six-pointers, for the initial counter.

The second touchdown for Coach Bob Sullivan's charges came when Rosenau tallied on a 23-yard end run on a quarterback bootleg play in the third stanza.

The final Parsons score was another Rosenau to Mullennex pass good for 15 yards and the touchdown.

Thomas tallied in the last quarter when Huffman ran 25 yards around right end for the counter. The score:

THOMAS	0	0	0	6—	6
PARSONS	0	6	7	7—20

Scoring: Parsons touchdowns—Mullennex 2 (52, pass and 15, pass); Rosenau (23, run). Thomas touchdown — Huffman (25, run). Extra points: Parsons—Jones 2, (placements).

People close to the tennis scene believe Hoad will change his mind turn professional for a tour with U. S. and Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert.

Kramer planned to see young Hoad and his parents Thursday for further talks. Hoad, who turned down one offer from Kramer when the promoter felt sure he would sign, was to fly from Melbourne to Sydney for the conference. His decision apparently depends on how much Kramer will offer. The amount has not been disclosed.

Harry Hopman, Australian Davis Cup captain, said, "Hoad is professionally minded. If the offer which I anticipated Kramer will make is up to expectations then I expect Hoad will accept it."

In Brisbane, Hoad's teammate, Ken Rosewall, said he was not interested in any new offers by Kramer.

Piedmont Loop To Meet Today

No Plans Made For Adding 8th Team

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 26 (AP) — The Class B Piedmont League will meet here tomorrow afternoon but Judge Ben Campbell, the president, doesn't expect the circuit to make any immediate moves toward adding an eighth member.

The league finished the 1955 season with seven teams following the midseason withdrawal of Norfolk, Va.

Campbell, who resides at Petersburg, Va. said that as far as he knows, all seven 1955 finishers are expected to report tomorrow they are ready to open shop for 1956.

Campbell said there would be some discussion of 1956 plans. Campbell said the Piedmont will consider "routine business." Campbell is scheduled to come up for re-election, but the vote casting may be deferred.

The Piedmont clubs are Lynchburg, Newport News and Norfolk-Portsmouth, Va.; Sunbury, York and Lancaster, Pa.; and Hagerstown, Md.

Navy To Throw Best Defense Against Irish

Middies Hold Top Per Game Average

[By The Associated Press]

The nation's No. 1 defense and a passer who ranks among the first 10 in the major college ranks will be Navy's principal weapons Saturday in its effort to upend Notre Dame after nine straight losses to the Irish.

Although they haven't yet played anyone as tough as Notre Dame, the Midshipmen come up to this game with a resistance record that is the best in major college competition in eight years.

NCAA service bureau statistics showed today that Navy has limited its five opponents to an average of 119.6 yards per game. No major team since 1947 has gone this far into the season with so small an allowance.

The Midshipmen have proved equally adept at defending against ground and air attacks. They're fourth in pass defense with an average allowance of 41.6 yards and sixth in rushing defense with a 78 yard average. In addition, they've yielded only two touchdowns in five games while every other major team has allowed at least four.

In contrast, Notre Dame is statistically nowhere in any defense department except for a third-place average yield of 5.6 points per game to a set of tough opponents. Navy's average is 2.8 points and UCLA's is 5.5.

Navy has a notable offensive statistical record, too, with George Welsh, the No. 8 passer, setting the pace.

Maryland, for the third straight week, is tops in defense against rushing—the trademark of undefeated teams. The Terrapins have given up an average of only 52.3 yards to the running attacks of six opponents.

Penn Ave. Cops Touch Crown

Defeats Johnson Heights, 30 To 6

Penn Avenue scored in every period to hand Johnson Heights a 30-6 defeat yesterday to capture the Southern Division title of the Grade School Touch Football League.

The win advanced Penn Avenue to the finals for the league championship with Columbia Street's Northern Division titlists Saturday at 11 a. m. at Stitcher Field.

Ronnie Manges starred for the victors as he passed for three touchdowns and scored the other two on runs of three and eight yards.

Manges tossed to Dave Hauser for six yards and one score, passed to Jim Markley for 10 yards and another six-pointer, then hit Ken Deatelhauser on a 29-yard scoring pass for the last touchdown.

Colin Smith romped 68 yards to account for the only touchdown by Johnson Heights in the first quarter.

Outstanding players for Penn Avenue were Manges and Deatelhauser while best bets for Johnson Heights were Jack Hahn and Smith. The score:

PENN AVENUE	6	6	12	6—30
JOHNSON HTS.	6	0	0	0— 6

Touchdowns: Penn Ave. — R. Manges 2, Markley, Hauser, Deatelhauser. Johnson Hts. — Smith.

Holman KOs Smith In 7th

Loser Is Knocked Down Three Times

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—John Holman, the massive and notoriously slow Chicago Negro, smashed Boardwalk Bill Smith back into fistic oblivion tonight, knocking him out with a vicious right cross at 1:43 of the seventh round.

Barely able to pull himself up at the count of nine after that barrage, Smith, the New Jersey prison guard trying a comeback after an 11-month layoff, quickly went down again as Holman nailed him with a left cross to the head.

The second knockdown punch was a light one and Smith seemed to go down only from exhaustion. He was up at the count of four and took the mandatory eight count on his feet.

Holman, who had a 28-pound weight advantage, caught the tired Smith quickly in the seventh, knocking him flat on his back with a right to the head. Smith got to his knees at nine but was unable to make it the rest of the way.

Holman weighed 203½, Smith 175½. Holman had been a solid 8-5 favorite but shortly before fight time the odds were reported to have switched to favor Smith at 7-5.

Holman scored his victory in the same ring in which he jumped into prominence earlier this year with knockouts over Cesar Brion and former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles. Later, in a return match in Cincinnati, Charles outpointed him.

Braves Sign Two To Minor Contracts

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today signed promising high school pitcher and a first baseman, who starred in college, to minor league contracts.

Lefthander Bill Hamilton, who won 28 games and lost only five pitching for his high school at Westbrook, Maine, signed a contract with Quebec in the Class C Provincial League.

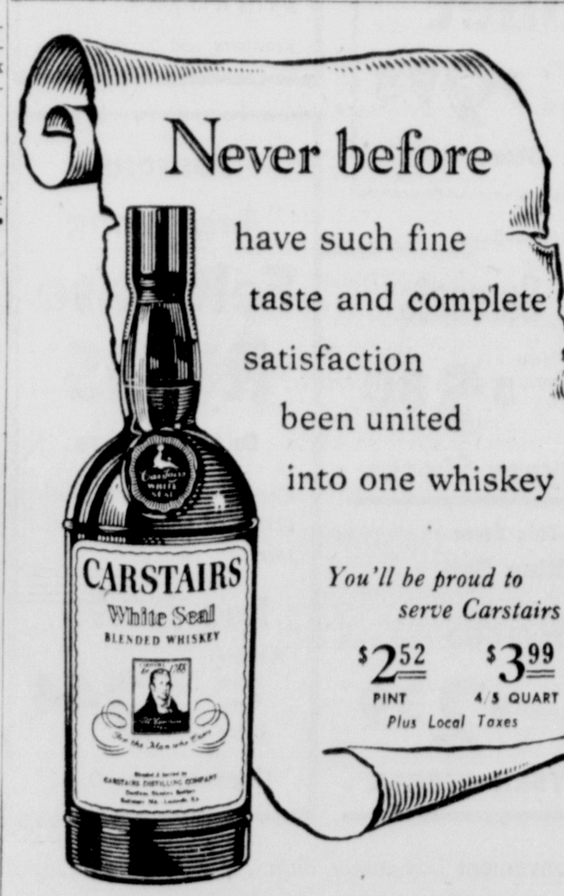

First baseman Roger Morgan of Somerset, Mass., signed a 1956 contract with Atlanta in the Class AA Southern Assn. Morgan, 22, batted .320 in four years at Brandeis University and last summer batted .406 playing for Black Harbor in the New Brunswick-Canada League.

Hamilton, Perlo Drill With Terps

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Maryland fullbacks Fred Hamilton and Phil Perlo, both nursing injuries, returned to action today and probably will play at least part of Saturday's homecoming game with South Carolina.

Coach Jim Tatum put his top-ranked Terps through a two-hour fullspeed scrimmage, alternating his first three teams against South Carolina defense.

Baseball League Preps For 1956

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 26 (AP)—In a report designed to offset gloomy predictions for minor league baseball, the American Association said today it is going strong.

The organization cited its 54 successive years of play, a highly solvent condition, attendance figures and new park construction among signs of robust health.

Skeptics who foresee dark days also should take a look at next year's bright prospects for the circuit, the association said.

It said Denver and Omaha, although the clubs finished off the pace this year, were figured as strong drawing cards as 1956 flag contenders, partly because of their affiliation with the talent rich New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, respectively.

The association said total attendance for the 1955 Junior World Series was 52,926 compared to 38,360 for 1954 and only 27,689 for 1953.

It also held hopes that the change of ownership of the Charleston, W. Va., franchise to the Detroit Tigers would help produce a first division club and perhaps double the Senator's 1955 home attendance of 108,431.

Lambeau Heads All-Star Staff

Directed Victory Over Cleveland

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The same staff, headed by E. L. (Curly) Lambeau, which directed the 1955 College All-Stars to victory over the Cleveland Browns, will coach the 1956 collegians in the summer grid classic.

This was announced today by Wilfrid Smith, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune which sponsors the All-Star contest.

Lambeau and his aides piloted the All-Stars to a 30-27 triumph over the National Football League champion Browns at Soldier Field last August.

It was the first time an all-pro coaching lineup had taken charge of the collegians.

Lambeau's returning helpers will include Hunk Anderson, Steve Owen, and Hampton Pool. Other assistants this year were Tony Canadeo, former Green Bay Packer star, and Charles Hafron of Notre Dame.

The 1956 All-Star game, 23rd in the colorful series, will be played in Soldier Field the night of Friday, Aug. 10. Normally, the game would have been booked Aug. 17, but was moved up a week because of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Terps, Gamecocks Clash 12th Time

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 27—Jim Tatum's undefeated Terrapins return to their friendly Byrd Stadium lair this week following two wins on the road for the Homecoming clash with Rex Enright's South Carolina Gamecocks. The annual festive Homecoming attraction will bring 25,000 fans to Byrd Stadium. Kickoff is 2:00 p. m.

This will be the twelfth meeting of the two schools on the gridiron with the Terps holding a 7-4 edge in victories. The series started in 1926. Maryland has won the last five games, all under Tatum. The Gamecocks' last victory was in 1946, 21-17, over Bear Bryant.

East Side Scores Over Mt. Royal

In a playoff of fourth place teams in the Northern and Southern Divisions of the Grade School Touch Football League, East Side won its first game of the season by defeating Northern's Mt. Royal, 12-0. The game was played at Stitcher Field.

Glen Barnhart passed 58 yards to Ed Harrison for one touchdown and returned a punt 30 yards for the other for the victors. The score:

Touchdowns: East Side — Barnhart, Harrison.

Panthers Defeat Thomas, 20 To 6

PARSONS, W. Va., Oct. 26—Parsons High's Panthers chalked up their fifth victory of the season here today by turning back Coach Eddie Supak's Thomas High gridders, 20-6, in a game moved ahead from Friday because of a teachers conference over the weekend.

The loss closed the season for Thomas which scored two victories while dropping four games.

Parsons led 6-0 at halftime as the result of a 52-yard pass and run play which scored the opening touchdown. Bill Rosenau tossed to Frank Mullennex, who tallied two of the winners' six-pointers, for the initial counter.

The second touchdown for Coach Bob Sullivan's charges came when Rosenau tallied on a 23-yard end run on a quarterback bootleg play in the third stanza.

The final Parsons score was another Rosenau to Mullennex pass good for 15 yards and the touchdown.

Thomas tallied in the last quarter when Huffman ran 25 yards around right end for the counter. The score:

THOMAS	0	0	0	6—	6
PARSONS	0	6	7	7—20

Scoring: Parsons touchdowns—Mullennex 2 (52, pass and 15, pass); Rosenau (23, run). Thomas touchdown — Huffman (25, run). Extra points: Parsons—Jones 2, (placements).

Retrial Takes Cambridgeshire

18-1 Shot Captures 113th Run Of Stakes

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 26 (AP)—Retrial, an 18 to 1 shot with 19-year-old Peter Robinson in the saddle, won the 113th Cambridgeshire Handicap Stakes today by a neck in a photo finish.

Turk's Blood, 10 to 1, finished second in the mile and a furlong race and Swept, a 50 to 1 outsider, was another head back in third place among 40 starters. Monk Shoe was only a head behind Swept.

The favored Manati at 5 to 1 ran out of the money and finished 16th.

Retrial carried 91 pounds and covered the course in 1:51 4-5.

Ticonderoga, owned by Robert Sterling Clark of Upperville, Va., the only U.S.-owned horse in the race, failed to place in the first 16. He was a 66 to 1 shot.

For Lady Zia Wernher, owner of Retrial, the victory was worth 3,438 pounds ($9,626), assuring her of topping the list of winning owners on British tracks this season. She has won about 50,000 pounds ($140,000). Queen Elizabeth topped the list last season.

Shoe Cutter Wins $140,000 Irish Sweepstakes Prize

SOUTH BERWICK, Maine, Oct. 26 (AP)—A 40-year-old shoe cutter, who went without dinner to buy a $3 Irish sweepstakes ticket, won $140,000 today when his horse, Retrial, won the Cambridgeshire Handicap stakes at Newmarket, England.

"I'm going to rest for a while after a shock like this," said Richard St. Laurent, who was informed of his luck while working today at Marlo Shoe Co. in—by coincidence—Newmarket, N.H.

"And I went without my dinner to buy the ticket," he said. He has been married 19 years and is the father of four daughters and earns $80 a week.

A tax expert estimated St. Laurent will be able to keep about $60,554 after taxes.

Rockcastle Cops Yankee Handicap At Suffolk Downs

BOSTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Rockcastle became the first New England owned horse ever to win the Yankee Handicap today by outbattling the favored Nance's Lad in a tremendous stretch run for a length and a half victory in the 20th running of the $50,000 added event at Suffolk Downs.

Rockcastle, a 10-1 outsider, ridden by Jorge Contreras, travelled the mile and a furlong on a fast track in 1:50 2-5 while defeating the field of 11 three-year-olds.

Mountaineers Hope To Extend String

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 27 — West Virginia University's Mountaineers will carry a 15 game win streak for road games to Milwaukee, Wis., this Saturday when they face the Warriors of Marquette.

It will mark only the second away game for West Virginia this season and the road trip will be farther from the University campus than any other opponent on the schedule this season.

The Mountaineers have now won 9 straight games over a two-year period, have scored in 40 consecutive games (43 is the present school record) and will risk those two along with the 15 consecutive road wins, against Marquette Saturday afternoon.

The Mountaineers five wins have come over Richmond 33-12, Wake Forest 46-0, V.M.I. 47-12, William and Mary 39-13 and Penn State 21-7.

Sebo Doesn't Plan To Leave Penn; Sees Title Soon

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Despite rumors to the contrary Penn football Coach Steve Sebo says he has no intention of quitting and promises presently downtrodden Quaker fans an Ivy League championship contender by 1958.

And for those who think Sebo won't be around in 1956, let alone 1958, don't bet on it. Athletic Director Jerry Ford says that as far as he is concerned, "Sebo knows and teaches well the best, most modern, most successful type of football in America.

"I'm the guy who will have to renew Steve's contract and from what I've seen of his techniques I think his contract will be renewed. Sebo is the best young coach in the country today." Sebo's three year contract expires at the end of the 1956 season.

Motor Experts Prefer Du Pont ZEREX®

Here's one reason:

SEE HOW MUCH CLEANER "ZEREX" KEEPS YOUR RADIATOR

Flask at left held a solution of water and ordinary anti-freeze with an oil inhibitor. Flask at right held a solution of "Zerex" and water. To each was added the same amount of ground rust—just as you might find in your own car's cooling system. Both flasks were shaken, then drained. Notice how a film of rust clings to the inside of the flask on left as it would to the metal surfaces of your car's cooling system. But the flask containing "Zerex" is clean! This demonstrates that Du Pont's special chemical rust inhibitor, which contains no oil, does not form a rusty oil film that could clog your radiator and cause overheating and serious engine damage.

"Quality is what counts! With 'Zerex' I can be sure of the best protection."
BOB SWEIKERT
Winner, 1955 500-miler

"Experience proves 'Zerex' protects my car best against freeze-ups and it keeps the cooling system clean..."
JOHNNIE PARSONS

"I find that 'Zerex' keeps my car's cooling system cleaner—there's no rust."

Retrial Takes Cambridgeshire

18-1 Shot Captures 113th Run Of Stakes

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 26 (AP)—Retrial, an 18 to 1 shot with 19-year-old Peter Robinson in the saddle, won the 113th Cambridgeshire Handicap Stakes today by a neck in a photo finish.

Turk's Blood, 10 to 1, finished second in the mile and a furlong race and Swept, a 50 to 1 outsider, was another head back in third place among 40 starters. Monk Shoe was only a head behind Swept.

The favored Manati at 5 to 1 ran out of the money and finished 16th.

Retrial carried 91 pounds and covered the course in 1:51 4-5.

Ticonderoga, owned by Robert Sterling Clark of Upperville, Va., the only U.S.-owned horse in the race, failed to place in the first 16. He was a 66 to 1 shot.

For Lady Zia Wernher, owner of Retrial, the victory was worth 3,438 pounds ($9,626), assuring her of topping the list of winning owners on British tracks this season. She has won about 50,000 pounds ($140,000). Queen Elizabeth topped the list last season.

Shoe Cutter Wins $140,000 Irish Sweepstakes Prize

SOUTH BERWICK, Maine, Oct. 26 (AP)—A 40-year-old shoe cutter, who went without dinner to buy a $3 Irish sweepstakes ticket, won $140,000 today when his horse, Retrial, won the Cambridgeshire Handicap stakes at Newmarket, England.

"I'm going to rest for a while after a shock like this," said Richard St. Laurent, who was informed of his luck while working today at Marlo Shoe Co. in—by coincidence—Newmarket, N.H.

"And I went without my dinner to buy the ticket," he said. He has been married 19 years and is the father of four daughters and earns $80 a week.

A tax expert estimated St. Laurent will be able to keep about $60,554 after taxes.

Rockcastle Cops Yankee Handicap At Suffolk Downs

BOSTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Rockcastle became the first New England owned horse ever to win the Yankee Handicap today by outbattling the favored Nance's Lad in a tremendous stretch run for a length and a half victory in the 20th running of the $50,000 added event at Suffolk Downs.

The brown colt, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leone, picked up the winner's share of $40,100 while turning in his most impressive victory.

Rockcastle, a 10-1 outsider, ridden by Jorge Contreras, travelled the mile and a furlong on a fast track in 1:50 2-5 while defeating the field of 11 three-year-olds.

Mountaineers Hope To Extend String

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 27 — West Virginia University's Mountaineers will carry a 15 game win streak for road games to Milwaukee, Wis., this Saturday when they face the Warriors of Marquette.

It will mark only the second away game for West Virginia this season and the road trip will be farther from the University campus than any other opponent on the schedule this season.

The Mountaineers have now won 9 straight games over a two-year period, have scored in 40 consecutive games (43 is the present school record) and will risk those two along with the 15 consecutive road wins, against Marquette Saturday afternoon.

The Mountaineers five wins have come over Richmond 33-12, Wake Forest 46-0, V.M.I. 47-12, William and Mary 39-13 and Penn State 21-7.

Sebo Doesn't Plan To Leave Penn; Sees Title Soon

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Despite rumors to the contrary Penn football Coach Steve Sebo says he has no intention of quitting and promises presently downtrodden Quaker fans an Ivy League championship contender by 1958.

And for those who think Sebo won't be around in 1956, let alone 1958, don't bet on it. Athletic Director Jerry Ford says that as far as he is concerned, "Sebo knows and teaches well the best, most modern, most successful type of football in America.

"I'm the guy who will have to renew Steve's contract and from what I've seen of his techniques I think his contract will be renewed. Sebo is the best young coach in the country today." Sebo's three year contract expires at the end of the 1956 season.

for winter-long anti-freeze protection against freeze-ups, rust and corrosion

Motor experts, men who know cars from A to Z, put their trust in the top-quality anti-freeze—Du Pont "Zerex." 91% of the starting drivers in this year's world-famous Indianapolis 500-mile race use Du Pont "Zerex" in their own personal cars.

Here's one reason:

SEE HOW MUCH CLEANER "ZEREX" KEEPS YOUR RADIATOR

Flask at left held a solution of water and ordinary anti-freeze with an oil inhibitor. Flask at right held a solution of "Zerex" and water. To each was added the same amount of ground rust—just as you might find in your own car's cooling system. Both flasks were shaken, then drained. Notice how a film of rust clings to the inside of the flask on left as it would to the metal surfaces of your car's cooling system. But the flask containing "Zerex" is clean! This demonstrates that Du Pont's special chemical rust inhibitor, which contains no oil, does not form a rusty oil film that could clog your radiator and cause overheating and serious engine damage.

"Quality is what counts! With 'Zerex' I can be sure of the best protection."
BOB SWEIKERT
Winner, 1955 500-miler

"Experience proves 'Zerex' protects my car best against freeze-ups and it keeps the cooling system clean..."
JOHNNIE PARSONS

"I find that 'Zerex' keeps my car's cooling system cleaner—there's no rust."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (INS)—One hundred thousand dollars is the price paid by William Perlberg and George Seaton for "The Golden Journey," the Agnes Sligh Turnbull story now running in the Saturday Evening Post.

Perhaps I'd better say that Paramount bought it. But even more important than who bought what is that Bill and George will have William Holden as the star. Before they ever recommended the purchase of the story they gave it to Bill to read and he said he'd do it for them.

I'll bet my best bonnet against an old one that the boys will try to borrow Grace Kelly. She'd adore working for them, but I doubt if MGM will be in a lending mood where their golden girl is concerned.

I was very interested to hear that Herbert Bayard Swope Jr., who has been one of TV's top producer - directors, has been wooed by 20th Century-Fox as a motion picture producer-director.

He'll produce "Hilda Crane," as his first, and direct two others almost immediatelyy. Maybe you remember "Hilda Crane," a play by Samson Raphaelson in which Jessica Tandy starred on Broadway.

Swope has won a dozen awards for his TV work, an outstanding one being for "Appointment in Samara," which he directed for "Robert Montgomery Presents." He is the son of Herbert Bayard Swope, Sr., onetime editor of the New York World. Young Swope is married to lovely Margaret Hayes, who is herself a top TV star, and both of them will be a great asset to our town.

Author Herman Wouk will have a lot to say about casting "Marjorie Morningstar." Milton Sperling is off to New York to see Wouk and at the same time to discuss the possibility of Jennifer Jones playing the title role.

However, Milton would like to put the vote to the public—an audience poll—and see which star they want to play it.

There's one place where Jennifer would have to play a girl of 17, but since "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," she is one of the top stars and could very well win the audience vote.

I was lucky enough to see Harry James and Betty Grable in their night club in Chicago. They've never played together out here, but I can tell you that they are simply sensational.

So Bill Miller can be pardoned for being excited over having signed the two of them to appear together for the big opening at the Royal Nevada in Las Vegas on Jan. 2.

Maureen O'Hara will be far from home and family come Christmas. The redhead leaves Hollywood Nov. 27 to join Ray Milland in Portugal for "Lisbon," the second picture Ray has directed and starred in for Republic.

"Im not taking Bronwyn with me," Maureen told me, "because it means interrupting her school term. But she'll be in good care with my mother and brothers. It'll be lonely, though, away from the family during the holidays."

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when the O'Hara-Will Price fireworks over the custody of Bronwyn simmered down. Marreen's a happy girl these days.

Snaps:

Joan Benny Baker, Jack's lovely daughter, was out on her first date since the break-up of her marriage. She had dinner and went to the movies with Buddy Rudolph, owner of a fashionable haberdashery.

Karen Sharpe is aboard Cloud 9. Marlon Brando has asked her to be his date the night of the New York premiere of "Guys and Dolls."

Marguerite Piazza, who had to bow out of Jimmy Durante's TV show because of a severe virus, is taking her doctor with her to Las Vegas for her Sands opening.

Eddie Albert, heartbroken that his show "Reuben, Reuben" folded in Boston before it ever reached New York, will make personal appearances with both "Oklahoma!" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow" in which he's very good.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (INS)—One hundred thousand dollars is the price paid by William Perlberg and George Seaton for "The Golden Journey," the Agnes Sligh Turnbull story now running in the Saturday Evening Post.

Perhaps I'd better say that Paramount bought it. But even more important than who bought what is that Bill and George will have William Holden as the star. Before they ever recommended the purchase of the story they gave it to Bill to read and he said he'd do it for them.

I'll bet my best bonnet against an old one that the boys will try to borrow Grace Kelly. She'd adore working for them, but I doubt if MGM will be in a lending mood where their golden girl is concerned.

I was very interested to hear that Herbert Bayard Swope Jr., who has been one of TV's top producer - directors, has been wooed by 20th Century-Fox as a motion picture producer-director.

He'll produce "Hilda Crane," as his first, and direct two others almost immediatelyy. Maybe you remember "Hilda Crane," a play by Samson Raphaelson in which Jessica Tandy starred on Broadway.

Swope has won a dozen awards for his TV work, an outstanding one being for "Appointment in Samara," which he directed for "Robert Montgomery Presents." He is the son of Herbert Bayard Swope, Sr., onetime editor of the New York World. Young Swope is married to lovely Margaret Hayes, who is herself a top TV star, and both of them will be a great asset to our town.

Author Herman Wouk will have a lot to say about casting "Marjorie Morningstar." Milton Sperling is off to New York to see Wouk and at the same time to discuss the possibility of Jennifer Jones playing the title role.

However, Milton would like to put the vote to the public—an audience poll—and see which star they want to play it.

There's one place where Jennifer would have to play a girl of 17, but since "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," she is one of the top stars and could very well win the audience vote.

I was lucky enough to see Harry James and Betty Grable in their night club in Chicago. They've never played together out here, but I can tell you that they are simply sensational.

So Bill Miller can be pardoned for being excited over having signed the two of them to appear together for the big opening at the Royal Nevada in Las Vegas on Jan. 2.

Maureen O'Hara will be far from home and family come Christmas. The redhead leaves Hollywood Nov. 27 to join Ray Milland in Portugal for "Lisbon," the second picture Ray has directed and starred in for Republic.

"Im not taking Bronwyn with me," Maureen told me, "because it means interrupting her school term. But she'll be in good care with my mother and brothers. It'll be lonely, though, away from the family during the holidays."

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when the O'Hara-Will Price fireworks over the custody of Bronwyn simmered down. Marreen's a happy girl these days.

Snaps:

Joan Benny Baker, Jack's lovely daughter, was out on her first date since the break-up of her marriage. She had dinner and went to the movies with Buddy Rudolph, owner of a fashionable haberdashery.

Karen Sharpe is aboard Cloud 9. Marlon Brando has asked her to be his date the night of the New York premiere of "Guys and Dolls."

Marguerite Piazza, who had to bow out of Jimmy Durante's TV show because of a severe virus, is taking her doctor with her to Las Vegas for her Sands opening.

Eddie Albert, heartbroken that his show "Reuben, Reuben" folded in Boston before it ever reached New York, will make personal appearances with both "Oklahoma!" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow" in which he's very good.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Selective Trading Brings Wide Stock Price Swings

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)— The stock market declined today with a lot of highly selective trading producing wide swings in prices.

Boeing lost 3⅛ at 62⅝ after the government decided that 10 million dollars in profits in 1952 fell into the "excess" class. That amounts to three million dollars after taxes, the company estimated. It was the day's most active issue.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1 at $168.80. All three components were lower—industrials off $1.70, rails off 70 cents, and utilities off 20 cents.

Volume was moderate at 1,660,000 shares compared with 1,950,000 traded yesterday.

New York Shipbuilding was up 1⅜ at 24⅝ after it got a contract for a new Forrestal class carrier worth nearly 120 million dollars. Newport News Shipbuilding, a low bidder, lost 2¼ at 54.

American Gas & Electric was up 1 at 47⅝ on a higher cash dividend and a 2 per cent stock dividend. Air Reduction backed down 1¼ at 37⅜ when it raised its payment to 45 cents from 35 cents paid in previous quarters.

Memorial Baptist Becomes Member Of Western Association

WESTERNPORT — The Christ Memorial Baptist Church became a full fledged member of the Western Baptist Association of the Southern Baptist convention at their annual meeting held recently at the First Baptist Church in Cumberland.

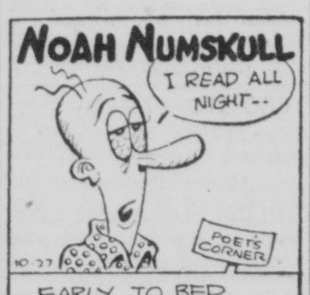

This membership permits the local church a voice and a vote in all work of the association along with the responsibilities and privileges shared by all other member churches.

At the present time the local church does not have a pastor but is using guest speakers. The former pastor, Rev. Vincent C. Parker, resigned the pastorate on September 1 in order to continue his academic preparation for the Baptist ministry. He is now attending Stetson University, DeLand, Fla.

The biggest single consumer of water in the United States is irrigation.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

V D A J N C D A C A F P U O S Z N F J B N N P,
O F J V B N N P V D N O J N P T N J—Q D F L Q D R P P.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: IT IS NOW ALMOST MY SOLE RULE OF LIFE TO CLEAR MYSELF OF CANTS AND FORMULAS — CARLYLE.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A CHALLENGE MET

A bad break of trumps in the following hand forced the declarer to call on all his skill to fulfill the contract.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ 5 ♥ J 8 4 ♦ K J 9 6 3 ♣ A Q 3 2
♠ A 10 8 4 ♥ 3 ♦ 10 4 ♣ K J 10 9 7 5	N W E S	♠ Q J 9 6 ♥ Q 10 7 2 ♦ Q 7 5 ♣ 8 4
	♠ K 7 3 2 ♥ A K 9 6 5 ♦ A 8 2 ♣ 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♣	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Since South was fated to run up against a 4-1 trump break, it was lucky for him that West elected to lead the ten of diamonds, thus giving South a good head-start in that suit. Dummy's jack covered the ten, East resignedly put on his queen, and South won with the ace.

South then laid down the ace and king of hearts, and when East turned up with two trump tricks, South considered the situation carefully, then proceeded as follows:

He led a club to the queen, and when that finesse succeeded he did not make the mistake of cashing the club ace. Instead, he led the singleton spade from dummy. East played the jack in an effort to get in and draw dummy's trump, but South covered the jack with the king so that the lead would go to West.

West's return was the king of clubs. The ace won, and South now entered his own hand by leading a diamond to the eight-spot. He ruffed a spade with dummy's jack and then played diamonds. East ruffed as soon as possible, but South got rid of his last spade and thus lost only two heart tricks and one spade.

Observe that if South had cashed the club ace (after finessing to the queen) and then had led spades, East could have ruffed his partner's club return with the ten of hearts, cashed the heart queen to draw dummy's jack, and then cashed another spade trick for the defeat of the contract. In short, declarer's timing of the play had to be precisely right.

Selective Trading Brings Wide Stock Price Swings

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)— The stock market declined today with a lot of highly selective trading producing wide swings in prices.

Boeing lost 3⅛ at 62⅝ after the government decided that 10 million dollars in profits in 1952 fell into the "excess" class. That amounts to three million dollars after taxes, the company estimated. It was the day's most active issue.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1 at $168.80. All three components were lower—industrials off $1.70, rails off 70 cents, and utilities off 20 cents.

Volume was moderate at 1,660,000 shares compared with 1,950,000 traded yesterday.

Westinghouse Electric was the day's second most active issue off ⅜ at 54⅞. U. S. Steel was third most active off 1⅜ at 55½.

Joy Mfg. shot ahead 6¼ at 64¾ on a 100 per cent stock dividend and a higher cash payment.

New York Shipbuilding was up 1⅜ at 24⅝ after it got a contract for a new Forrestal class carrier worth nearly 120 million dollars. Newport News Shipbuilding, a low bidder, lost 2¼ at 54.

American Gas & Electric was up 1 at 47⅝ on a higher cash dividend and a 2 per cent stock dividend. Air Reduction backed down 1¼ at 37⅜ when it raised its payment to 45 cents from 35 cents paid in previous quarters.

Memorial Baptist Becomes Member Of Western Association

WESTERNPORT — The Christ Memorial Baptist Church became a full fledged member of the Western Baptist Association of the Southern Baptist convention at their annual meeting held recently at the First Baptist Church in Cumberland.

This membership permits the local church a voice and a vote in all work of the association along with the responsibilities and privileges shared by all other member churches.

At the present time the local church does not have a pastor but is using guest speakers. The former pastor, Rev. Vincent C. Parker, resigned the pastorate on September 1 in order to continue his academic preparation for the Baptist ministry. He is now attending Stetson University, DeLand, Fla.

The biggest single consumer of water in the United States is irrigation.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

V D A J N C D A C A F P U O S Z N F J B N N P,
O F J V B N N P V D N O J N P T N J—Q D F L Q D R P P.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: IT IS NOW ALMOST MY SOLE RULE OF LIFE TO CLEAR MYSELF OF CANTS AND FORMULAS — CARLYLE.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

A CHALLENGE MET

A bad break of trumps in the following hand forced the declarer to call on all his skill to fulfill the contract.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ 5 ♥ J 8 4 ♦ K J 9 6 3 ♣ A Q 3 2
♠ A 10 8 4 ♥ 3 ♦ 10 4 ♣ K J 10 9 7 5	N W E S	♠ Q J 9 6 ♥ Q 10 7 2 ♦ Q 7 5 ♣ 8 4
	♠ K 7 3 2 ♥ A K 9 6 5 ♦ A 8 2 ♣ 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♣	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Since South was fated to run up against a 4-1 trump break, it was lucky for him that West elected to lead the ten of diamonds, thus giving South a good head-start in that suit. Dummy's jack covered the ten, East resignedly put on his queen, and South won with the ace.

South then laid down the ace and king of hearts, and when East turned up with two trump tricks, South considered the situation carefully, then proceeded as follows:

He led a club to the queen, and when that finesse succeeded he did not make the mistake of cashing the club ace. Instead, he led the singleton spade from dummy. East played the jack in an effort to get in and draw dummy's trump, but South covered the jack with the king so that the lead would go to West.

West's return was the king of clubs. The ace won, and South now entered his own hand by leading a diamond to the eight-spot. He ruffed a spade with dummy's jack and then played diamonds. East ruffed as soon as possible, but South got rid of his last spade and thus lost only two heart tricks and one spade.

Observe that if South had cashed the club ace (after finessing to the queen) and then had led spades, East could have ruffed his partner's club return with the ten of hearts, cashed the heart queen to draw dummy's jack, and then cashed another spade trick for the defeat of the contract. In short, declarer's timing of the play had to be precisely right.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband, son and father, John P. Burkett, who died 2 years ago, October 26, 1953.
We saw you fading like a flower,
But could not make you stay.
We nursed you with tender kindness
Until God called you away.
Oh, Johnnie dear, we loved you,
And our hearts ache for you still.
Forgotten by some others,
But by us you never will.
Mother, Wife & Children

In loving memory of our darling wife and mother, Mrs. Anna M. Lloyd, who passed away two years ago today, Oct. 28, 1953.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one gone to rest,
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by Husband, and children: Mr. Henry Lloyd

In loving memory of our dear son, Ralph (PeWee) Winebrenner, who passed away two years ago today, Oct. 27, 1953.
We do not forget you,
Nor do we intend,
We think of you often,
And will to the end.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be
But dear to our memory
You ever will be.
Sadly missed, but fondly remembered.
Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband, son and father, John P. Burkett, who died 2 years ago, October 26, 1953.
We saw you fading like a flower,
But could not make you stay.
We nursed you with tender kindness
Until God called you away.
Oh, Johnnie dear, we loved you,
And our hearts ache for you still.
Forgotten by some others,
But by us you never will.
Mother, Wife & Children

In loving memory of our darling wife and mother, Mrs. Anna M. Lloyd, who passed away two years ago today, Oct. 28, 1953.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one gone to rest,
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by Husband, and children: Mr. Henry Lloyd

In loving memory of our dear son, Ralph (PeWee) Winebrenner, who passed away two years ago today, Oct. 27, 1953.
We do not forget you,
Nor do we intend,
We think of you often,
And will to the end.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be
But dear to our memory
You ever will be.
Sadly missed, but fondly remembered.
Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters.

Channel Work Bids Deferred Until Nov. 3

Wills Creek Contract Includes Pumping Unit

Bids for the construction of Sections II and III of Wills Creek channel improvements and the Viaduct Pumping Station will be opened by the Corps of Engineers in Washington November 3 at 2 p. m.

Notice of the change in the date from today has been received by the City of Cumberland, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

He said C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, reported modifications in plans which necessitated the delay were "minor changes."

The work, unofficially estimated to cost about $1,000,000, represents a big slice in the $18,200,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection program which began in March 1949 and is now over 37 per cent complete.

Extends 3,200 Feet

It will include the realignment and excavation to new grades of some 3,200 feet of the channel of Wills Creek extending from the Zimmerla Machine Works, 714 North Mechanic Street, to a point below the Market Street Bridge.

The construction and equipping of the Viaduct Pumping Station, one of several needed for the big project, is also included.

Some 2,500,000 pounds of reinforcing steel will be used in reinforcing the walls and sides of the channel.

Up to 35,000 barrels of cement will be used for the 23,550 cubic yards of concrete which is to be used on the contract.

To shape the new channel, the contractor will have to make some 110,000 yards of excavation and another 5,000 yards for the pumping station.

Leaves One Section

The pumping station, located near the B & O viaduct, will be equipped with two pumps, each with a capacity of 23,000 gallons of water an hour, together with controls.

The first phase of the channel improvement work was completed some time ago by the E. J. Albrecht Company, which is now engaged in a Potomac River improvement phase of the flood control job.

The final section will pick up the work below the Market Street Bridge and carry it to the confluence of Wills Creek with the Potomac River.

Mistreatment Report Termed Unfounded

No evidence of mistreatment was found in the arrest of a Paw Paw, W. Va., driver near Oldtown Monday morning, Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick reported yesterday.

He said a thorough examination of the man, Clarence Eugene Redman, disclosed only a small laceration on the back of the head suffered when he fell to the pavement after the arresting officer, Trooper Lindberg Cook, opened the door of the car.

That injury, Dick said, was reported by the officer during testimony, but that the "thorough examination" failed to corroborate Redman's testimony that the officer "roughed him up."

He said it is believed that Redman's companion "instituted the beef."

Redman was found guilty of three motor vehicle charges before Magistrate Dick Tuesday and was lodged in County Jail in default of $250 in fines.

He was arrested after he struck a car on Uhl Highway and drove three miles on from the scene on a flat tire, the magistrate said.

Baltimore Symphony Takes Interest In Youngsters

Famous Orchestra To Play Here Nov. 11

Educating future audiences is one of the prime functions of a major civic orchestra. The Baltimore Symphony, which plays at Fort Hill auditorium November 11, does this through the medium of 12 educational concerts held in Baltimore schools during the orchestra season.

The cost of the tickets is less than a movie admission, but if a child cannot afford even this small sum, funds are provided by a city fund to make it possible for him to be admitted free.

The appeal of these concerts is enormous, thanks to the foresight of teachers who conduct music appreciation classes beforehand. Records are played, composers and their works are discussed. In this way, the children's interest is aroused and even "first timers" are rarin' to go when the opening concert date rolls around.

Naturally, no conductor expects an elementary school audience to sit still and enjoy itself through the playing of long or difficult pieces so programs are composed of short works or a movement of a symphony or concerto. Also, most of the selections have a pronounced theme or melody—easy for the young ear to catch and comprehend.

Then, from time to time, the use of various instruments is demonstrated. Thus the children learn how the high, sweet notes of the flute can convey gaiety implicit in a piece, or what mood the clashing of cymbols is intended to denote. Petit Jury List Revised To Include Occupations

Not only is the name and address of each petit juror included on the printed roster for the October term of the Allegany County Court, but also his occupation.

This added bit of information is nothing new in Maryland, since it has been a practice in Baltimore City.

Chief Judge George Henderson and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris sanctioned the idea of placing the occupation of each petit juror on the roster.

This term of court is the first time the information has appeared in the county and it is a measure to assist lawyers in cases in which they might be counsel.

If a lawyer is on a case which concerns a miner, a farmer, or railroad employe, he can check over the roster and if one or more of the jurors has such an occupation he attempts to strike him off the jury list since the juror may be prejudiced in the case.

There are a total of 25 petit jurors named at the outset of the term of court. From these some 12 jurors are selected to hear trials.

The clerk of court may strike off five names, which often includes absentees, while the counsel for the plantiff and defense may strike off four names.

The October term roster includes a varied number of occupations such as housewives, loan company manager, baggageman, Potomac Edison Company employe, lumber dealer, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory employe, carpenter, farmer, radio repairmen, baker, retired miners, insurance men, hospital orderly and B&O employe.

Local Homes Are Damaged By Flames

Considerable damage was caused by a fire which broke out yesterday afternoon in the rear of 408-410 Footer Place, practically destroying the back porch of both sides of the double house.

East Side firemen received a call at 1:46 p. m. and when they arrived on the scene, called for assistance from Central fire station.

Cause of the early afternoon blaze was not known, firemen reported. As the firefighters arrived on the scene the flames were licking their way toward the upstairs roof.

Both of the back porches were almost destroyed as well as an ice box located on one of the porches.

Heaviest damage was done on the 408 Footer Place side of the double house, occupied by O. S. Brant.

Firemen said the heat of the flames burned away the windows on that side and the interior wallpaper and woodwork of the kitchen was scorched by the heat.

Damage was also caused by water and smoke. Occupying the other side of the house, firemen said, is W. Stewart. The heat of the spreading flames also caused the windows above the back porches to break.

County Gets $13,795 In Liquor Tax

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Maryland's comptroller mailed out checks totaling $448,830 to 22 of the 23 counties and Baltimore City today—their share of revenue from the first three months of the rearranged State tax on liquors.

The checks ranged from $1,213.80 for Caroline County to $226,562.39 for Baltimore City.

Garrett County didn't get any because the sale of distilled spirits is illegal there.

Until last July 1, Maryland had a tax of $1.25 a gallon on distilled spirits, to which Baltimore and Baltimore County added another 50 cents a gallon.

By action of the General Assembly in 1954, a tax of $1.50 a gallon was made standard throughout the state, with local subdivisions sharing in it in proportion to deliveries to their retailers. They get 50 cents a gallon.

The special taxes in Baltimore and Baltimore County were repealed.

The $448,830 distribution to the counties and to the Baltimore city government, covered deliveries of 897,661 gallons of distilled spirits to retailers between July 1 and Oct. 1.

The share each county received includes:

Allegany $13,795.64; Frederick $8,493; Washington $12,174.

City Will Ask Bids On Water Bond Issue

The City of Cumberland is preparing to advertise for bids for the sale of $750,000 of water improvement bonds to finance the new water line to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant at North Branch and further improvements to the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

Bids will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, November 15, at 10 a. m., according to the advertisement signed by John J. Long, commissioner of finance and revenue.

The bonds are being issued under the authority of Ordinance 2003, passed by the Mayor and Council on September 19, and mark the first financing to be undertaken under authority granted by constitutional home rule.

The bonds will bear the full faith and credit of the city and are to be repaid from Water Department revenues. However, if water receipts fail to meet expenses, the city must levy on property to pay the principal and interest on bonds as they fall due, and then increase water rates enough to pay off the deficit.

The legality of the issue will be approved by Thomas B. Finan, city solicitor, and the legal firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockridge, of Cumberland and Baltimore.

Kelly Workers To Get Idle Pay For Shutdown

490 Employes Will Benefit From Ruling

Unemployment pay during a week's shutdown in August will be awarded to some 490 employes of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company under a ruling of the state Employment Security Board.

The decision on the appeal filed by Local 26, Rubber Workers Union of America (CIO), for Dewey Smith, Route 2, and the other 490 involved, was received yesterday by James Stein, president of the Kelly local.

The local tire plant was shut down the week of August 29 to September 7 and the company wanted the time to count as a week of vacation, he said.

Citing the contract, the union appealed for the some 490 workers who had asked for vacations at times different from the shutdown.

The claimants, according to a decision handed down by the board, were involuntarily unemployed during the week and should be paid benefits.

The principal issue, the board said, was whether or not the claimants who declined to change their vacation periods to the week of the shutdown were "unemployed" during the period.

The contract, it added, allows workers to schedule vacations according to seniority preference and production requirements.

The board pointed out the company may file an appeal on the decision up to November 13.

William L. Wilson Jr. represented Local 26 and W. Earle Cobey the company.

The unemployment awards, the union said, will exceed $15,000.

Channel Work Bids Deferred Until Nov. 3

Wills Creek Contract Includes Pumping Unit

Bids for the construction of Sections II and III of Wills Creek channel improvements and the Viaduct Pumping Station will be opened by the Corps of Engineers in Washington November 3 at 2 p. m.

Notice of the change in the date from today has been received by the City of Cumberland, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

He said C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, reported modifications in plans which necessitated the delay were "minor changes."

The work, unofficially estimated to cost about $1,000,000, represents a big slice in the $18,200,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection program which began in March 1949 and is now over 37 per cent complete.

Extends 3,200 Feet

It will include the realignment and excavation to new grades of some 3,200 feet of the channel of Wills Creek extending from the Zimmerla Machine Works, 714 North Mechanic Street, to a point below the Market Street Bridge.

The construction and equipping of the Viaduct Pumping Station, one of several needed for the big project, is also included.

Some 2,500,000 pounds of reinforcing steel will be used in reinforcing the walls and sides of the channel.

Up to 35,000 barrels of cement will be used for the 23,550 cubic yards of concrete which is to be used on the contract.

To shape the new channel, the contractor will have to make some 110,000 yards of excavation and another 5,000 yards for the pumping station.

Leaves One Section

The pumping station, located near the B & O viaduct, will be equipped with two pumps, each with a capacity of 23,000 gallons of water an hour, together with controls.

The first phase of the channel improvement work was completed some time ago by the E. J. Albrecht Company, which is now engaged in a Potomac River improvement phase of the flood control job.

The final section will pick up the work below the Market Street Bridge and carry it to the confluence of Wills Creek with the Potomac River.

Mistreatment Report Termed Unfounded

No evidence of mistreatment was found in the arrest of a Paw Paw, W. Va., driver near Oldtown Monday morning, Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick reported yesterday.

He said a thorough examination of the man, Clarence Eugene Redman, disclosed only a small laceration on the back of the head suffered when he fell to the pavement after the arresting officer, Trooper Lindberg Cook, opened the door of the car.

That injury, Dick said, was reported by the officer during testimony, but that the "thorough examination" failed to corroborate Redman's testimony that the officer "roughed him up."

He said it is believed that Redman's companion "instituted the beef."

Redman was found guilty of three motor vehicle charges before Magistrate Dick Tuesday and was lodged in County Jail in default of $250 in fines.

He was arrested after he struck a car on Uhl Highway and drove three miles on from the scene on a flat tire, the magistrate said.

Baltimore Symphony Takes Interest In Youngsters

Famous Orchestra To Play Here Nov. 11

Educating future audiences is one of the prime functions of a major civic orchestra. The Baltimore Symphony, which plays at Fort Hill auditorium November 11, does this through the medium of 12 educational concerts held in Baltimore schools during the orchestra season.

The cost of the tickets is less than a movie admission, but if a child cannot afford even this small sum, funds are provided by a city fund to make it possible for him to be admitted free.

The appeal of these concerts is enormous, thanks to the foresight of teachers who conduct music appreciation classes beforehand. Records are played, composers and their works are discussed. In this way, the children's interest is aroused and even "first timers" are rarin' to go when the opening concert date rolls around.

Naturally, no conductor expects an elementary school audience to sit still and enjoy itself through the playing of long or difficult pieces so programs are composed of short works or a movement of a symphony or concerto. Also, most of the selections have a pronounced theme or melody—easy for the young ear to catch and comprehend.

Then, from time to time, the use of various instruments is demonstrated. Thus the children learn how the high, sweet notes of the flute can convey gaiety implicit in a piece, or what mood the clashing of cymbols is intended to denote. The children learn the intrinsic value of each and every instrument in making great music come to life and fire the imagination. County Gets $13,795 In Liquor Tax

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Maryland's comptroller mailed out checks totaling $448,830 to 22 of the 23 counties and Baltimore City today—their share of revenue from the first three months of the rearranged State tax on liquors.

The checks ranged from $1,213.80 for Caroline County to $226,562.39 for Baltimore City.

Garrett County didn't get any because the sale of distilled spirits is illegal there.

Until last July 1, Maryland had a tax of $1.25 a gallon on distilled spirits, to which Baltimore and Baltimore County added another 50 cents a gallon.

By action of the General Assembly in 1954, a tax of $1.50 a gallon was made standard throughout the state, with local subdivisions sharing in it in proportion to deliveries to their retailers. They get 50 cents a gallon.

The special taxes in Baltimore and Baltimore County were repealed.

The $448,830 distribution to the counties and to the Baltimore city government, covered deliveries of 897,661 gallons of distilled spirits to retailers between July 1 and Oct. 1.

The share each county received includes:

Allegany $13,795.64; Frederick $8,493; Washington $12,174.

City Will Ask Bids On Water Bond Issue

The City of Cumberland is preparing to advertise for bids for the sale of $750,000 of water improvement bonds to finance the new water line to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant at North Branch and further improvements to the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

Bids will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, November 15, at 10 a. m., according to the advertisement signed by John J. Long, commissioner of finance and revenue.

The bonds are being issued under the authority of Ordinance 2003, passed by the Mayor and Council on September 19, and mark the first financing to be undertaken under authority granted by constitutional home rule.

The bonds will bear the full faith and credit of the city and are to be repaid from Water Department revenues. However, if water receipts fail to meet expenses, the city must levy on property to pay the principal and interest on bonds as they fall due, and then increase water rates enough to pay off the deficit.

The legality of the issue will be approved by Thomas B. Finan, city solicitor, and the legal firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockridge, of Cumberland and Baltimore.

Kelly Workers To Get Idle Pay For Shutdown

490 Employes Will Benefit From Ruling

Unemployment pay during a week's shutdown in August will be awarded to some 490 employes of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company under a ruling of the state Employment Security Board.

The decision on the appeal filed by Local 26, Rubber Workers Union of America (CIO), for Dewey Smith, Route 2, and the other 490 involved, was received yesterday by James Stein, president of the Kelly local.

The local tire plant was shut down the week of August 29 to September 7 and the company wanted the time to count as a week of vacation, he said.

Citing the contract, the union appealed for the some 490 workers who had asked for vacations at times different from the shutdown.

The claimants, according to a decision handed down by the board, were involuntarily unemployed during the week and should be paid benefits.

The principal issue, the board said, was whether or not the claimants who declined to change their vacation periods to the week of the shutdown were "unemployed" during the period.

The contract, it added, allows workers to schedule vacations according to seniority preference and production requirements.

The board pointed out the company may file an appeal on the decision up to November 13.

William L. Wilson Jr. represented Local 26 and W. Earle Cobey the company.

The unemployment awards, the union said, will exceed $15,000.
